

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Vos was formerly generally used among all classes of society, addressing each other individually; at present it is confined to persons of high rank, or those placed in high posts, as superiors addressing their inferiors.

Public speakers, preachers, &c., addressing the public, congregations &c., use Vosotros; unless they be corporate bodies entitled to be styled Usias, (your Lordships,) &c.

ÜSTED, a contraction of Vuestra Merced, (your Honor, or your Worship, formerly used, then abridged into Vuesarced, and finally into Usted, or Usté, is the only word used in the common intercourse in polite society, in all the transactions of life; excepting the cases above explained, and when the persons spoken to are entitled to a higher mark of respect by calling them Usia, (Vuestra Señoria, V. S., your Lordship or Ladyship,) &c.

Usted, and its plural Ustedes, are common to both genders, and agree with the verb in the third person singular or plural, according to their respective number; as, You are a good boy, Usted es un buen muchacho: You are good boys, Ustedes son buenos muchachos.

Usted, and Ustedes, have been always written in abbreviation, thus: Vmd., Vmds.—Vm., Vms. At present, Usted is represented by a V., and Ustedes by VV.

The speaker by using Usted may be sure never to give offence. The omission of it is considered vulgar; for instance, Dígame que hora es, (tell me what hour it is,) instead of Dígame V. que hora es.

When Usted is made use of at the beginning of a phrase, to avoid its repetition the cases of the pronouns he, él, or she, ella, are employed; as, When I saw you this morning, I told you, that I would accompany you and present you to him this afternoon—Cuando yo vi á Usted esta mañana le dije, que yo le (or la) acompañaria, y le (la) presentaria á él esta tarde

In translating ancient history, public speeches, &c., tú, vos, or vosotros must be used; because Usted is of a very modern introduction into the language.

With the view to make the scholar perfectly familiar with the use of these three modes of address, some of the exercises are translated in one and some in another; but preference is given to Usted, because it is the most necessary and usual in the colloquial polite intercourse.

AUGMENTATIVE AND DIMINUTIVE NOUNS.

Augmentative and Diminutive nouns, in Spanish, are those which by the addition of a certain termination increase or diminish the signification of their primitives

The augmentative nouns are formed by adding on, ote, azo, or onazo to the masculine nouns, and ona, ota, aza, or onaza to the feminine; suppressing their last letter, should it be a, e, or o; as,

A boy.	Un muchacho.	A girl.	Una muchacha
A big boy.	Un muchachon.	A big girl.	Una muchachona

On and ote, ona and ota, generally indicate goodness in the object; azo, aza, onazo, onaza, most commonly refer only to size.

The termination azo frequently signifies the blow or injury caused by the object to which it is added; as,

Whip.	Látigo.
A very large whip.	Un latigazo.
A stroke with a whip.	Un latigazo.

The termination azo added to the noun to express a blow, or injury, has no change when it is formed out of a noun feminine; as,

Hand.	Mano.
A large hand.	Manaza.
A blow, or stroke with the hand.	Manazo.

The diminutive nouns are formed by adding ito, illo, uelo for the masculine, and ita, illa, uela for the feminine, to the noun, which drops its last letter if it be a, e, or o; as,

A boy.	Un muchacho.
A little boy.	Un muchachito
A girl.	Una muchacha.
A little girl.	Una muchachita.

Ito and ita generally express love towards the object, and beauty in it; illo and illa sometimes mean pity, and sometimes contempt; uelo and uela formerly were used in the same sense as ito and ita, at present they indicate only contempt.

The greatest part of nouns ending in an, in, on, che, ge, que, re, te, ve, add cito, cillo, zuelo, or cita, cilla, zuela to the noun, which in such case does not drop the last letter; as,

Lion	Leon.	Pretty little lion.	Leoncito.
Man.	Hombre	Good little man.	Hombrecita
Woman.	Mujer.	Handsome little woman.	Mujercita
Exception.	Gentleman, } Mister, } Señor.	Young gentleman, } Master, }	Señorito, &amp;c.

Nouns ending in z change it into c, and add cito, cita, &c.; as,

Cross.	Cruz.	Little cross.	Crucecita.
Fish	Pez.	Little fish.	Pececito, pececillo

Nouns ending in co or ca change this syllable into quito, quita; as,

Boat.	Barco.	Little boat.	Barquito.
Barge	Barca.	Little barge.	Barquita.

Nouns ending in so or sa. drop the o and add uito. uita. &c.; as,

Friend.	Amigo.	Dear little friend.	Amiguito.
Friend.	Amiga.	Dear little friend.	Amiguita

Nouns ending in io, ia, generally do not admit the termination, and express the diminutive by translating the adjective; as, The little Claudius, El pequeño Claudio, or El niño Claudio. Sometimes they drop the last two vowels and add the regular termination; as, Julia, Juita; indio, indito. When the letter n precedes the said last syllables io, ia, it is generally changed into ñ; as, Antonio, Antoñito.

OF THE INFINITIVE.

There are in Spanish three conjugations, which are distinguished by the termination of the present of the infinitive, viz.:

1. The first has its infinitive terminated in AR; as:—

Comprar,	to buy;
Cortar,	to cut.

- 2 The second.....in ER; as:—

Vender,	to sell;
Comer,	to eat, (to dine;)
Beber,	to drink.

- 3 The third.....in IR; as:—

Recibir,	to receive;
Dividir,	to divide;
Abrir,	to open.

Each verb we shall hereafter give will have the number of the conjugation to which it belongs marked after it. The verbs marked with an asterisk (*) are irregular.

Fear.	Miedo de.
Shame	Vergüenza de.
Right.	Razon de.
Time.	Tiempo de.

TO BE—SER and ESTAR.

To be may be expressed in Spanish by Ser or Estar; but the meaning of these verbs being very different, the scholar must pay particular attention to the following rules, in order to use them properly:

Ser is used to express the qualities inherent, or essential to persons or things; the state of fixed mind; the materials of which a thing is made; the condition, employment, rank, trade, &c. of persons; the object, purpose, destination, &c. of persons or things.

Estar is employed to denote the accidental, or temporary qualities or affections of persons or things, and is followed in English by a present participle.

These rules will be more easily understood by these examples:

Ink is black.
This ink is whitish.

TWENTY-EIGHTH LESSON.—Leccion Vigésima octava.

It must be remembered that an interrogative sentence, in Spanish, depends rather on emphasis, than on its grammatical construction. Hence, an inverted interrogation is placed at the beginning of such sentences, as a guide to the reader in the modulation of his voice. The pronoun subject, therefore, may or may not be expressed, in conformity with the degree of emphasis that the writer may lay on it.—The English auxiliary verbs do, does, did—am, is, are, serve only to point out the person and tense, by which the principal verb must be expressed; but they are not translated.

	Do I wish?	¿ Quiero?	¿ Quiero yo?
Can I?	Am I able?	¿ Puedo?	¿ Puedo yo?
	Am I doing?	¿ Hago?	¿ Estoy haciendo?

What am I doing?	¿ Que estoy haciendo? ¿ Que hago?
What do I say?	¿ Que digo?
Where am I going to?	¿ Á donde voy?
To whom do I speak?	¿ Á quien hablo?
Where do you go?	¿ Á donde va V.?
Where does he go?	¿ Á donde va?

It will be seen from the last two sentences, that the omission of V in the first would lead to ambiguity.

When do is used in English with a certain emphasis to give more power to the sentence, the pronoun subject should be expressed in Spanish Examples:—

Does he speak to you?	¿ Habla él á V.?
Yes, he does speak to me.	Si, él me habla.
Do you drink cider?	¿ Bebe V. sidra?
I do drink cider, but my brother drinks wine.	Yo bebo sidra, pero mi hermano bebe vino.
Cider.	Sidra, (feminine.)
Do you receive a note every day?	¿ Recibe V. un billete todos los dias?
Yes, I do receive one.	Si, yo recibo uno.

To begin.

Do I begin to speak Spanish?	{ Comenzar * 1. (See Alentar , in the Appendix.) Empezar * 1. Principiar 1.
You begin to speak it.
When do you begin?
I begin now.
	¿ Comienzo á hablar español? V. comienza á hablarle. ¿ Cuando empieza V.? Empiezo ahora.

Before.

Do you speak before you listen?	{ Antes de. † ¿ Habla V. ántes de escuchar? † (Yo) escucho ántes de hablar † ¿ Va al mercado (á la plaza) ántes de almorzar?
I listen before I speak.
Does he go to market before he breakfasts?

To breakfast.

	{ Almorzar * 1. (See Acordar , in the Appendix.) Desayunarse , (reflective verb.)
The breakfast.
Does he go there before he writes?	El desayuno. El almuerzo.
He goes there before breakfast.	¿ † Va allá ántes de escribir?
Do you take off your pantaloons before you take off your shoes?	Va allá ántes del almuerzo. ¿ Se quita V. los pantalones ántes de quitarse los zapatos?

To depart, to set out. { Marcharse 1, (reflective verb.)
Salir * 3. Partir 3.

When do you intend to depart ?	¿Cuándo piensa V. salir, (or marcharse ?)
I intend to depart to-morrow.	Pienso salir mañana.
Well.	Bien, (adverb.)
Badly	Mal, (adverb.)

Obs. When an adverb modifies a verb, it is generally placed after the verb ; when it modifies an adjective or another adverb, it is generally placed before.

Does he speak well ?	¿Habla bien ?
He speaks badly.	Habla mal.
Do you speak Spanish well ?	¿Habla V. bien el español ?
I speak Spanish well.	Yo hablo bien le español.
Too much.	Demasiado, (adverb.)
The same.	Lo mismo, (adverb.)
Just as much.	} Justamente lo mismo, (adv. express.)
Just the same.

FORTIETH LESSON.—Lección Cuadragésima.

OF THE IMPERFECT.

There are in Spanish two tenses corresponding to the English Imperfect viz: the Imperfect, Pretérito Imperfecto, No. 2; and the Preterit, Pretérito Perfecto Remoto, No. 3.

The Imperfecto, No. 2, represents the action as present, or still going on at the time spoken of, and corresponds to the English was, or were, followed by the present participle. Example:—I studied my lesson when you came in; that is, I was studying, &c.: Yo estudiaba mi lección cuando V. entro.

It also expresses habitual actions, and in this case answers to the English used to. Example:—When I was at Madrid, I went to the Prado every day; that is, I used to, &c.: Cuando yo estaba en Madrid, iba al Prado todos los días.

The Pretérito Perfecto Remoto, No. 3, expresses an action that has taken place in a time entirely past, but that may be specified by some circumstances; it corresponds to the English did, followed by an infinitive. Example:—I read your letter yesterday, (I did read): Yo leí su carta de V. ayer. I stayed two hours in my room, (I did stay): Yo me quedé dos horas en mi cuarto.

HOW TO TRANSLATE THE ENGLISH IMPERFECT.

In all cases in which the English Imperfect can be turned into used to and an infinitive, or was, were, and a present participle, use No. 2 in Spanish; in all other cases, use No. 3. Example:—I wrote letters every morning, (that is, I used to write.) Here use No. 2, and say: Yo escribía cartas todos los días.—I wrote a letter when you came in, (I was writing when you did come in.) In this case use No. 2 for the first verb, and No. 3 for the second, and say: Yo escribía una carta cuando V. entró.—I was three days in Madrid. In this example we cannot say I used to be; therefore, use No. 3, and say: Yo estuve tres días en Madrid.

For the formation of these two tenses, see the table in the Appendix.

Either of them may be used when the action of the verb refers to the mind, and por only, when otherwise. ¶ Observe that the past participle of the principal verb must agree in gender and number with the subject of the verb.

FORTY-FOURTH LESSON.—Leccion Cuadragésima cuarta.

OF REFLECTIVE VERBS.

When the action falls upon the agent, and the object refers to the same person as the subject, the verb is called reflective or pronominal. In Spanish almost all active verbs may become reflective, and used as pronominal. These verbs form their compound tenses with the auxiliary haber, (to have.) The pronoun object must be of the same person as that of the subject, and each person is conjugated with a double personal pronoun. However, the pronoun subject is almost always understood in Spanish, while in English it is the object.

I—(myself.)	(Yo) me—( á mí mismo. ) <sup>1</sup>
Thou—(thyself.)	(Tú) te—( á tí mismo. )

Obs. When a proposition has no definite subject, the English, in order to avoid the pronouns they, people, &c., use the verb in the passive voice, and say: I was told, instead of, They told me; He is flattered, instead of, They flatter him. This is always expressed in Spanish by the pronoun se and a verb in the third person singular, or by a verb in the third person plural without the pronoun se. (See Lesson XXVIII, Obs. A. and B.) Example:—

FIFTY-SEVENTH LESSON.—Leccion Quincuagésima séptima.

OF THE GERUND.

The Gerund (by which the English present participle is translated) is formed from the present of the infinitive mood, by suppressing the terminations ar, er, or ir, and adding in their place ando to the verbs of the first conjugation, and iendo to those of the second and third.

1. To speak,	hablar.	Speaking,	hablando.
2. To sell,	vender.	Selling,	vendiendo.
3. To receive,	recibir.	Receiving,	recibiendo.

Obs. A. Verbs ending in eer, and uir, (when the u is sounded, as in atribuir,) change the i, with which the termination begins, into y; thus, yendo, instead of iendo; as—

To read,	leer.	Reading,	leyendo.
To instruct,	instruir.	Instructing,	instruyendo.

Obs. B. The English present participle may be translated into Spanish by the Gerund, when it expresses the action of the verb as continuing, and unfinished. It is then used alone, or preceded by the verb Estar, but by no means by other words; as, He corrects whilst reading, él corrige leyendo, or estando leyendo, miéntras está leyendo, († miéntras lee, or al leer;) but it cannot be said, él corrige miéntras leyendo.

OF THE CONDITIONAL OR POTENTIAL SIMPLE

This tense corresponds to No. 8, the second termination of the Imperfect of the subjunctive mood. The Imperfect of the subjunctive has three terminations for each person: the first, No. 7, is ra; the second, No. 8, is ría; and the third, No. 9, is se. (See the table of the terminations of the verbs.) In phrases in which the Potential is used, there are generally two sentences, one of which is the principal, and the other the subordinate. In Spanish, the verb of the principal is in the termination marked No. 8, and the verb of the subordinate is in the terminations marked Nos. 7 or 9. Example:—If I had money, I would buy books—Si yo tuviese (tuviera) dinero compraria libros. The sentence in italics is the principal, and although, in the above example, it is placed after the subordinate it might be placed before. It is easy to distinguish the principal from the subordinate: the last is always preceded by a conjunction.

A, Lesson XLV.*) of my gold rings, (la sonaja de oro;) my best clothes, and all my money; that is the reason why I cry.—Do not make (no haga V.) so much noise, for it is we who have taken them all, in order to teach you to take better care (de cuidar mejor, Lesson L.) of your things, (cosas;) and to shut the door of your room when you go out.—Why do you look so sad?—I have experienced great misfortunes; after having lost all my money I was beaten by bad-looking men; and to my still greater ill-luck, I hear that my good uncle, whom I love so much, has been struck with apoplexy.—You must not afflict yourself (no se aflija V.) so much, for you know that we must yield to necessity.

SIXTY-EIGHTH LESSON.—*Leccion Sexagésima octava.*THE PLUPERFECT, (No. 2, p.)—Pretérito Pluscuamperfecto, (No. 2, p.)

This tense is formed with No. 2, the imperfect of the auxiliary haber, and the past participle (p.) of the verb to be conjugated.

This tense is used to express an action which was already past when an action also past took place. Example:—I had already finished my task when you came in—Ya habia acabado mi tarea, cuando V. entró.

I had dined when he arrived.
You had lost your purse when I found mine.
Had you finished your exercise when I came in?
No, Sir, I had not finished it.
We had dined when it struck twelve.

Yo habia comido cuando llegó.
V. habia perdido su bolsa cuando yo hallé la mia.
¿Habia acabado V. su ejercicio cuando yo entré?
No, señor, yo no le habia acabado.
Habíamos comido cuando dieron las doce.

I had read your letter when I wrote mine.

Yo habia leído la carta de V cuando escribí la mia.

It will be perceived that this tense is used in connection with the Preterito Perfecto Remoto, (No. 3.) For the use of that tense see Lesson XL. Observe that the Preterito Imperfecto (No. 2) answers to the English used to; the Preterito Perfecto Remoto (No. 3) to did; and that the Preterito Pluscuamperfecto (No. 2, p.) corresponds to the English pluperfect.

He came (used to come) to see me every day.

They came (did come) yesterday.

I had seen them before.

After you had spoken you used to go out.

After shaving I washed my face.

The king had appointed an admiral when he heard of you, (did hear.)

After having warmed themselves they went into the garden.

As soon as the bell rung (did ring) you awoke, (did wake.)

As soon as they called me (did call) I got up, (did get.)

As soon as he was ready he came to see me.

As soon as we had our money we agreed to that.

As soon as he had his horse he came to show it me.

After trying several times they succeeded in doing it.

As soon as I saw him I obtained what I wanted, (was wanting.)

As soon as I spoke to him he did what I wanted.

The business was soon over.

Ellos viniéron ayer.

Yo los habia visto ántes.

Despues que V. habia hablado V. salia.

Así que repicó (sonó) la campana V. despertó.

Luego que me llamáron me levanté.

Así que le ví conseguí lo que yo queria.

OF THE PRETERIT ANTERIOR, (No. 3, p.)

Del Pretérito Perfecto Anterior, (No. 3, p.)

This tense is formed with No. 3 of haber and the past participle (p.) of the verb to be conjugated. It is used (from its name anterior) to express an action past before another which is likewise past, and is hardly ever used except after one of the conjunctions.

As soon as.	} Luego que. Así que
After.
When.	} Al momento que.
No sooner, scarcely.
	Después que.
	Cuando.
	Apénas.

It also expresses an action quickly done. Examples:—

As soon as I had finished my work	Luego que hube acabado mi trabajo
I carried it to him.	se le llevó á él.
As soon as I had dressed myself I	Así que yo me hube vestido salí.
went out.
When I had dined it struck twelve.	Así que hube comido diéron las doce
I had soon done eating.	Pronto hube acabado de comer.

¶ No. 3 should be preferred to this tense, which is seldom used in Spanish.

The optician put another pair (otro par) of the best which he could find in his shop (la tienda) upon his nose, but the peasant being still unable to read, the merchant said to him: “My friend, perhaps you cannot read at all?” “If I could, (si yo supiera leer,)” said the peasant, “I should not want your spectacles.”—Henry IV. meeting one day in his palace (el palacio) a man whom he did not know, asked him to whom he belonged: “I belong to myself,” replied this man. “My friend,” said the king, “you have a stupid master.”—Tell us (cuéntenos V.) what has happened to you lately, (ei otro día.)—Very willingly, (con mucho gusto:) but on condition that you will listen to me (que VV. me escuchen) without interrupting (interrumpir) me.—We will not interrupt you; you may be (poder estar) sure of it, (con ello.)—Being lately at the theatre, I saw La Inútila parlante and La Mujer llorosa performed, (ver representar.) This latter play (la última comedia) not being very amusing to me, I went to the concert, where the music caused me a violent headache. What is the matter with you? Why do you look so melancholy, (parecer?)—I should not look so melancholy if I had no reason to be sad. When had you finished your task?—I had finished it when you came in.—Those who had contributed (contribuir) most to his elevation to the throne (trono) of his ancestors, were those who labored (trabajar) with the most eagerness to precipitate (precipitar) him from it, (de él.) "Thou liest," said the emperor, "thou wilt die this instant of a violent death, (muerte violenta.)" As he was going to be seized, (asir;) he said to the emperor, "Sire, order some one to feel (pres. subj.) my pulse, (señor, mande V. M. que se me tome el pulso;) and it will be found that I have a fever." This sally (agudeza) saved his life.

EXERCISES.

Have patience, my dear friend, and be not sad; for sadness alters (n nada remedia) nothing, and impatience makes bad worse, (lo malo peor.) Be not afraid of your creditors; be sure that they will do you no harm. They will wait if you cannot pay them yet.—When will you pay me what you owe me?—As soon as I have (tenga) money I will pay all that you have advanced (for) me. I have not forgotten it, for I think of it (en ello) every day. I am your debtor, (deudor;) and I shall never deny it.—What a beautiful inkstand you have there! pray lend it me.—What do you wish to do with it?—I wish to show it to my sister.—Take it, but take care of it, and do not break it.—Do not fear (no tenga V. cuidado.)—What do you want of my brother?—I want to borrow some money of him.—Borrow (pedir), some (le) of somebody else, (a otra persona.)—If he will not lend me any I will borrow some (le) of somebody else.—You will do well.—Do not wish for (apetecer) what you cannot have, but be contented with what Providence (la Providencia) has given you, and consider (considerar) that there are many men who have not what you have.—Life being short, let us endeavor (Lesson LXV.) to make it as agreeable as possible. But let us also consider that the abuse (el abuso) of pleasure (in the plural in Spanish) makes it bitter, (amargo, fem.)—Have you done your exercises?—I could not do them, because my brother was not at home.—You must not get (dar á hacer) your exercises done by your brother, but you must do them yourself, (V. mismo)—What are you doing there?—I am reading the book which you lent me.—You are wrong in always reading it.—What am I to do?—Draw this landscape, (Lesson LXVII.,) and when you have drawn it you shall decline some substantives with adjectives.

217.

What must we do in order to be happy?—Always love and practise virtue, and you will be happy both in this life and in the next.—Since (ya que) we wish to be happy, let us do good to the poor, and let us have compassion on the unfortunate; let us obey our masters, and never give them any trouble; let us comfort the unfortunate, (infortunados), love our neighbor as ourselves, and not hate those (aborrecer) that have offended us; in short, (en una palabra), let us always fulfil our duty, and God will take care of the rest.—My son, in order to be loved you must be laborious (laborioso) and good. Thou art accused (acusar) of having been idle and negligent in thy affairs. Thou knowest, however, that thy brother has been punished for having been naughty. Being lately (el otro día) in town, I received a letter from thy tutor, in which he strongly (fuertemente) complained of thee. Do not weep; now go into thy room, learn thy lesson, and be a good boy, (bueno;) otherwise (de otro modo) thou wilt get nothing for dinner.—I shall be so good, my dear father, that you will certainly be satisfied with me.—Has the little boy kept his word, (cumplir con su palabra?)—Not quite; for after having said that, he went into his room, took his books, sat down at the table, and fell asleep.—“He is a very good boy when he sleeps,” said his father, seeing him some time after.

Good morning, Miss N.—Ah! here you are at last. I have been waiting for you with impatience.—You will pardon me, (perdonar;) my dear, I could not come sooner.—Sit down, if you please.—How is your mother?—She is better to-day than she was yesterday.—I am glad of it, (mucho me alegro de ello.)—Were you at the ball yesterday?—I was there.—Were you much amused, (divertirse?)—Only so-so.—At what o'clock did you return home?—At a quarter past eleven.

Have you been learning Spanish long?—No, Sir, I have only been learning it these six months.—Is it possible! you speak tolerably well (bastante bien) for so short a time, (tan corto tiempo.)—You jest, (burlarse;) I do not know much (of it) yet.—Indeed, you speak it well already.—I think you flatter me a little.—Not at all; you speak it properly.—In order to speak it properly one must know more (of it) than I know.—You know enough (of it) to make yourself understood.—I still make many faults.—That is nothing, (¡eso no le hace;) you must not be bashful; besides (ademas) you have made no faults in all you have said just now.—I am still timid, because I am afraid of being laughed at, (que se rian de mí, pres. of the subjunctive.)—They would be very unpolite to laugh at you. Who would be so unpolite as to laugh at you, (que se riese de V.?) Do you not know the proverb?—What proverb?—He who wishes to speak well must begin by (por) speaking badly.—Do you understand all I am telling you?—I understand and comprehend it very well; but I cannot express myself well in Spanish, because I am not in the habit of speaking it.—That will come in (con el tiempo) time.—I wish (lo deseo) it with all my heart.

Do you sometimes see my brother?—I see him sometimes; when I met him the other day he complained of you. “If he had behaved better, and had been more economical,” said he, “he would have no debts, and I would not have been angry with him.”—I begged of him to have compassion on you, (se compadeciera de V.;) telling him that you had not even money enough to buy bread.—“Tell him, when you see him,” replied he to me, “that notwithstanding his bad behavior (la conducta) towards me, I pardon (perdonar á uno) him. Tell him also," continued he, "that one should not laugh (que no se debe reir) at those to whom one is under obligation. Have the goodness to do this, and I shall be much obliged to you," added he in going away (al irse.) and twenty minutes past one, for my watch goes very well.—Bless me! how rapidly time passes in your society!—You make me a compliment which I do not know how to answer.—Have you bought your watch in Paris?—I have not bought it, my uncle has made me a present of it.—What has that woman intrusted you with?—She has intrusted me with a secret about a count who is in great embarrassment about the (á causa) marriage of one of his daughters.—Does any one ask her in marriage?—The man who demands her in marriage is a nobleman of the neighborhood, (la vecindad).—Is he rich?—No, he is a poor devil (diablo) who has not a penny.—You say you have no friends among your schoolfellows, (el condiscípulo;) but is it not your fault? You have spoken ill of them, and they have not offended you. They have done you good, and nevertheless (sin embargo) you have quarrelled with them, (Lesson LXIV.) Believe me, he who has no friends deserves (merece) to have none.

Dialogue (diálogo) between a tailor and his journeyman, (el oficial...)

—Charles, have you taken the clothes to the Count Narissi?—Yes, Sir, I have taken them to him.—What did he say?—He said nothing but that he had a great mind to give me a box on the ear, (bofetadas, plur.) because I had not brought them sooner.—What did you answer him?—Sir, said I, I do not understand that joke: pay me what you owe me; and if you do not do so instantly I shall take other measures. Scarcely had I said that, when he put his hand to his sword, (á su espada), and I ran away.

222.

What are you astonished at?—I am astonished to find you still in bed.—If you knew how sick I am, you would not be astonished at it. Has it already struck twelve?—Yes, Madam, it is already half-past twelve.—Is it so late? Is it possible?—That is not late, it is still early.—Does your watch go well, (bien?)—No, Miss N., it is a quarter of an hour too fast.—And mine is half an hour too slow.—Perhaps it has stopped.—In fact, you are right.—Is it wound up?—It is wound up, and yet (sin embargo) it does not go.—Do you hear? it is striking one o'clock.—Then I will regulate my watch and go home.—Pray stay a little longer!—I cannot, for we dine precisely at one o'clock, (a la una en punto).—Adieu, then, till I see you again.

223.

What is the matter with you, my dear friend? why do you look so melancholy?—Nothing ails me, (nada tengo).—Are you in any trouble, (esta V. apurado?)—I have nothing, and even less than nothing, for I have not a penny, and I owe a great deal to my creditors: am I not very unhappy?—When a man is well and has friends he is not unhappy.—Dare I ask you a favor?—What do you wish?—Have the goodness to lend me fifty dollars—I will lend you them with all my heart, but on condition that you will renounce gambling, (abandone el juego,) and be more economical than you have hitherto been.—I see now that you are my friend, and I love you too much not to follow your advice.

John, (Juan!)—What is your pleasure, Sir?—Bring some wine.—Presently, Sir.—Henry!—Madam?—Make the fire, (encienda V. candela.)—The maid-servant has made it already.—Bring me some paper, pens, and ink. Bring me also some sand (arenilla) or blotting-paper, (papel de estraza,) sealing-wax, (lacre,) and a light, (una vela encendida.) Go and tell (vaya V. á decir) my sister not to wait (que no me espere) for me, and be back again (volver) at twelve o'clock in order to carry my letters to the post, (correo.)—Very well, madam.

It is a fine house, you will find it easily.—I thank you, Sir.—Does Count N. live here?—Yes, Sir, walk in, (sírvase V. pasar á dentro), if you please.—Is the count at home? I wish to have the honor (el honor) to speak to him.—Yes, Sir, he is at home; whom shall I have the honor to announce, (anunciar?)—I am from B., and my name is (llamarse) F.

Which is the shortest (corto) way to the arsenal, (un arsenal?)—Go down this street, and when you come (llegue) to the bottom, (caí), turn to the left, and take (pase por) the cross-way; you will then enter into a rather narrow (bastante estrecha) street, which will lead you to a great square, (la plaza), where you will see a blind alley.—Through (por) which I must pass?—No, for there is no outlet, (la salida.) We found at last a peasant's hut where we passed the night. Here I had an opportunity to see how clever your brother is. A few benches and a truss of straw (un haz de paja) served him to make a comfortable (bueno) bed; he used a bottle as a candlestick, our pouches served us as a pillow, and our cravats as nightcaps. When we awoke in the morning, we were as fresh and healthy as if we had slept on down and silk.—A candidate (un candidato) petitioned (pedir) the king of Prussia (Prusia) for an employment, (un empleo.) "I beg your majesty's (la majestad) pardon," replied the candidate, "there are some good ones, and I know two." "Which are those two?" asked the king. "The first," replied the candidate, "is your majesty, and I am the second." The king could not help laughing (no pudo ménos que reir) at this answer, and granted (conceder) the request, (la súplica.)

EXERCISES.

226.

A thief having one day entered a boarding-house, stole three cloaks, (la capa.) In going away he was met by one of the boarders who had a fine laced (galoneado) cloak. Seeing so many cloaks, he asked the man where he had taken them. The thief answered boldly (con mucho sosiego) that they belonged to three gentlemen (caballeros) of the house, who had given them to be cleaned, (para que los limpiase.) "Then you must also clean mine, for it is very much in need of it," said the boarder; "but," added he, "you must return it to me at three o'clock." "I shall not fail, (faltar,) Sir," answered the thief, as he carried off (llevar) the four cloaks, with which he (que) is still to return, (todavía no han parecido.)—You are singing, (cantar,) gentlemen, but it is not a time for singing; you ought to be silent, and to listen to what you are told.—We are at a loss.—What are you at a loss about?—I am going to tell you: the question is with us how we shall pass our time agreeably.—Play a game at billiards or at chess.—We have proposed joining a hunting-party; do you go with us, (venir?)—I cannot, for I have not done my task yet; and if I neglect it, my master will scold me.—Every one according to his liking; if you like staying at home better than going a-hunting we cannot hinder you.—Does Mr. B. go with us?—Perhaps.—I should not like to go with him, for he is too great a talker, (muy hablador,) excepting that (ménos eso) he is an honest man.

What is the matter with you? You look angry.—I have reason to (motivo) be angry, for there is no means of getting money now.—Have you been to Mr. A.'s?—I have been to his house; but there is no possibility (ningun medio) of borrowing from him. I suspected that he would not lend me any, that is the reason why I did not wish to ask him; and had you not told me to do so, I should not have subjected myself (exponer) to a refusal, (á una negativa.)

I suspected that you would be thirsty, and (that) your sister (would be) hungry; that is the reason why I brought (traer) you hither. I am sorry, however, not to see your mother.—Why do you not drink your coffee?—If I were not sleepy I would drink it.—Sometimes you are sleepy, sometimes (otras) cold, sometimes warm, and sometimes something else is the matter with you, (y muchas veces otras cosas.) I believe that you think too much of the misfortune that has happened to your friend, (fem.)—If I did not think about it, who would think about it?—Of whom does your brother think?—He thinks of me, for we always think of each other (uno de otro) when we are not together, (juntos.)

The Biscayans are excellent ball-players, (jugadores.)—The two chess-players were very skilful.—Do you know any flute-player, (flautista,) or any violin-player, (violinista?)—I know a very good flute-player, but I do not know any violin-player.—For what purpose do you ask?—Because I intend to have a musical entertainment.—Do you sometimes practise (hacer) music?—Very often, for I like it much.—What instrument do you play?—I play the violin, and my sister plays the harpsichord. My brother who plays the bass (el contrabajo) accompanies (acompañar) us, and Miss Stolz sometimes applauds (aplaudir) us.—Does she not also play some (musical) instrument?—She plays the harp, (el harpa,) but she is too proud (orgulloso) to practise music with us.—A very poor town went to considerable expense (hizo gastos considerables) in feasts and illuminations (fiestas é iluminaciones) on the occasion of its prince passing through, (cuando pasó su príncipe.) The latter seemed himself astonished at it.—“It has only done,” said a courtier, (cortesano,) “what it owed (to your majesty.)” “That is true,” replied another, “but it owes all that it has done.”

EXERCISES.

Have you made your Spanish composition ?—I have made it.—Was your tutor pleased with it ?—He was not. In vain I do my best ; I cannot do any thing to his liking.—You may say what you please, (lo que quiera,) nobody will believe you.—Can you, without putting yourself to inconvenience, lend me five hundred dollars?—As you have always used me well I will use you in the same manner, (modo.) I will lend you the money you want, but on condition that you will return it to me next week.—You may depend upon it, (poder contar.)—How has my son behaved towards you?—He has behaved well towards me, for he behaves well towards everybody. His father told him often: The behavior of others is but an echo of our own. If we behave well towards them, they will also behave well towards us; but if we use them ill, we must not expect better (mas) from them.—May I see your brothers?—You will see them to-morrow. As they have just arrived from a long journey they long for sleep, for they are very tired.—What has my sister said?—She said that she longed for dinner, because she was very hungry.—Are you comfortable at your boarding-house?—I am very comfortable there.—Have you imparted to your brother what I told you?—As he was very tired, he longed for sleep; so that I have put off imparting it to him till to-morrow.

229.

I have the honor to wish you a good morning. How do you do?—Very well at your service.—And how are all at home?—Tolerably well, thank God, (á Dios gracias!) My sister was a little indisposed, but she is better; she told (encargar) me to give you (que le presentase) her best compliments.—I am glad (alegrarse) to hear that she is well. As for you, you are health itself, (la misma salud;) you cannot look better, (es imposible tener mejor semblante.)—I have no time to be ill: my business would not permit me. Please to sit down; here is a chair.—I will not detain you from your business; I know that a merchant's time is precious.—I have nothing pressing (urgente) to do now, my courier is already dispatched, (mi correo esta despachado.)—I shall not stay any longer. I only wished in passing to inquire about your health.—You do me much honor.—It is very fine weather to-day. If you will allow me I shall have the pleasure of seeing you again this afternoon, (al pasar por aquí,) and if you have time we will take a little turn together.—With the greatest pleasure. In that case I shall wait for you.—I will come for you about seven o'clock.—Adieu, then, till I see you again.—I have the honor to bid you adieu.

230.

The loss of time is an irreparable loss. A single minute (un solo) cannot be recovered (pagar) for all the gold in the world. It is then of the greatest importance to employ well the time, which consists only of minutes, of which we must make good use, (buen uso.) We have but the present ; the past is no longer any thing, and the future is uncertain, (incierto.)—A great many people ruin themselves (arruinarse) because they wish to indulge themselves too much, (quieren pasarlo bien.) If most men knew how to content themselves (contentarse) with what they have, they would be happy ; but their greediness (codicia) very often makes them unhappy.—In order to be happy we must forget the past, not trouble ourselves about (acongojarse) the future, and enjoy the present.—I was very much dejected (triste) when my cousin came to me. “What is the matter with you ?” he asked me. “Oh, (¡Ay de mí!) my dear cousin,” replied I, “in losing that money I have lost every thing.” “Do not fret,” said he to me, “for I have found your money.”

EXERCISES.

Why have you played a trick upon that man?—Because he always finds fault with every thing he sees.—What does that mean, Sir?—That means that I do not like to deal with you, because you are too particular.—I wonder why your brother has not done (haya hecho) his task.—It was too difficult. He has sat up all night, and has not been able to do it, because it was out of his reach.—As soon as Mr. Flausen sees me he begins to speak English, in order to practise, (ejercitar,) and overwhelms me with politeness, (cortesías,) so that I often do not know what to answer. His brothers do the same, (lo mismo.) However, they are very good people, (gentes;) they are not only rich and amiable, but they are also generous and charitable. They love me sincerely, therefore I love them also, and consequently shall never say any thing to their disadvantage. I should love them still more, if they did not make so much ceremony; but every one has his faults, and mine is to speak too much of their ceremonies.

232.

Have the enemies surrendered?—They have not surrendered, for they did not prefer life to death. They had neither bread, nor meat, nor water, nor arms, nor money; notwithstanding they determined to die rather than surrender.—Why are you so sad?—You do not know what makes me uneasy, my dear friend, (fem.)—Tell me, (lo,) for I assure you that I share your sufferings as well as your pleasures.—I am sure that you feel for me, (que V. me compadece,) but I cannot tell you now what makes me uneasy. I will however tell you when an opportunity offers, (se presente.) Let us speak of something else now. What do you think of the man who spoke to us yesterday at the concert?—He is a man of much understanding, (talento,) and not at all wrapt up in his own merits, (y nada presumido.) But why do you ask me that?—To speak of something.—It is said: contentment (contento) surpasses (valer mas) riches; let us then always be content. Let us share (partir) (with each other) what we have, and remain our lifetime (mientras vivamos) inseparable friends. You will always be welcome at my house, and I hope to be equally so at yours. If I saw you happy I should be equally so, and we should be more contented than the greatest princes, who are not always so. We shall be happy when we are perfectly contented with what we have; and if we do our duty as we ought, God will take care of the rest. The past being no longer any thing, let us not be uneasy about the future, and enjoy the present.

233.

Behold, ladies, (señoras;) those beautiful flowers, with their colors so fresh and bright; they drink nothing but water. The white lily has the color of innocence, (inocencia;) the violet indicates gentleness, (indica la dulzura;) you may see it in Louisa's eyes. The forget-me-not has the color of heaven, our future dwelling, and the rose, the queen of flowers, is the emblem of beauty and of joy. You see all that personified (personificado) in seeing the beautiful Amelia, (Amalia.) How beautiful is the fresh verdure! It is salutary to our eyes, and has the color of hope, (de la esperanza;) our most faithful friend, (fem.;) who never deserts (abandonar) us, not even in death, (en el momento de la muerte.)—One word more, my dear friend.—What is your pleasure?—I forgot to tell you to present my compliments (que me encomendara) to your mother. Tell her, if you please, that I regret (sentir) not having been at home when lately she honored me with her visit.—I thank you for her, (en su nombre;) I shall not fail.—Farewell then.

EXERCISES.

Has your sister been out to-day?—She has been out to buy several things.—What has she bought?—She has bought a silk gown, a velvet bonnet, and a lace veil, (un velo de encaje).—What have you done with my silver tankard?—It is on the kitchen table (together) with the oil-bottle, the milk-pot, the pitcher, the mustard-pot, and the coffee-mill.—Do you ask for a wine-bottle?—No, I ask for a bottle of wine, and not for a wine-bottle. If you had the goodness to give me the key of the wine-cellar, (la bodega), I would go for or e.—What does that man want of me?—He exacts nothing; but he will accept what you will give him, for he is in want of every thing.—I will tell you that I am not fond of him, for his behavior raises suspicions in my mind. He exaggerates all that he says and does.—You are wrong in having such a bad opinion of him, for he has been a father to you.—I know what I say. He has cheated me on a small and on a large scale, and whenever he calls he asks me for something. In this manner he has alternately asked me for all I had: my fowling-piece, my fishing-line, my repeater, and my golden candlesticks.—Do not give yourself up so much to grief, else (si no) you will make me melt in tears, (deshacerse.)

Democritus and Heraclitus were two philosophers of a very different character: the first laughed at the follies (la locura) of men, and the other wept at them.—They were both right, for the follies of men deserve to be laughed (se debe reir) and wept at, (llorar por ellas.)

235.

Have you seen your niece?—Yes; she is a very good girl, who writes well, and speaks Spanish still better; therefore she is loved and honored by everybody.—And her brother, what is he doing?—Do not speak to me of him; he is a naughty boy, who writes always badly, and speaks Spanish still worse; he is therefore (así) loved by nobody. He is very fond of dainties, but he does not like books. Sometimes he goes to bed at broad daylight, (cuando es), and pretends to be ill; but when we sit down to dinner he is generally better (again.) He is to study physic, (la medicina), but he has not the slightest inclination for it, (aficion).—He is almost always talking of his dogs, which he loves passionately, (apasionadamente.) His father is extremely sorry for it. The young simpleton (el tontuelo) said lately to his sister, “I shall enlist as soon as a peace (la paz) is proclaimed, (que se publique).”

My dear father and my dear mother dined yesterday with some friends at (el palacio) the King of Spain.—Why do you always speak English and never Spanish?—Because I am too bashful.—You are joking: is an Englishman ever bashful?—I have a keen appetite, (grande apetito;) give me something good to eat.—Have you any money?—No, Sir.—Then I have nothing to eat for you.—Will you not let me have some (no me dará V.) on credit? I pledge my honor.—That is too little.—What, (como), Sir!

SEVENTY-EIGHTH LESSON.—Leccion Septuagésima octava.

PRESENT OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

(Presente del Subjuntivo.)

N. B For the sake of brevity, the Present of the Subjunctive is designated by N. 6. For the formation of this Tense, see Appendix.

N. 6 of To HAVE, (active.)

That I may have.

N. 6 de TENER, (activo *.)Que tenga, tengas, tenga, tengamos, tengais, tengan.N. 6 of To HAVE, (auxiliary.)

That I may have.

N. 6 de HABER, (auxiliar *.)Que haya, hayas, haya, háyamos, háyais, háyan.N. 6 of To BE.

That I may be.

N. 6 de SER and ESTAR.Que sea, seas, sea, seamos, seais, sean*Que* esté, estes, esté, estemos, esteis, esten.N. 6 of MAY or CAN, (to be able.)

That I may be able.

N. 6 de PODER *.Que pueda, puedas, pueda, podamos, podais, puedan.

Obs. A. May and can are not translated, when the emphasis is on the principal verb. Example:—

May you live happy.I fear he may be displeased.*Viva V. feliz.*Temo que él se enfade.

REMARKS.

In Spanish a verb governs another verb in the infinitive, in the indicative, or in the subjunctive mood. To elucidate this subject, the following rules are laid down, in which the governing verb will be designated by the name of THE LEADING VERB, and the governed verb, by that of THE SUBORDINATE VERB.

RULE I.

THE SUBORDINATE VERB is in the INFINITIVE, when the action it expresses refers to, and is to be performed by, the subject (nominative) of THE LEADING VERB. Example:—

Peace is the greatest good that men can wish for in this life.

La paz es el mayor bien que los hombres pueden desear en esta

RULE II.

The SUBORDINATE VERB is in the indicative, when the LEADING VERB merely declares, or points out a fact, or action expressed by the subordinate. Example:—

I will tell them that they do not know what they say.

Yo les diré que no saben lo que dicen.

RULE III.

The SUBORDINATE VERB is in the subjunctive, when the action expressed by it is indicated as doubtful, uncertain, conditional, or contingent, by THE LEADING VERB. Examples:—

Even if this should not happen, but merciful Heaven guard and preserve him safe and sound, he continues as poor as ever.

Y cuando eso no suceda, sino que el Cielo piadoso le guarde y conserve sano y vivo, podrá ser que se quede en la misma pobreza qué

I doubt he will come this evening.
You are not sure that they will do it.

Dudo que él venga esta noche.
V. no está seguro de que ellos lo ha- gan.

What do you want me to do?

¿Que quiere V. que yo haga?

Remark.—It must be observed, that although in the paradigms of the conjugations the English POTENTIAL, as well as the SUBJUNCTIVE moods are translated into Spanish by the SUBJUNCTIVE, the use of the latter depends entirely on the meaning of the leading verb; in consequence of which, a verb in the present of the infinitive mood, or in the future tense in English, requires often to be placed in the subjunctive. Examples:—

It is necessary for you to write to them.

Es necesario que V. les escriba.

He says he will do it, whenever they shall pay him what he asks.

Él dice que lo hará, siempre que ellos le paguen lo que pide.

USE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

1. When THE LEADING VERB means admiration, application, approbation, command, demand, duty, doubt, fear, fondness, ignorance, intelligence, intention, permission, prohibition, satisfaction, supplication, sorrow, surprise, suspicion, expediency, wish, necessity, will, asking, advising, coun- selling, entreating, rejoicing, soliciting, or any act of the mind, such as thinking, believing, &c., it governs THE SUBORDINATE VERB in the SUBJUNCTIVE, preceded by the conjunction QUE.

2. THE SUBORDINATE VERB must also be placed in the subjunctive, preceded by QUE, when the LEADING VERB is preceded by an interjection expressing wish or desire, or when it is an impersonal verb, indicating doubt, duty, obligation, or some contingent and future effect produced by the action of such SUBORDINATE VERB. But this is placed in the present of the infinitive mood, without the conjunction, when its subject is not expressed. Example :—

It is necessary that you should do it. { Es necesario que V. lo haga.
Es necesario hacerlo.

3 THE LEADING VERB GOVERNS THE SUBORDINATE VERB in the subjunctive, when the former is connected with the latter by a conjunction implying condition, (conditional terms or clause,) doubt, exception, such as if, unless, provided that, although, &c., when they mean also a contingent and future effect of the action expressed by THE SUBORDINATE VERB.

GOVERNMENT OF THE VERBS SET DOWN AND SPECIFIED IN THE THREE PRECEDING RULES.

Any of the verbs contained and set forth in the preceding rules, being THE LEADING VERB, and in the present or future tense of the indicative, or in the imperative mood, governs THE SUBORDINATE VERB in the PRESENT of the SUBJUNCTIVE.

N. B. To show to the learners the relation of the tenses, and in order to make easy to them the use of the above rules, the number of each tense is here employed for the sake of brevity, instead of the name of the tense. Should they not remember them, they must consult the Appendix.

☞ N. 1 stands for the present of the indicative—N. 6 for the present of the subjunctive—p. for participle.

EXERCISES.

236.

Will you relate (contar) something to me?—What do you wish me to relate to you?—A little anecdote, if you like.—A little boy one day at table (á la mesa) asked for some meat; his father said that it was not polite to ask for any, and that he should wait until some was given to him, (que le dieran, imperf. subjunctive; see the following Lesson.) The poor boy, seeing every one eat, and that nothing was given to him, said to his father: “My dear father, give me a little salt, if you please.” “What will you (tú) do with it?” asked the father. “I wish to eat it with (echarla en) the meat which you will give me,” replied (replicar) the child. Everybody admired (admirar) the little boy’s wit; and his father, perceiving that he had nothing, gave him meat without his asking for it, (sin que la pidiera).—Who was that little boy that asked for meat at table?—He was the son of one of my friends.—Why did he ask for some meat?—He asked for some because he had a good appetite.—Why did his father not give him some immediately?—Because he had forgotten it.—Was the little boy wrong in asking for some?—He was wrong, for he ought to have waited.—Why did he ask his father for some salt?—He asked for some salt, that his father might perceive that he had no meat, and that he might give him some.

Do you wish me to relate to you another anecdote?—You will greatly (muchísimo) oblige me.—Some one purchasing some goods of a shopkeeper, said to him: "You ask too much; you should not sell so dear to me as to another, because I am a friend." The merchant replied: "Sir, we must gain something by (con) our friends, for our enemies will never come to the shop."

A young prince, seven years old, was admired by everybody for his wit, (á causa de su ingenio.) Being once in the society of an old officer, the latter observed, in speaking of the young prince, that when children discovered so much genius in their early days, they generally grew very stupid when they came to maturity.—"If that is the case," said the young prince, who had heard it, "then you (vos) must have been very remarkable for your genius when you were a child."

An Englishman, on first visiting France, met with a very young child in the streets of Calais, who spoke the French language with fluency and elegance.—"Good heaven, (Santo cielo.) is it possible?" exclaimed he, "that even children here speak the French language with purity, (pureza.)"

Let us seek (solicitar) the friendship of the good, and avoid the society of the wicked; for bad company corrupts good manners.—What sort of weather is it to-day?—It snows continually, as it snowed yesterday, and according to all appearances, will also snow to-morrow.—Let it snow; I should like it to snow (que nevase, imperf. subjunctive; see next Lesson) still more, for I am always very well when it is very cold.—And I am always very well when it is neither cold nor warm.—It is too windy to-day, and we should do better if we stayed at home.—Whatever weather it may be I must go out; for I promised to be with my sister at a quarter past eleven, and I must keep my word.

You will never be respected unless you forsake (abandonar) the bad company you keep.—You cannot finish your work to-night, unless I help you.—I will explain to you every difficulty, that you may not be disheartened (desanimar) in your undertaking, (una empresa.)—Suppose you should lose your friends, what would become of you?—In case you want my assistance, call me, I shall help you.—A wise and prudent man lives with economy when young, in order that he may enjoy the fruit of his labor when he is old.—Carry this money to Mr. N., in order that he may be able to pay his debts, (una deuda.)—Will you lend me that money?—I will not lend it you unless you promise to return it to me as soon as you can.—Did the general arrive?—He arrived yesterday morning at the camp, (el campo,) weary, and tired, but very seasonably; he immediately gave his orders to begin the action, though he had not yet all his troops.—Are your sisters happy?—They are not, though they are rich, because they are not contented. Although they have a good memory, that is not enough to learn any language whatever, (cualquiera que sea;) they must make use of their judgment.—Behold how amiable that lady is ; for all that she has no fortune, I do not love her the less.—Will you lend me your violin ?—I will lend it you, provided you return it to me to-night.—Will your mother call upon me ?—She will, provided you will promise to take her to the concert.—I shall not cease to importune (importunar) her, till she has forgiven me.—Give me that penknife.—I will give it you, provided you will not make a bad use of it.—Shall you go to London ?—I will go, provided you accompany (acompañar) me ; and I will write again to your brother, lest he should not have received my letter.

239.

Where were you during the engagement ?—I was in bed to have my wounds dressed, (curar.) Would to God (Ojalá) I had been there ! I would have conquered (vencer) or perished, (morir.)—We avoided an engagement for fear we should be taken, their force being superior to ours.—God forbid (no quiera el cielo, with the subjunctive) I should blame your conduct, but your business will never be done properly unless you do it yourself.—Will you set out soon ?—I shall not set out till I have dined.—Why did you tell me that my father was arrived, though you knew the contrary ?—You are so hasty, (violento,) that however little you are contradicted (contradecir) you fly into a passion (encolerizarse) in an instant. If your father does not arrive to-day, and if you want money, I will lend you some.—I am much obliged to you.—Have you done your task ?—Not quite ; if I had had time, and if I had not been so uneasy about the arrival (llegada) of my father, I should have done it.—If you study and are attentive, I assure you that you will learn the Spanish language in a very short time.—He who wishes to teach an art, must know it thoroughly, (á fondo;) he must give none but clear and well-digested notions (reglas) of it ; he must instil (infundir) them one by one into the minds of his pupils, and above all, he must not overburden (sobrecargar) their memory with useless or unimportant rules.

Pray relate me some.—Look, if you please, in some of the numbers of the Spectator, and you will find many.

EIGHTIETH LESSON.—*Leccion Octogésima.*THE SUBJUNCTIVE, (CONTINUED.)—Continuacion del Subjuntivo.However, howsoever. | Por. Por mas.

Obs. A. Por, or por mas, before a noun or an adjective, governs the subjunctive.

However good you may be.

Por bueno que V. sea.

How rich soever they may be.

Por mas ricos que sean.

Whatever, whatsoever.

Por (n) que. Por mas (n) que.
Cualquiera. Cualesquiera, (plur.)
Todo lo que. Sea el que, (la que.)
Sea cual fuere. Sea cual sea.

Obs. B. Sea el que, &c., followed by a noun, requires de after it, and que when a verb comes after it. It always governs the subjunctive.

Whatsoever courage you may have,
 he has more than you.

Por valor que V. tenga, él tiene mas que V.
 Sea cual fuere el valor de V. él tiene mas

Whatsoever patience we may have,
 we will never have enough.

Por mas paciencia que tengamos, nunca tendremos bastante.

Whatsoever riches he may have, he will soon see the end of them.

Sean cuales fueren sus riquezas, pronto las verá acabadas.

Whatsoever kindness I may have for him, I never shall have as much as he merits.

Por mas afecto que yo le tenga, nunca le tendré tanto como me-rece.

Whatsoever faults you may make, I will take care to correct them.

Cualesquiera faltas que V. haga, yo tendré cuidado de corregirlas.

Whatever may be the happiness you enjoy, I am happier than you.

Sea cual fuere la felicidad que V. goce (vos, or vosotros goceis) yo soy mas feliz que V., (que vos, or vosotros.)

Whatsoever may be the fortune which you enjoy, you may lose it in an instant.

Por mas fortuna que tengais (V tenga) podreis, (podrá,) perderla en un instante.

Whatsoever may be the efforts which you make, you never can succeed.

Por mas esfuerzos que V. haga, nunca podrá salir con bien.

Whatsoever may be the pains which you take, no one will be under obligation to you for them.

Por mas trabajo que V. se tome, ninguno se creará obligado á V., (nadie se lo agradecerá, or creció deberle nada.)

No one.

Nadie. Ninguna.

Whatever, whatsoever, (meaning all things soever.)	Todo lo que. Todo cuanto. Todas las cosas que. Cualquier (cualquiera) cosa que.
Whatsoever you may do for my father, he will reward you for it. I complain of nothing whatsoever.	Todo cuanto V. haga por mi padre, su merced (él) se lo recompensará. Yo no me quejo de nada, (or de cosa ninguna, or de nada que valga la pena.) Quienquiera. Cualquiera.
Whoever, whosoever.

Obs. C. The indeterminate pronouns quienquiera, cualquiera, whoever, whosoever; quienquiera, or cualquiera que sea, whoever, whosoever; nadie, nobody; ninguno, ni uno solo, no one, not any; nada, nothing; require the next verb in the subjunctive.

Of whomsoever you may speak, avoid slander.	De quienquiera que V. hable, evite murmurarle.
I know nobody who is as good as you.	No conozco á nadie (á ninguno) que sea tan bueno como V.
I have seen nothing that could be blamed in his conduct.	Yo no he visto nada que pudiera tacharse en la conducta de él, (en su conducta.)

Obs. D. The subjunctive is employed at the beginning of a sentence to express surprise, a desire, or an imprecation. Examples:—

May heaven ever preserve you from such a misfortune.	Quiera el cielo preservar á V. (preservaros) de una tal desgracia.
Would to God!	; Plegue á Dios! ; Plegue al cielo! ; Quiera Dios, (el cielo)! ; Ojalá! (See Placer *, in App.)
Would to God it were so!	; Pluguiera á Dios que eso fuese así!
Would to God he had done it!	; Pluguiera á Dios que él lo hubiese hecho!
Would to God that all the great lords loved peace!	; Pluguiera á Dios que todos los grandes señores amasen la paz!
Would to God we may never be more unhappy!	; Plegue al Cielo que nosotros nunca seamos mas infelices!
May you be happy!	; Sea V. feliz! ; Ojalá que V. sea feliz!

Obs. E. The subjunctive is also sometimes employed at the beginning of a sentence, when for the sake of energy an ellipsis is made of the conditional conjunctions aunque, si, &c

Though it cost me all I have, I shall know how to preserve myself from such a misfortune.	Costárame todo cuanto tengo, yo me sabría precaver de una tal desgracia.<sup>1</sup>

Were he to do what they advise him, he would not have cause to com- plain.	Hiciera él lo que le aconsejan, y no tendría motivo de quejarse<sup>1</sup>

REMARK B, ON THE USE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

It may be remarked, in conclusion, on the use of the subjunctive, that whenever the subordinate verb, or the second member of a sentence, is united to the leading verb, or the first member of a sentence, by one of the relative pronouns, que, quien, cual, &c., it is put in the indicative when it expresses any thing certain or positive, and in the subjunctive when it relates to any thing uncertain, doubtful, or contingent. Examples:—

Here is a book for you, which you may consult occasionally. Give me a book that I may be able to consult occasionally. Lend me that book which you do not want. Lend me a book which you may not be in want of. Do not leave a place where you are comfortable, and whence you hear well. Choose a place where you may be comfortable, and whence you may hear well.	Ind. Aquí tiene V. un libro que puede consultar á ocasiones. Subj. Deme V. un libro que yo pue- da consultar † cuando se ofrezca. Ind. Présteme V. aquel libro de que no necesita. Subj. Présteme V. un libro de que no necesite. Ind. No deje V. un asiento en que V. está cómodamente, y desde el cual V. oye bien. Subj. Escoja V. un asiento en que esté cómodamente, y desde el cual V. oiga bien.

TAKEN FROM THE SPANISH CLASSIC AUTHORS.

Will your worship allow me to con- fer a little with you? In these cross-paths, though your worship conquer, and achieve the most perilous exploits, there is no- body present to be witness of them.	¿ Quiere vuestra merced darme li- cencia que departa un poco con él? D. Quijote, cap. xxi. pt. i. En estas encrucijadas aunque se venzan, y acaben las mas peligro- sas aventuras, no hay quien las vea, ni sepa. Ditto, ditto

You must have patience, though you have no desire to have it, for I must also wait till I receive my money. Should I (en caso que) receive it to-day I will pay you all that I owe you. Do not believe that I have forgotten it; for I think of it every day. Or do you believe, perhaps, that I have already received it?—I do not believe that you have already received it; but I fear that your other creditors may already have received it.—Would to God (Ojalá que) you had what I wish you, and that I had what I wish.—Though we have not had what we wish, yet we have almost always been contented; and Messieurs B. have almost always been discontented, though they have had every thing a reasonable man (un hombre racional) can be contented with.—Do not believe, Madam, that I have had your fan, (abanico).—Who tells you that I believe it?—My brother-in-law would wish he had not had what he has had.—Wherefore?—He has always had many creditors, and no money.—I wish you would always speak French to me; and you must obey, if you wish to learn, and if you do not wish to lose your time uselessly, (inútilmente.) I would wish you were more industrious and more attentive when I speak to you. If I were not your friend, and if you were not mine, I should not speak thus to you.—Do not trust (no se fie V.) Mr. N., for he flatters you. Do you think a flatterer (un adulador) can be a friend?—You do not know him as well as I, though you see him every day.—Do not think that I am angry with him, because his father has offended me.—Oh! here he is coming, (hele aquí que viene), you may tell him all yourself.

EIGHTY-FIRST LESSON.—Leccion Octogésima primera.

FUTURE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

Remark.—This tense expresses a positive future conditional action, and is governed by the same verbs and conjunctions that govern the present of the subjunctive mood, in consequence of which it is sometimes mistaken for and used instead of that; but it is very different, and expresses the idea with more energy and precision. Therefore the rules laid down for the use of the present of the subjunctive are applicable to this tense when the sense is conditional and future. It frequently answers to the future of the indicative, or present of the potential mood in English; but most frequently to the auxiliary verb should, as may be observed by the following examples:—

I do not tell thee to live, or to die:
live, if thou canst; die, if thou canst not do better.

We have resolved to do in his behalf all that shall lie in our power.

No te digo que vivas, ni que mueras
vive, si PUDIERES, y muere, si no

Obs. B. The definite article is used, of late, before the names of kingdoms, provinces, and countries; not by the best writers, however, excepting when those names are accompanied by an adjective, or when the countries admit of a division. It is required to be placed before a few names by general usage. Examples:—

rather ridiculous ; but full of confidence in your method, we answered as well as the small quantity of words and rules we then possessed allowed us.

We were not long in finding out that those questions were calculated to ground us in the rules, and to exercise us in conversation, by the contradictory answers we were obliged to make.

We can now almost keep up a conversation in Spanish.

EXERCISES.

243.

Will you drink a cup of coffee ?—I thank you, I do not like coffee. —Then you will drink a glass of wine ?—I have just drunk some.—Let us take a walk.—Willingly, (con mucho gusto;) but where shall we go to ?—Come with me into my aunt's garden ; we shall there find very agreeable society.—I believe it ; but the question is (el caso es) whether this agreeable society will admit me.—You are welcome everywhere.—What ails you, my friend ? How do you like that wine ? —I like it very well, (muy bien;) but I have drunk enough of it.—Drink once more, (otra copita).—No, too much is unwholesome ; I know my constitution.—Do not fall. What is the matter with you ?—

I do not know; but my head is giddy, (estoy aturdido;) I think I am fainting, (pienso que me desmayo).—I think so also, for you look almost like a dead person, (un cadáver).—What countryman are you?—I am an American.—You speak Spanish (español) so well that I took you for a Spaniard by birth.—You are jesting.—Pardon me; I do not jest at all. How long have you been in Spain, (España?)—A few days.—In earnest?—You doubt it, perhaps, because I speak Spanish; I knew it before I came to Spain.—How did you learn it so well?—I did like the prudent starling.

Tell me, why are you always on bad terms (en discordia) with your wife? and why do you engage in unprofitable trades, (meterse en negocios inútiles?) It costs so much trouble (cuesta tanto) to get (tener) a situation; and you have a good one and neglect it. Do you not think of the future?—Now allow me to speak also, (á mi turno).—All you have just said seems reasonable; but it is not my fault, if I have lost my reputation; it is that of my wife: she has sold my finest clothes, my rings, (anillos), and my gold watch. I am full of (cargado) debts, and I do not know what to do.—I will not excuse your wife; but I know that you have also contributed to your ruin, (la ruina.) Women are generally good when they are left so, (cuando se dejan ser tales.)

244.

DIALOGUE.

The Master.—If I were now to ask (hacer) you such (algunas preguntas) questions as I did in the beginning of our lessons, viz. (por ejemplo;) Have you the hat which my brother has? am I hungry? has he the tree of my brother's garden? &c. What would you answer?

The Pupils.—We are obliged (estar obligado) to confess that we found these questions at first rather (algo) ridiculous; but full of confidence in your method, we answered as well as the small quantity of words and rules we then possessed allowed us. We were, in fact, (pero), not long (to be not long, no tardar mucho) in finding out that these questions were calculated to ground us in the rules, and to exercise us in conversation, by the contradictory answers we were obliged to make. But now that we can almost keep up a conversation in the beautiful language which you teach us, we should answer: It is impossible that we should have the same hat which your brother has, for two persons cannot have one and the same thing. To the second question we should answer, that it is impossible for us to know whether you are hungry or no. As to the last, we should say: that there is more than one tree in a garden; and in asking us whether he has the tree of the garden, the phrase does not seem to us logically correct. At all events we should be ungrateful (ingrato) if we allowed such an opportunity to escape, without expressing (expresar) our liveliest gratitude to you for the trouble you have taken. In arranging (por el arreglo) those wise combinations, (combinacion), you have succeeded in grounding us almost imperceptibly (imperceptiblemente) in the rules, and exercising us in the conversation, of a language which, taught in any other way, presents to foreigners, and even to natives, almost insurmountable difficulties, (insuperables.)

Will you be my guest, (comer conmigo: † tomar la sopa conmigo. hacer penitencia conmigo?)—I thank you; a friend of mine has invited me to dinner: he has ordered (hacer preparar) my favorite dish, (un plato favorito).—What is it?—It is a dish of milk, (lacticinio).—As for me, I do not like milk-meat: there is nothing like (no hay nada como) a good piece of roast beef or veal.—What has become of your younger brother?—He has suffered shipwreck ( naufragar) in going to America.—You must give me an account of that, (dar una relacion).—Very willingly, (de muy buena gana).—Being on the open sea, a great storm arose. The lightning struck the ship and set it on fire. The crew jumped into the sea to save themselves by swimming. My brother knew not what to do, having never learned to swim. He reflected in vain; he found no means to save his life. He was struck with fright when he saw that the fire was gaining on all sides. He hesitated no longer, and jumped into the sea.—Well, (pues bien), what has become of him?—I do not know, having not heard of him yet.—

But who told you all that?—My nephew, who was there, and who saved himself.—As you are talking of your nephew, (á propósito de—) where is he at present?—He is in Italy.—Is it long since you heard of him?—I have received a letter from him to-day.—What does he write to you?—He writes to me that he is going to marry a young woman who brings him (que le trae) a hundred thousand dollars.—Is she handsome?—Handsome as an angel; she is a master-piece of nature. Her physiognomy is mild and full of expression; her eyes are the finest in the (del) world, and her mouth is charming, (y su boca muy linda.) She is neither too tall nor too short; her shape is slender; all her actions are full of grace, and her manners are engaging. Her look inspires respect and admiration. She has also a great deal of wit; she speaks several languages, dances uncommonly well, and sings delightfully. My nephew finds in her (halla en ella) but one defect, (un defecto.)—And what is that defect?—She is affected, (afectada.)—There is nothing perfect in the world.—How happy you are! you are rich, you have a good wife, pretty children, a fine house, and all you wish.—Not all, my friend.—What do you desire more?—Contentment; for you know that he only is happy who is contented.

EXERCISES.

The Emperor Charles the Fifth (Carlos Quinto) being one day out hunting lost his way in the forest, and having come to a house entered it to refresh himself. There were in it four men, who pretended to sleep. One of them rose, and approaching the Emperor, told him he had dreamed he should take his watch, and took it. Then another rose and said he had dreamed that his surtout (sobretudo) fitted him wonderfully, and took it. The third took his purse. At last the fourth came up, and said he hoped he would not take it ill if he searched him, and in doing it perceived around the emperor's neck a small gold chain to which a whistle was attached, which he wished to rob him of. But the emperor said: "My good friend, before depriving me (privar á uno) of this trinket, (alhaja.) I must teach you its virtue." Saying this, he whistled. His attendants, who were seeking him, hastened to the house, and were thunderstruck (quedaron pasmados) to behold his majesty in such a state. But the emperor seeing himself out of danger, (fuera de peligro.) said: "These men (aquí teneis unos hombres que) have dreamed all that they liked. I wish in my turn also to dream." And after having mused a few seconds, he said: "I have dreamed that you all four deserve to be hanged:" which was no sooner spoken than executed before the house.

A certain king making one day his entrance into a town at two o'clock in the afternoon, (de la tarde.) the senate sent some deputies (un diputado) to compliment him. The one who was to speak (habia de hablar) began thus: "Alexander the Great, the great Alexander," and stopped short, (se cortó.)—The king, who was very hungry, (tenia hambre.) said: "Ah! my friend, Alexander the Great had dined, and I am still fasting, (estar en ayunas.)" Having said this, he proceeded to (siguió su camino) the City Hall, or State House, (á la casa consistorial.) where a magnificent dinner had been prepared for him.

247.

A good old man, being very ill, sent for his wife, who was still very young, and said to her: "My dear, you see that my last hour is approaching, and that I am compelled to leave you. If, therefore, you wish me to die in peace you must do me a favor. You are still young, and will, without doubt, marry again, (se volverá á casar :) knowing this, I request of you not to wed (no se case con) M. Louis; for I confess that I have always been very jealous of him, and am so still. I should, therefore, die in despair (desesperado) if you did not promise me that." The wife answered: "My dear husband, (alma mia,) I entreat you, let not this hinder you from dying peaceably; for I assure you that, if even I wished to wed him I could not do so, being already promised to another."

It was customary with Frederick the Great, whenever a new soldier appeared in his guards, to ask him three questions; viz.: "How old are you? How long have you been in my service? Are you satisfied with your pay and treatment?" It happened that a young soldier, born in France, who had served in his own country, desired to enlist in the Prussian service. His figure caused him to be immediately accepted; but he was totally ignorant of the German dialect; and his captain giving him notice that the king would question him in that tongue the first time he should see him, cautioned him at the same time to learn by heart the three answers that he was to make to the king. Accordingly he learned them by the next day; and as soon as he appeared in the ranks Frederick came up to interrogate him: but he happened to begin upon him by the second question, and asked him, "How long have you been in my service?" "Twenty-one years," answered the soldier. The king, struck with his youth, which plainly indicated that he had not borne a musket so long as that, said to him, much astonished, "How old are you?" "One year, an't please your majesty, (con permiso de Vuestra Majestad.)" Frederick, more astonished still, cried, "You or I must certainly be bereft of our senses." The soldier, who took this for the third question, replied firmly, (con denuesto,) "Both, an't please your majesty."

EXERCISES.

A man (cierto) had two sons, one of whom liked to sleep very late in the morning, (á pierna suelta), and the other was very industrious, (aplicado y trabajador), and always rose very early. The latter having one day gone out very early, found a purse well filled with money. He ran to his brother to inform him (á contarle) of his good luck, (la buena fortuna), and said to him : " See, Louis, what is got (ganarse) by rising early ?"—" Faith, (cierto !)" answered his brother, " if the person to whom it belongs had not risen earlier than I, (he) would not have lost it."

A lazy young fellow being asked, (preguntado), what made him lie (porqué se estaba) in bed so long ?—" I am busied, (estar ocupado)," says he, " in hearing counsel every morning. Industry (el trabajo) advises me to get up ; sloth (la pereza) to lie still ; and so they give me twenty reasons pro and con, (en pro y en contra.) It is my part (tener obligacion de) to hear what is said on both sides ; and by the time the cause is over (acabarse) dinner is ready."

It was a beautiful turn given by a great lady, who, being (se cuenta un hermoso rasgo—) asked where her husband was, when he lay concealed (estar escondido) for having been deeply concerned in a conspiracy, (á causa de haber tomado gran parte en una conspiracion), resolutely (resueltamente) answered, she had hid him. This confession (esta confesion) drew her before the king, who told her, nothing but her discovering where her lord was concealed could save her from the torture, (que si no descubria donde se hallaba su señor marido, nada podria librarla de la tortura.) "And will that do, (bastar?)" said the lady. "Yes," says the king, "I will give you my word for it." "Then," says she, "I have hid him in my heart, where you will find him." Which surprising answer (esta admirable respuesta) charmed her enemies.

249.

Cornelia, the illustrious (ilustre) mother of the Gracchi, (de los Gracos,) after the death of her husband, who left her with twelve children, applied herself to (dedicarse á) the care of her family, with a wisdom (una discrecion) and prudence that acquired for (*adquirir**) her universal esteem, (estimacion universal.) Only three out of the twelve lived to years of maturity, (edad madura;) one daughter, Sempronius, whom she married to the second Scipio Africanus; and two sons, Tiberius and Caius, whom she brought up (crió) with so much care, that, though they were generally acknowledged (confesar generalmente) to have been born with the most happy dispositions, (la disposicion,) it was judged that they were still more indebted (deber) to education than nature. The answer she gave (*dar**) a Campanian lady (una dama de Campania) concerning them (con respecto á ellos) is very famous, (famoso—sa,) and includes in it (*contener**) great instruction for ladies and mothers.

That lady, who was very rich, and fond of pomp and show, (apasionado á la pompa y á la ostentacion,) having displayed (mostrar) her diamonds, (el diamante,) pearls, (la perla,) and richest jewels, earnestly desired (suplicar con ahinco) Cornelia to let her see her jewels also. Cornelia dexterously (diestramente) turned the conversation to another subject to wait the return of her sons, who were gone to the public schools. When they returned, and entered their mother's apartment, she said to the Campanian lady, pointing to them. (mostrar;) "These are my jewels, and the only ornaments (adornos) I prize, (apreciar)" And such ornaments, (unos ornamentos,) which are the strength (la fuerza) and support (el sosten) of society, add a brighter lustre (mayor lustre) to the fair (la hermosura) than all the jewels of the East, (del Oriente.)

Obs. C. The vowels are never silent, except u in the syllables gue, gui, que, qui, the sound of which corresponds to that heard in the English words get, geese, etiquette, quint. When the u in these syllables is to be sounded it is marked with a diseresis; thus, argüir, aqüeducto. But, in conformity with the present use, the words in which the u is pronounced after q are written with c; thus, cuatro, acueducto.

Obs. D. The consonants that are pronounced differently from the English are the following:—

C before a, o, u, l, r, and when it is at the end of a syllable, sounds like k in English; as canal, cólico, cura, clamor, crédito, pacto. C before e, or i, sounds lisped, like th in the English words theft, thin.

Ch sounds like the same letters in the English words chaf, chess, chiz, chop, choose, much.

When ch is followed by a vowel marked with a circumflex accent, it must be pronounced as k; as, Châribdis. But all the words derived from the Greek having ch, are at present written in Spanish with c before a, o, u, r, and with qu before e or i; as, arcángel, cristiano, eco, monarquía.

D must be pronounced as the same letter in English. In some parts of Spain it is pronounced as th in father; and in others, where it occurs at the end of words, as th, or as t, or is even silent; thus, ciudad, ciudath, ciudat, ciudad. This pronunciation is considered provincial, and not Castilian.

G before a, o, u, l, r, sounds as in English; as, galan, gobierno, gusta, gloria, gracia. Before e or i, it sounds like the English h aspirated; as, genio, (hen'-e-o,) gitano, (he-tan-oh.)

H is always mute, or silent, except at the beginning of words followed by ue, in which case it has a very soft and slightly nasal sound, as in hueso, (bone.) The vulgar pronounce such words as if written with g.

J has a guttural sound, harsher, however, than the aspirated k in English. Before e or i it sounds as the g does in Spanish before the same letters.

LL is sounded by placing the tip of the tongue against the lower teeth, and turning the thick part of it towards the roof of the mouth while emitting the breath with rapidity. It may be heard in the English word million; but the ll must be pronounced more quickly and strongly than in that. LL is considered in Spanish a single letter with a double character, consequently it cannot be divided; thus, ca-llar.

N has a strong nasal sound, somewhat like n in poniard. The gn in French gives the exact sound.

Q is always followed by u, and is pronounced like k. In conformity with the modern orthography, the syllables in which u is sounded before a, o, e are written with c instead of q; thus, cuando, cuestion.

R, at the beginning of a word, after n, l, s, and in compound words the primitive of which begin with r, has a harsh and rough sound; as, rata, carriquecer, malrotar, cariredondo. When ab and ob are not prepositions as in abrogar, obrepcion, the r becomes liquid; as in abrojo, obrero.

R, in the middle of a word, or between two vowels, has a very smooth sound; as in murosidad, mérito.

The harsh and rough sound of r between two vowels, in the middle of simple words, is always expressed by double rr; thus, barraca, correcto, horror.

Common people frequently clip the r; saying pa instead of para.

N. B. Some Spaniards make in manuscript the letter r thus, x; as, cuezdas para amarrarle, (cuerdas para amarrarle), cords to tie it. The scholar will do well to take notice of, but not to follow this old fashion. If the English r be not well formed, it will be mistaken for i or x.

S has always a harsh, hissing sound, like ss in English; as in desaposeñonar. (to dispossess.) There is not a word in Spanish beginning with s followed by a consonant. S is not written double, except when the pronoun se comes after the first person plural of a verb; as, dímossele, (we gave it to him.)

T must be pronounced as in the words tart, ten, tin, tone. It never undergoes the variations it does in English, in creature, nation, &c.; consequently creatura, patio, tia, &c., must be pronounced cray-ah-toor'-ah, pah'-tec-oh, tec-ah, &c. T is never written double.

N. B. As the English capital T, in manuscript, has in Spanish a different name and power, the learner is advised always to use this T. Observe, also, that this T is called by the Spaniards T, not F.

U always sounds as it does in English in the words full, pull.

V must be pronounced as in English. It is frequently used in manuscript instead of the capital U; thus, Un día, for Un dia.

X sounds like cs or ks in English; as, experiencia. When it is the last letter of a word it has a guttural sound, like that of the Spanish j, as in carcax, (quiver;) but such words are no longer written with x, but with j; thus, reloj, (watch,) formerly relox.

Y, when alone, or after a vowel, and followed by a consonant, or at the end of a word, is a vowel, and sounds like ee in English; as, él y ella, (he and she,) convoy. Y, before a vowel in the same syllable, or between two vowels, is a consonant, and sounds like the English j, though somewhat softer. Some persons write i in estoy, soy, voy, y, muy, instead of y.

Thus—estoi, soi, voi, i, mui.

In Spanish manuscript capital Y is to be used instead of capital I; thus—

Don Ysidro Ysla informa que el coronel Don Ygnacio Yzquierdo salió ayer de Yruun con un batallón del regimiento del Ynfante.

These nouns, in printing, would be Isidro, Isla, Ignacio, Izquierdo, Iruun, Infante.

Z must be pronounced as th in the English words thank, theft, thin, thorn, path, tenth, truth.

N. B. Particular care must be taken to pronounce fully and distinctly the letters e, d, r, and s, at the end of the words.

REMARKS ON THE PRONUNCIATION.

Every well-educated person in old Spain, as well as in its former and actual possessions in America, speaks and writes correctly the Spanish or Castilian language; but as the Spanish Peninsula consists of several provinces, that once were states and kingdoms independent from each other, and (Biscay excepted) were settled and governed by various nations, there are to be observed, in the mass of the people of each of its present divisions, certain peculiarities, propensities, and even animosities, that make the inhabitants of each division appear almost a different people. Some of them have had a peculiar idiom; hence it is that the Lengua Castellana is not spoken in all its purity by every person, except in both Castiles, and particularly in the districts of Burgos, Salamanca, Toledo, &c.

The most frequent faults to be observed, and which the scholar is warned to avoid, are the following:—

B	instead of V;	as,	él bibe,	in lieu of	él vive,	he lives.
V	" B;	"	él vevió,	"	él bebió,	he drank
S	" C;	"	seremonia,	"	ceremonia,	ceremony
C	" S;	"	selebro,	"	celebro,	the brain.
S	" Z;	"	casa,	"	caza,	hunting.
R	" L;	"	craro,	"	claro,	clear.
Y	" LL;	"	cavayo,	"	caballo,	a horse.
LL	" Y;	"	pollo,	"	poyo,	a bench.
N	" M;	"	onbro,	"	hombro,	a shoulder

H is used in words that have it not, and is omitted in others that have it: as, handan instead of andan, (they walk;) él iso for él hizo, (he made;) ollo for hoyo, (a hole.) J is sometimes used instead of h; as, él se juió for él se huyó, (he ran away.) In the terminations ado and ido they generally suppress the d, both in writing and pronouncing, and say, un bestio coloráo for un vestido colorado, (a red dress.) The first e, in the verbs of the first conjugation, that double that letter, as pasear, (to walk,) is sounded, and even written i; thus, yo me pasié toa la tarde instead of yo me paseé toda la tarde, (I walked all the afternoon;) diendo for yendo, (going,) &c.

Vallejo, Palomares, and other Spanish authors, may be consulted on the subject.

DOUBLE LETTERS.

In simple words, e, i, c, r, are the only letters that may be written double.

E is double in the verbs of the first conjugation, when it is the last of their radical letters, and the termination begins with e; as, pasear, (to walk.) The radical letters are pase. The termination of the first person singular of the preterit is e—paseé, (I did walk.)

I is double in the superlative degree of the monosyllables ending in io ; as, frío, (cold ; ) frísimo, (very cold.)

C is double only before e or i, and is pronounced with both syllables ; as, acceder, (to accede ; ) accidente, (accident.)

Remark.—Almost all words ending in English in ction, and their derivatives, change the t into c, and become Spanish ; as, diction, (diccion ; ) dictionary, (diccionario.)

R is written double in the middle of words, between two vowels, to point out its harsh sound ; as, carro, (a cart ; ) córro, (I run,) &c., to distinguish them from cara, (dear ; ) coro, (choir,) &c. (See R.)

In compound words all the vowels, and also n and s, are written double, whenever any of them are the last of the component and the first of the word to be compounded ; as, contraabertura, (a counter-opening ; ) preeminente, (pre-eminent ; ) amandoos, (ye loving each other ; ) dannos, (they give us ; ) dámossekos, (we give them to him.)

DIVISION OF SYLLABLES.

Vowels forming a diphthong or triphthong must not be separated ; as, gra-o-to-so, pre-cia-is, and not gra-ci-os-o, pre-ci-a-is.

A single consonant between two vowels must be joined to the vowel after it ; except x, that must be left with the preceding ; as, bue-no, flo-res, me-lo-co-to-ne-ro, ex-á-men. LL, being considered a single letter, follows the same rule, which is also the case with ch ; as, ca-ba-lle-ro, mu-cha-cho.

Two consonants between two vowels are divided by placing one to each syllable ; as, car-ga-men-to, en-ter-ne-ci-mien-to. Except if the first of them be an f, or any of the mute letters, followed by l or r, for then both are joined to the second syllable ; as, a-flic-cion, ha-blan-chin, co-bre.

When three consonants come between two vowels, the first two of them belong to the first syllable, if the second of said consonants be s, and the third to the second syllable ; as, cons-ti-tu-ci-ón, ins-pi-rar. But if the second letter be f, or any of the mute letters, followed by l or r, one belongs to the first, and the other two to the second syllable ; as, con-flic-to, an-cla.

Four consonants between two vowels are equally divided ; as, abs-trac-cion.

Compound words are to be divided into their component parts ; as, des-or-de-nar. But should the simple word in its Latin origin begin with s, followed by a consonant, the s is to be placed with the preceding syllable ; as, ins-tru-ir.

PUNCTUATION.

The notes used in Spanish for punctuation are the same as in English. A difference, however, is to be observed in the points of exclamation and interrogation, which in long sentences are placed upside down at the beginning of them, in order that the reader may calculate, and apply the proper emphasis and tone of voice; as—

{ ; Como no! respondió Sancho. { Por ventura el que
 { ; Coh-moh noh! res-pon-deeoh' San-tchoh. { Por ven-toor-rah ell kay
 { ayer manteáron era otro que el hijo de mi padre?
 { ah-jer man-tay-ar-on er-ah oh-troh kay ell es-hoh day me pok-dray?
 { ; y las alforjas que hoy me faltan son de otro que de él
 { ; ee lass al-for-hass kay oh-ee may fal-tan son day oh-troh kay day ell { mismo? Que! ; Te faltan las alforjas, Sancho?
 { miss-moh? Kay! ; Tay faltan lass al-for-hass, San-tchoh?

DON QUIJOTE, Cap. xviii., part 1

Translation.—How now! answered Sancho. Mayhap, then, they whom they tossed up in the blanket yesterday was not the son of my father? and did the saddle-bags that are lost to-day belong to some other person? How! Hast thou lost the saddle-bags, Sancho?

N. B. No apostrophe is used in Spanish. It is found, however, in very old books, and particularly in poetry; at present it is entirely expunged. Formerly it was also customary to suppress the e of words beginning with that letter, when they came after the preposition de, joining both words in one; thus, dél, deste, dellos, &c., instead of de él, de este, &c

ACCENT.

The Spanish vowels have always the same unvaried sound, whether they be at the beginning, in the midst, or at the end of a word. They, in all situations, must be fully and distinctly pronounced. The only difference to be observed in them, is the time requisite in their pronunciation. This time is called accent.

An accent is that peculiar stress of the voice laid on a vowel of a syllable, in consequence of which it is more distinctly and forcibly pronounced than the other vowels of the same word. Hence the vowels are called long or short.

A vowel is termed long when it requires a peculiar stress of the voice to be laid upon it; dwelling, consequently, on it a longer time than on any other vowel of the same word; as e in the first syllable of reverence, which is distinguished from the other two e's by the time spent in pronouncing it. The latter are therefore called short, because the stress of the voice is not laid on them, they being pronounced rapidly.

The following English words will elucidate this explanation.

No. 1. An abstract,	an accent,	the torment,	the conduct.
No. 2. To abstract,	to accept,	to torment,	to conduct.

The words in line No. 1 have the accent on the first syllable, and those at No. 2 on the last. Consequently it is said of the former, that they have the first syllable long, and the second short; and of the latter, that their first syllable is short, and the second long.

The little line, or mark set over a vowel, to point out that it must be pronounced long, is also called an accent. In the Spanish language the only accent used at present is that styled the acute (') In old books there is found also the circumflex, to indicate that the ch preceding the vowel marked with it must be pronounced as c (k) before a, o, or u, and as qu before e or i; and that x is to be sounded as cs; as, archâgel, Achîles, próximo, which at present are written arcángel, (ar-can'-hell), Aquiles, (ah-key-less), próximo, (prok-see-moh.)

The vowels á, é, ó, ú, when used as prepositions or conjunctions, are always accented; as, ama á tu prójimo, sabios é ignorantes, grandes ó pequeños. The accent is never placed over y. But in printing (dictionaries excepted) the capitals are seldom accented; and in manuscript are almost always unaccented.

Monosyllables of more than one signification are accented on that syllable in which the vowel is pronounced longer; as—

Tú , thou.	Tu , thy.	Sí , himself, &c.	Si , if.
Él , he.	El , the.	Dé , give you.	De , of.
Mí , me.	Mi , my.	Té , tea.	Te , thea.
Sé , I know.	Se , himself, &c.	&c.	&c.

THE USE OF THE ACCENT.

Nouns ending in a vowel have, for the most part, the penultimate, or last syllable but one, long, and consequently they do not require the mark or accent to point it out; as, público, hábito; but if the stress of the voice is to be laid on any other syllable, it must be indicated by placing the accent upon such syllable; thus, público, public; publico, I publish; publicó, he published; hábito, a habit; habito, I inhabit; habitó, he inhabited.

WORDS FOR EXERCISE.

Animo,	calculo,	intimo,	participe,	numero.
Capitulo,	domestico,	limite,	practico,	titulo.
Celebre,	ejercito,	cantara,	termino,	vario.

But if to a person of a verb ending in an accented vowel the case of a pronoun be added, the accent must be retained, although it fall on the penultimate; as, pagó, he paid; pagóle, he paid him.

Words ending in a consonant have, generally, the last syllable long, and do not require the mark of the accent; as, caridad, animal, capitan, fapor, interes, lobreguez. But should the accent be on any other syllable it must be marked; as, órden, iris, mártir, carácter, caractéres, (pl.)

Exception 1.—The plurals of nouns and adjectives, which, though they terminate in s, retain the accent they have in the singular; as, padres, amorousos, capitanes, from padre, amoroso, &c.

Exception 2.—Family names in ez or iz that generally have their penultimate syllable long; as, Fernandez, Armendariz.

Exception 3.—The persons of the verbs ending in s or n in which the penultimate is pronounced long ; as, miraras, entraran. When the stress of the voice is to be laid upon any other syllable, it is accented ; as, mirarás, entrarán, pasáramos.

READING-LESSONS.

☐ The learner is reminded to pronounce the vowels in the following lessons as set forth in page 402, to wit : a ah, e ay, i ee, o oh, u oo : to sound the syllables al and ad as they are sounded in the English words alcana, comical, lad ; and to lisp the th, as in theft, thin, path, tenth, &c.

The English words in the third line are intended rather as a vocabulary than as a translation.

N. B. A — under a word indicates that it must not be translated.

Therefore it must not be considered as a pattern of the Spanish style of writing.

--	--	--	--------------------------

J. M. J., at the beginning of writings of religious persons; means Jesus, Maria, José.

The Jesuits always begin and finish their letters and other writings with Jhs, which means and is read Jesus.

<sup>1</sup> An s is added to these abbreviations when more than one person is addressed; and then they stand for vuestras mercedes, vuestras mercedes or ustedes, in the plural. At present the word usted and its plural are expressed by a V. or VV.

ETYMOLOGY.

THERE are in Spanish nine sorts of words, or, as they are commonly called, Parts of Speech; namely, the ARTICLE, the NOUN, the PRONOUN, the VERB, the PARTICIPLE, the ADVERB, the PREPOSITION, the CONJUNCTION, and the INTERJECTION.

The meaning of a word must be first ascertained, in order to classify it. Example:—Claro, clear. Ese claro (a substantive) es muy pequeño, that skylight is very small. Un día claro, (an adjective,) a clear day. El no habla claro, (an adverb,) he does not speak plain.

Take notice, that henceforth the numbers placed thus (1) after a word or at the end of a sentence or a paragraph, refer to the page which the learner must consult in the preceding Method.

ARTICLE.

There are two articles: the Indefinite and the Definite.

INDEFINITE ARTICLE.

Masculine Sing.	A or an.	Un , (38.)	Plur.	Some.	Unos or algunos
Feminine	" " "	Una , (162.)	"	"	Unas or algunas

DEFINITE ARTICLE.

Masculine Sing.	The.	El , (9.)	Plur.	The.	Los , (26.)
Feminine	" "	La , (159.)	"	"	Las , (159.)

When the masculine definite article el comes after the preposition á (to) or de, (of, from,) the e is suppressed, and the two words are written as one; thus, al, del, instead of á el, de el. The pronoun él (he, it) is distinguished by the accent, and it is always written separately from the said prepositions; thus á él, de él.

Obs. El, los, (34.) la, las, are articles when they are before a noun, to point out how far its signification extends; but they are pronouns when él is the subject of a verb, or comes after a preposition; and la, (her, it,) los, (as, them,) are governed by a verb; as—

The bed of Don Quixote was foremost, and next to it Sancho made his. | El lecho de Don Quijote estaba primero, y luego junto á él hizo Sancho el suyo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xvi. pt. i.

NOUNS

NOUNS are either SUBSTANTIVE or ADJECTIVE.

Nouns Substantive have Persons, Numbers, Genders, and Cases.

PERSONS.

There are three persons: namely, the speaker, who is called the first person; the person spoken to, who is styled the second person and the person or thing spoken of, which is said to be the third person: as—

Make haste, son Sancho, (second person,) and tell (second person) that Lady of the hawk, (third person,) that I, the knight of the lions, (first person,) send my respects to her exceeding beauty.	Corre, hijo Sancho, y di á aquella señora del azor, que yo, el caballero de los leones, beso las manos á su gran hermosa. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxx. pt. ii

The speaker seldom refers to himself by name.

When brutes, or inanimate objects, stand as speakers or persons spoken to, they are said to be personified; as—

Oh Jars of Toboso, which have recalled to my mind the dear object of my greatest sorrow!	¡O tobosescas Tinajas, que me habeis traído á la memoria la dulce prenda de mi mayor amargura! DON QUIJOTE, cap. xviii. pt. ii
---	--

There are two numbers, the Singular and the Plural. (LESS. IX. p. 26.)

RULE 1. Nouns ending in a short vowel, that is to say, a vowel having no accent over it, form their plural by adding s to the singular; as, head, cabeza, heads, cabezas; eye, ojo, eyes, ojos.

RULE 2. Nouns terminating in a long vowel, that is to say, a vowel having an accent over it; or in any consonant, or in y, add es to the singular; as, ruby, rubí, rubies, rubies; lion, leon, lions, leones; law, ley, laws, leyes. Except papá, mamá, pié, &c. Maravedí, the smallest Spanish brass coin, has three plurals, maravedíes, maravedis, maravedises. Nouns terminating in z change it into c, or retain it and add es to form the plural; as, cross, cruz, crosses, cruces, or cruzes.

RULE 3. Nouns of two syllables ending in s, being accented on the penultimate, admit of no change for the plural, and distinguish it by means of the article; thus, Monday, lunes, Mondays, los lunes:—

He had lentils on Fridays, and an addition of a pigeon on Sundays.	El tenía lentejas los viérnes, y algun palomino de añadidura los domingos. DON QUIJOTE. cap. i. pt. i.
---	--

The same is to be observed with nouns compound of a verb, and a noun plural; as, the penknife, el cortaplumas, the penknives, los cortaplumas.

There are some nouns with a plural termination without reference to any singular; as,

Alfileres, ladies' pinmoney. Esposas, handcuffs. Grillos, fetters.	Albricias, a present for good news. Alicates, pincers. Preces, prayers, &amp;c.

Zelo, (zeal,) has no plural, Zelos, (jealousy,) has no singular.

Don and Doña, as Spanish titles for a gentleman or lady, are not used in the plural; and in conformity with the present custom they are placed only before prenomens, or baptismal names; as, Messrs. Nicholas and Leandro F. Moratin, Don Nicolas y Don Leandro Fernandez de Moratin. Mr. Capmany, el Señor Capmany, and not Don Capmany.

GENDER.

There are two genders, the masculine and the feminine.

Every he, or male animal, is of the masculine gender; as, boy, muchacho; lion, leon. Every she, or female animal, is of the feminine gender; as, girl, muchacha; lioness, leona.

The collective nouns gente, people; turba, terpa, crowd; multitud, multitude; plebe, common people; juventud, youth, vejez, old age; asamblea, assembly; ave, bird; bestia, beast, &c., require the articles, the adjectives, and the pronouns that agree with or refer to them, to be of the feminine gender; as—

The coach must belong to some travelling people.	El coche debe de ser de alguna gente pasajera.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. viii. pt. i.

Nouns signifying dignities, offices, trades, professions, &c., proper to men, are masculine; and those proper to women, feminine.

REMARK. There are some nouns of animals which custom<sup>1</sup> has made to express both genders, under either the masculine or feminine termination, preceded by the corresponding article. Nouns of this description are called in the grammatical language epicenos, epicene. Such are the following:—

MASCULINE.		FEMININE.
El avestruz ,	the ostrich.	La ardilla ,	the squirrel.
El buitre ,	the vulture.	La becada ,	the woodcock.
El cisne ,	the swan.	La calandria ,	the lark.
El cuervo ,	the crow.	La grulla ,	the crane.
El gilguero ,	the goldfinch.	La perdiz ,	the partridge.
El ruiseñor ,	the nightingale.	La tortuga ,	the turtle.

The rest of these nouns will be found in the dictionary.

The word macho, male, or hembra, female, with the corresponding article, is prefixed to any noun of this kind when it is necessary to distinguish the sex; as, the partridge, la perdiz—the male, or he partridge, el macho de la perdiz; the sparrow, el gorrión—the female, or she sparrow, la hembra del gorrión.

Obs. A. The pronouns he or she, and the nouns male and female, are not translated into Spanish when the gender may be distinguished by changing the termination of the noun masculine; as,

A wolf,	un lobo .	A she wolf,	una loba .
A male servant,	un criado .	A female servant,	una criada .

RULES TO FORM THE FEMININE OF COMMON NOUNS OF ANIMATE BEINGS.

RULE 1. Common substantives ending in o, and the most part of those in e, change the o or e into a to form the feminine ; as,

Son,	hijo.	Daughter,	hija.
Brother,	hermano.	Sister,	hermana.
A male relative,	pariente.	A female relative,	parienta.

Except testigo, (witness,) that admits of no change, and distinguishes the gender by the article ; thus, el, or la testigo.

Obs. B. The feminine nouns formed out of the substantives signifying dignity, trade, &c., mean not only the female who enjoys the dignity, or follows the same trade or profession, but most frequently the wife, and even the daughter of the person that has the dignity, or follows the trade, &c. ; as,

Superiora ,	a female superior.	Confitero ,	confectioner.
Capitana ,	a captain's wife.	Confitera .

Confitera, may signify a female confectioner, or a confectioner's wife or daughter.

RULE 2. Most of the common nouns ending in an and on, add an a for the feminine ; as,

Capitan ,	captain.	Capitana ,	a female commander.
Patron ,	patron.	Patrona ,	a patroness.
Pastor ,	shepherd.	Pastora ,	a shepherdess.

RULE 3. National nouns, that is, nouns that express the nation or country of persons, or where the thing is produced, or comes from, whether they be substantive or adjective, if they terminate in o, change it into a ; and if they end in a consonant, add an a to form the feminine ; as,

Americano, Americana, American. | Español, Española, Spaniard.

RULE 4. Common substantives ending in a, and most of those terminating in en or ir, admit of no change, and distinguish the gender by the articles—(Obs. D, 162 ;) as,

Un pensionista ,	a pensioner.	El mártir ,	the martyr.
Una pensionista ,	"	La mártir ,	the female martyr.

RULE 5. Almost all words compound of the substantives man or woman, and an adjective, distinguish their gender, in Spanish, by prefixing to them the corresponding article and omitting said substantives ; as,

Un joven ,	a young man.	Una joven ,	a young woman.
Los Ingleses ,	the Englishmen.	Las Inglesas ,	the English women.

Man and woman are translated when a particular emphasis is placed on them.

Obs. C. Many of the nouns compound of said substantives, or of an adjective, are translated in Spanish by a single word, to be found in the dictionary, in the masculine gender, out of which the feminine may be formed in conformity with the foregoing rules ; as,

El lechero ,	the milkman.	La lechera ,	the milk-woman.
Un naranjero ,	an orange-man.	Una naranjera ,	an orange-woman.

RULE 6 Some nouns express their gender by different terminations (See Lesson LVI., page 246.)

RULE 7. Some nouns distinguish their gender by different words. (See Lesson LVI., page 247.)

GENDER OF NOUNS NEUTER IN ENGLISH.

The nouns that are neuter in English are masculine or feminine in Spanish, according to their signification or their termination.

BY THE SIGNIFICATION.

Arte, canal, capital, corte, dote, frente, guardia, órden, mar, &c., are masculine or feminine according to their meaning, to wit:

Arte, (art.) in the singular, may be used in either gender; in the plural, only in the feminine. Should arte be qualified by an adjective, the latter agrees with it in the feminine termination; as,

El delicado gusto de V. en el arte rítmica.	Your fine taste in the rhymic art. MORATIN, Comedia Nueva.
--	--

Mar, (sea,) when it is alone, may be used in either gender. When it is accompanied by the adjectives Mediterranean, White, Red, &c., it is masculine; as, el or la mar; el mar Rojo. With other adjectives it is generally feminine: la mar estaba algo mas sosegada, (CERVANTES.) However, the use is not fixed.

Orden (order) is masculine when it signifies arrangement. or refers to architecture; as,

All was in good order.	Todo estaba en buen órden.
The edifice is of the Ionic order.	El edificio es del órden Jónico.

Orden, signifying command, or a religious or military institution, is feminine; as,

I received your order.	Yo recibí la órden de V.
Two friars of the order of St. Benedict.	Dos frailes de la órden de San Benito. CERVANTES.

Dueño, (master, owner, lord, mistress, lady,) in a figurative sense, is used only in the masculine termination for both sexes; as,

From that instant I made her mistress of my heart.	Desde aquel instante la hice dueño (señora) de mi corazón. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlv. pt. i.

MASCULINE.

Frente, the front.

FEMININE.

Capital, the chief city of a country.

MASCULINE.	FEMININE.
Guardia , a soldier of the king's guard.	Guardia , a guard, a body of soldiers
Márgen , the margin of a book, &c.	Márgen , the bank of a river
Parte , a report, information.	Parte , the part of a whole.
&c., &c.	&c., &c.

Albalá, a permit, or certificate of a custom-house, (little used;) anatema, anathema; azúcar, sugar; cisma, schism; cúts, the fine skin; emblema, emblem; punte, bridge; tribu, tribe, &c., may be used as masculine or feminine.

BY THE TERMINATION.

Obs. D The proper names of kingdoms, provinces, cities, &c., when they stand alone, are generally of the gender of their termination; as, España está casi aislada del resto del continente | Spain is almost insulated from the rest of the continent.

But when they are qualified by common nouns of different terminations, they agree with them accordingly; as,

Toledo es una antigua ciudad.	Toledo is an ancient city
Sevilla fué un reino poderoso.	Seville was a powerful kingdom.

The following general rules are subject to many exceptions, of which only the most usual are pointed out.

RULE 1.—Nouns ending in a are feminine, (162.)

Except most of those derived from the Greek; as,

Antipoda.	antipode.		Clima,	climate, &c.
------------------	-----------	--	---------------	--------------

And also the following:—

Dia,	day.		Guarda-costa,	custom-house cutter
Mapa,	map.		Paragua,	umbrella.
Idioma,	idiom.		Viva,	huzza.
Poema,	poem.		&c.	&c.

RULE 2.—Nouns ending in d or ad are feminine. Except—

Ardid,	stratagem.		Sud,	south.
Césped,	turf.		&c.	&c.

N. B.—A great many of the words ending in English in ty may be translated into Spanish by changing it into dad; as—

Activity,	actividad.		Veracity,	veracidad.
-----------	-------------------	--	-----------	-------------------

RULE 3.—Nouns ending in e, i, o, or u, are masculine Except—

Calle,	street.		Noche,	night.
Carne,	flesh, meat.		Tarde,	afternoon.
Clase,	class.		Llave,	key.
Especie,	species.		Leche,	milk.
Suerte,	chance.		Nieve,	snow.
Hambre,	hunger.		Nave, nao,	vessel.
Costumbre,	custom.		Mano,	hand.
Mente,	mind.		&c.	&c.

RULE 4.—Nouns ending in l, n, on, r, s, or z, are masculine. Except—

Miel,	honey.	Luz,	light.
Col,	cabbage.	Flor,	flower
Imágen,	image.	Nariz,	nose.
Razon,	reason.	Niñez,	childhood.
Voz,	voice.	Vejez	old age
Tos,	cough.	Nuez,	nut.
Cruz,	cross.	Paz,	peace.
&c.	&c.	&c.	&c.

RULE 5.—Nouns ending in ion are feminine. Except—

Sarampion,	measles.	Turbion,	shower.
Bastion,	bastion.	&c.	&c.

CASES.

There are three cases: the Subject, or nominative case; the Object, or the direct objective case; and the Complement, or the indirect objective case, (69.) The object is the accusative in Latin; and the complement answers to the dative, or any of the oblique cases, except the vocative, which in Spanish is a subject absolute.

When two pronouns, object and complement, come together in a sentence, the complement is always set before the object. When they are governed by a verb in the infinitive, or in the imperative mood, they are placed after it, and written so as to form one word with it; as—

He promised to send them to me. | El prometió enviármelos.

In cases where the stress of the voice is on the last syllable of the verb, it is preserved on the same syllable; which, on account of changing its place, requires the mark of the accent; thus, dan, danme, dánmelos, they give them to me.

REMARK.—When the object of a transitive verb is the noun of a rational being, or a proper noun, or a thing personified, it must be preceded by the preposition á, (which in that case being an idiom,<sup>1</sup> is not translated into English;) but the preposition is not required in other cases.

The surgeon cured the wounded woman.	El cirujano curó á la mujer herida.
The surgeon dressed the woman's wound.	El cirujano vendó la herida de lo mujer.
There is a God in heaven, who takes care to chastise the wicked, and to reward the righteous.	Dios hay en el cielo que no se descuida de castigar al malo, y de premiar al bueno.
His impatience killed Chrysostom.	DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxii. pt. i. Su impaciencia mató á Crisóstomo. Ditto, cap. xiv. pt. i.

It was known there that Signor Don Juan had taken Tunez.	Se supo en ella que el Señor Don Juan habia tomado á Tunez.
We must, in slaying giants, kill pride	DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix. pt. i. Nosotros hemos de matar en los gigantes á la soberbia. Ditto, ditto

ADJECTIVES

Adjectives have persons, cases, numbers, and genders; they admit, besides, several degrees of signification.

The person and case of the adjectives are the same as those of the nouns or pronouns which they qualify; as,

Art thou come to rejoice at the cruel exploits of thy character, and behold, like another merciless Nero, the flames of his burning Rome?	¿ Vienes á ufanarte en las crueles hazañas de tu condicion, ó ver, como otro desapiadado Nero, el incendio de su abrasada Roma? DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv. pt. i.

The plural number of the adjectives is formed by the same rules laid down for the substantives, (26,) as,

White.	Blanco, blancos; blanca, blancas.
Crimson.	Carmesi, carmesies.
Natural.	Natural, naturales.
Prudent.	Prudente, prudentes.
Happy.	Feliz, felices, or felizes, (78.)

GENDERS.

RULE 1. Adjectives ending in o are of the masculine gender, and change the o into a to form the feminine; as, fine, fino, fina, (161.)

RULE 2. Most of the adjectives ending in an, on, or, add an a for the feminine; as,

Haragan, haragana,	idle.	Griton, gritona,	clamorous.
---------------------------	-------	-------------------------	------------

RULE 3. Adjectives ending in any other letter are common to both genders; as,

A prudent man.	Un hombre prudente.
A prudent woman.	Una mujer prudente.
A Persian story.	Un cuento persa.
A Persian anecdote.	Una anecdota persa, (161)

RULE 4. National adjectives ending in a consonant, add an a to form the feminine; as,

A Spaniard.	Un Español.
A Spanish lady.	Una señora española.
Spanish gold.	Oro español.
Spanish silver.	Plata española.

DEGREES OF SIGNIFICATION OR COMPARISON.

The comparative of superiority is formed by translating more, MAS, than QUE; as,

Honor is more precious than riches. | El honor es mas precioso que las riquezas. (108-9.)

When the comparative in English is formed by the addition of the termination er, as fairer, it must be translated as if written more fair; thus,

He is richer (more rich) than his brother. | El es mas rico que su hermano.

The comparative of inferiority is formed by translating literally the adverbs less, MÉNOS, than, QUE; as,

Silver is less useful than iron. | La plata es ménos útil que el hierro.

It may also be expressed negatively; as,

Silver is not so useful as iron. | La plata no es tan útil como el hierro.

More — than, less — than, before a noun signifying quantity or number, are rendered by mas de, ménos de; as,

They spent more than five hundred dollars. | Ellos gastaron mas de quinientos pesos.

He gains less than what he says. | El gana ménos de lo que dice.

More than, less than, preceded by no, may be translated mas que; as,

He earns no more than twelve shillings a day. | El no gana mas que doce reales al dia.

The comparative of equality is formed by translating the adverbs as or so, TAN, before the adjective, and the second adverb as, como; as,

She is as tall as a spear, and as fresh as an April morning. | Ella es tan grande como una lanza, y tan fresca como una mañana de Abril.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiii. pt. ii.

It may also be expressed by not less — than; as,

He was from the coast of St. Lucar, not less of a thief than Cacus, and not less mischievous than a student or a page. | El era de la playa de San Lúcar, no ménos ladrón que Caco, ni ménos maleante que estudiante, ó page. Ditto, cap. ii. pt. i.

COMPARATIVES WITH NOUNS AND VERBS, (108-9.)

As much, { with reference to a } tanto, (masculine,) } as, como.
So much, { substantive sing. } tanta, (feminine,) }

As many, { with reference to a } tantos, (masculine,) } as, como.
          { substantive plur. } tantas, (feminine,) }

Not so much,      no tanto, (mas.) no tanta, (fem.)      as, como.

Not so many,     no tantos, (mas.) no tantas, (fem.)      as, como.

He has as much honor , and as much instruction as his competitor; but he has neither so many years of service, nor has given so many proofs of his practical knowledge.	El tiene tanto honor, y tanta instruccion, como su competidor; pero él no tiene tantos años de servicio, ni ha dado tantas pruebas de sus conocimientos prácticos.
---	---

So as is rendered by de modo que, de suerte que, de manera que ; as— Do (you) it, so as to please him.	Hágalo V. de modo que él quede contento.
---	---

As much — as, as many — as, with reference to a noun, are translated by tanto or tanta — como, cuanto, or cuanta, according to the gender and number of the noun they refer to; as—

He spends as much money as he receives. As for dolls, Anastasia has as many as she wants. You have here as much as you want.	El gasta tanto dinero como, or cuanto recibe. En cuanto á muñecas, Anastasia tiene tantas cuantas quiere. Usted tiene aquí cuanto (or tanto cuanto) ha menester.
---	---

As much, or so much, with reference to a verbal adjective, is translated tan—como; as,

They are as much interested as you.	Ellos estan tan interesados como V.

When the second as, in this kind of phrases is followed by a verb in the present of the infinitive mood, it must be translated que, and the verb in the indicative mood; as,

She is so charitable as to deprive herself even of the most necessary things to give them to the poor.	Ella es tan caritativa que se priva aun de las cosas mas necesarias para darlas á los pobres.
---	--

The most—the least, (109,) with reference to verbs, must be translated only by mas or ménos, omitting the article the; as,

He is the man they praise the most. Such is the person they oppose the least.	El es el hombre que ellos mas alaban. Tal es la persona á quien menos se oponen.
--	---

Obs. When the adjective in the comparative degree, in English, (whether it be formed through the adverbs more or less, or through the affixes r or er,) is preceded by the definite article the, and the same article (the) is repeated in the second part of the sentence, before an adjective in the comparative degree; the article the is omitted in both parts, and cuan-to is used instead of it in the first, and tanto in the second part of it; as,

The shorter (more short) time is, the more precious it is. CUANTO	mas breve el tiempo es, TANTO mas precioso él es.

The more, or the less, (110,) repeated in the same sentence with reference to a verb, must also be translated cuan-to mas or ménos, tanto mas or ménos; as,

Now there is no doubt that this exercise exceeds all others, and that it ought to be the more esteemed, because it is the more exposed to danger.

Ahora no hay que dudar sino que este ejercicio excede á todos los otros, y tanto mas se ha de tener en estima, cuanto á mas peligros está expuesto.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvii. pt. i.

The more, the less, may be also rendered by miéntras mas or ménos; as,
The more he plays, the less he learns.

Miéntras mas juega, ménos aprende, or tanto ménos aprende.

When the more and the least relate to a noun, cuanto and tanto change their number and gender so as to agree with it; as,

The more pride he shows, the more enemies he makes.

Cuanta mas soberbia muestra él, tantos mas enemigos se hace.

Tanto may be omitted in the second part of the sentence; as,

The more he has, the more he wants.

Cuanto mas tiene, mas quiere, or tanto mas quiere.

So or such — as, followed by a verb in the infinitive mood, is rendered by tan — que, placing the verb in the same tense as the one that precedes it in the same sentence as,

His friend's failure was so unexpected, as to oblige him to stop his business.

La quiebra de su amigo fué tan inesperada, que le obligó á suspender sus negocios.

SUPERLATIVE.

The Superlative is absolute or relative.

The superlative absolute (110) is formed by prefixing the adverb muy (very) to the adjective; as—

Fair.

Hermoso, hermosa.

Very fair, fairest.

Muy hermoso, muy hermosa.

It is also formed by adding the termination ísimo to the adjective, which drops the last letter, if it be o or e; as—

Very fair, most fair, fairest.

Merry.

Alegre.

Very merry, most merry, merriest.

Useful.

Útil.

Very useful, most useful.

Utilísimo, utilísima.

Adjectives terminating in	{	ble	change	ble	into	bil ; as, amable, amabilísimo.
		co	"	co	"	qu ; " rico, riquísimo.
		go	"	go	"	gu ; " largo, larguísimo.
		x	"	x	"	c ; " feliz, felicísimo.

The most part of the dissyllables in io, double the i; as—

Pío, pious.

Piísimo, most pious.

Adjectives in iente, drop the i; as—

Valiente, valiant.

Valentísimo, most valiant.

The adjective in the superlative degree, in English, whether formed by the terminations st or est, or by the adverbs most or least, being preceded by the article the, (which constitutes it a superlative relative,) must be translated by the definite article, and the adverbs mas or ménos, according to the gender and number of the substantive it refers to; as—

He has the finest broadcloth, but they want the least expensive. | El tiene el paño mas fino, pero ellos quieren el ménos costoso.

N. B.—The adverbs mas or ménos must always be placed immediately before the adjective; thus—

The most innocent pleasures are always the most pure. | Los placeres mas inocentes son siempre los mas puros, or los mas inocentes placeres, &c., but not los mas placeres inocentes.

An adjective in the superlative degree, in English, preceded by the definite article the, taken substantively, must be translated by the superlative formed by the termination ísimo; as,

The Highest (or the Most High) ordered it so. | El Altísimo lo dispuso así.

An adjective in the superlative degree, preceded by the article, being used with a reference to a verb, or a sentence, must be translated by using the pronoun lo instead of the article, and placing the adjective in the comparative degree; as,

The best that he can do, is to pay immediately. | Lo mejor que puede hacer, es pagar inmediatamente.

NOUNS OF NUMBER.

CARDINAL NUMBERS.

One.	Uno, m	Una, f	Eleven.	Once
Two.	Dos.<sup>1</sup>		Twelve.	Doce.
Three.	Tres.		Thirteen.	Trece
Four	Cuatro.		Fourteen	Catorce.
Five	Cinco.		Fifteen.	Quince.
Six.	Seis.		Sixteen.	Diez y seis.
Seven.	Siete.		Seventeen.	Diez y siete.
Eight.	Ocho.		Eighteen.	Diez y ocho.
Nine	Nueve.		Nineteen.	Diez y nueve.
Ten.	Diez.		Twenty.	VEINTE.

<sup>1</sup> From dos, (two,) up to ciento, (hundred,) inclusively, the numbers are plural, and common to both genders; as—

Three men, tres hombres. | Four women, cuatro mujeres.

Twenty-one	Veintiuno.	Sixty.	SESENTA.
Twenty-two.	Veintidos.	Seventy.	SETENTA.
Twenty-three	Veintitres.	Eighty.	OCHENTA.
Twenty-four.	Veinticuatro	Ninety.	NOVENTA.
Twenty-five.	Veinticinco	A or one hundred	CIENTO.
Twenty-six.	Veintiseis.	Two hundred.	Doscientos.<sup>1</sup>
Twenty-seven.	Veintisiete.	Three hundred.	Trescientos.
Twenty-eight.	Veintiocho.	Four hundred.	Cuatrocientos
Twenty-nine.	Veintinueve.	Five hundred.	Quinientos.
Thirty.	TREINTA.	Six hundred.	Seiscientos.
Thirty-one.	Treinta y uno.	Seven hundred.	Seiscientos
Thirty-two, &c.	Treinta y dos.	Eight hundred.	Ochocientos.
Forty.	CUARENTA.	Nine hundred.	Novcientos.
Fifty.	CINCUNTA.	A or one thousand.	MIL.<sup>2</sup>

One thousand and one.

Mil y uno.

One thousand and eleven.

Mil y once.

One thousand one hundred and one.

Mil, ciento y uno.

One thousand five hundred.

Mil y quinientos.

Two thousand.

Dos mil.

Five hundred thousand.

Quinientos mil.

A Million.

MILLON, (cuento.)

Two numbers coming together in an inverted order in English, are translated by placing the highest in the first place; thus,

Three and thirty.

| Treinta y tres.

Eleven hundred, fifteen hundred, and the like expressions, are always translated one thousand one hundred, one thousand five hundred, &c.; thus, mil y ciento, mil y quinientos, and not once cientos, &c.

The cardinal numbers are used instead of the ordinal in speaking of the days of the month, excepting the first; as,

The fourth of July.

| El cuatro de Julio.

The first of May.

| El primero de Mayo.

(See Obs. A, p. 46.)

The words o'clock (65, Obs. B,) are omitted in reference to the hours of the day, which are expressed by the cardinal numbers, preceded by the article las or la with reference to una, one; as,

<sup>2</sup> Mil has neither gender nor number; but it may be used in the plural, speaking, as in English, in a vague sense; as—

In that railroad many thousands have been spent.

| En ese Ferro-carril se han gastado muchos miles.

What time is it ?
It is one o'clock.
It is two o'clock

| ¿ Que hora es ?
| Es la una.
| Son las dos.

ORDINAL NUMBERS.

First, primero, | Second, segundo, &c. (46.)

Ordinal numbers change o into a for the feminine, and admit the same variation of numbers as the adjectives.

Obs. The adjectives uno, one, primero, first, (46,) alguno, some, ninguno, none, bueno, good, malo, bad, postrero, (little used,) last, drop the o when they are immediately followed by a substantive alone, or preceded by an adjective in the singular. Ciento, hundred, loses the last syllable before nouns of either gender, (Obs. A, p. 139.) Grande, great, generally loses the last syllable when it is not applied to size ; as, el Gran Capitan, (Obs. C, p. 97.) Santo, saint, also drops the last syllable before nouns masculine in the singular, except Domingo, Tomas, &c.

The ordinal numbers are used in speaking of the chronological order of kings, &c., but the article is suppressed ; as,

AUGMENTATIVE AND DIMINUTIVE NOUNS. (31-2.)

REMARK. Many of the nouns signifying relationship, as sister, hermana, as well as the baptismal, and even family names, such as Luis, Catalina, Rivero, Gonzalez, are used, in colloquial and familiar style, with the terminations ito or ita ; but for the most part they are not diminutive nouns, for they have no reference to the size, beauty, age, or moral qualities of the persons. They are, properly, endearing words, that express affection, friendship, or regard. Therefore, hermanita, Luisito, Catalinita, Riverito, or Riverita, Gonzalitos, do not signify precisely little sister, but rather a beloved sister, esteemed Luis, dear Catalina, friend Gonzalez.

These names are not always regularly formed by the addition of ito or ita ; they frequently have other terminations, and are even changed into other odd words.

EXAMPLES. From MARIA, (Mary or Maria,) are derived Mariquita, Mariquilla, Maruca, Muruja. From MARIA DE LA CONCEPCION, Concepcion, Concha, Conchita, Chona, Cota, Cotita. From MARIA DE JESUS, Jesusa, Jesusita, Chucha, Chuchita. From FRANCISCO, (Francis,) Francisquito, Frazco, Frazquito, Paco, Paquito, Pacorro, Pancho, Panchito, Curro, Currito, &c. FRANCISCA (Frances) changes the o of the above names into a

PRONOUNS.

Pronouns are divided into personal, possessive, relative, interrogative, demonstrative, and indefinite.

The personal pronouns are, singular—I, yo, thou, tú, you, (your honor or worship,) usted, he, él, she, ella, it, él, ella, ello, or lo. Plural—we, vosotros or nosotros, you, vosotros, vosotras, or vos, you, (your honors or worships,) ustedes, they, ellos, ellas. (See table of personal pronouns, p. 70.)

Vos is used in addressing a single person, and vosotros, when speaking of or to more persons than one. The objective case of vos after a preposition is also vos; as,

And what share of it falls to you, | ¿Pues que parte os alcanza á vos,
Sancho? | Sancho?

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxi. pt. i.

The use of usted is explained in Observation A, pages 9 and 10, which the learner is desired to consult. What is said there about usted, is likewise applicable to usía, (V. S.,) your lordship, or ladyship; vuecelencia, (V. E.,) your excellency, &c.

Me, te, se, nos, os, le, los, la, las, les, are governed by verbs; and (in conformity with the present use) never placed after prepositions.

When mí, tí, sí, nosotros, nosotras, vosotros, vosotras, él, ellos, ella, ellas, are used as objects, they are to be preceded by prepositions.

When mí, tí, sí, come after the preposition con, (with,) they are converted into conmigo, contigo, consigo, and admit no change in gender or number.

Mismo (self) is sometimes added to the personal pronouns to give them a particular energy. It changes its number and gender in conformity with the rules laid down for adjectives.

We must love our neighbor as our- | Debemos amar á nuestro prójimo
selves. | como á nosotros mismos.

The objective cases of the pronouns are generally placed before the verb when it is either in the indicative or in the subjunctive mood; and after the verb, and joined to it, so as to form one single word, when the verb is in the infinitive, or in the imperative mood; except when the verb in the imperative mood is preceded by an adverb of negation; as,

Let him who terms me a fierce basilisk, shun me as an evil being; | El que me llama fiera y basilisco,
let him who calls me ungrateful, | déjeme como cosa perjudicial y
refuse me his services. | mala; y el que me llama ingrata,
 | no me sirva.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv. pt. i.

When two pronouns, object (the direct objective case) and complement, (indirect objective case,) come together, the complement must be placed before the object, (Obs. A, p. 69;) as,

He paid it to me. | El me le pagó.

Should both pronouns, object and complement, be of the third person, the complement, or that which in English is governed by to, expressed or understood, must be rendered by se; as,

He will carry him to him.	El se le llevará.
He will carry her to him.	El se la llevará.
He will carry them to him.	El se los (las) llevará.
He will not carry it to him.	El no se le llevará.
Will he carry her to him?	¿ Se la llevará él?
Will he not carry them to them?	¿ No se los (las) llevará él?

In order to avoid the ambiguity arising sometimes from such phrases, the other pronoun of the same person is frequently repeated after the verb; thus, él se le llevará á él, á ella, á ellos, &c.

You, when it is translated usted, must be rendered by se; as,

He presented him to you. | El se le presentó á V

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS.

Possessive pronouns are conjunctive or absolute.

The possessive pronouns conjunctive are so called because they cannot be used alone, but must be accompanied by a noun. They have numbers, but admit no variation of gender. (160.)

SINGULAR.	PLURAL.		SINGULAR.	PLURAL.
My, mi,	mis.	Ita,	su or de él,	sus or de ellos.
Thy, tu,	tus.		su or de ella,	sus or de ellas.
His, su or de él,	sus or de ellos.		su or de ellos,	sus or de ellos
Her, su or de ella,	sus or de ellas.		su or de ellas,	sus or de ellas

These pronouns agree in number with the noun that comes after them; as,

He paid his expenses.	El pagó sus gastos.
They fulfilled their promise.	Ellos cumplieron su promesa.

When you is translated usted or ustedes, your is to be rendered by su or sus, de usted or ustedes; as,

He thinks that the letter is yours. | El piensa que la carta es de V.

REMARK. The use of su and sus (your) without the addition of usted, in addressing respectable persons, is considered vulgar and impolite. No person accustomed to good society will ever say, Señor N. ¿ como está su hermana? Mr. N. how is your sister? Amigo, ¿ dígame que hora es? Friend, tell me what o'clock it is? instead of, Señor N. ¿ como está su (or su) hermana de V.? or la Señora hermana de V. Amigo, ¿ dígame V que hora es? or sírvase V. decirme que hora es.

The following quotations from the celebrated modern dramatist, Moratin, who wrote in Madrid, and frequented the best society of that court, will corroborate this remark.

I do not know your mother.	Yo no conozco á su madre de usted
	EL BI DE LAS NINAS, act ii. sc. 17

Your uncle wishes to know what all this means.

Quiere saber el tio de usted lo que hay en esto.

Ditto, act iii. sc. 10.

How do you do, good man?—I would speak more politely, answered Don Quixote, were I you; is that the language used in this country to knights errant?—you blockhead.

¿ Como va, buen hombre ?—Hablará yo mas bien criado, respondió Don Quijote, si fuera que vos. ¿ Usase en esta tierra hablar de esa suerte á los caballeros andantes ?—majadero.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xvii. pt. i.

The possessive pronouns absolute (244) may be used with or instead of the noun to which they refer; when used with a noun, they are placed after it, (31;) as,

Your hat cost five dollars, mine three dollars, and John's only twenty shillings; but his is better than yours, and as good as mine.

El sombrero de usted costó cinco pesos, el mio tres, (pesos,) y el de Juan solamente veinte reales; pero el suyo (de él) es mejor que el de usted, y tan bueno como el mio.

Come here, my Anastasia.

Ven acá, Anastasia mia.

Mine,

mio, mios, mia, mias.

Thine,

tuyo, tuyos, tuya, tuyas.

His, hers, its, theirs,

suyo, suyos, suya, suyas.

el suyo, los suyos, la suya, las suyas.

el de él, los de él; el de ella, los de ella.

los or las de él, &c.

Our, ours,

nuestro, nuestros, nuestra, nuestras.

Your, yours,

vuestro, vuestros, vuestra, vuestras

de Usted or de Ustedes.

el, los, la, las de V. or de VV

suyo, suyos, suya, suyas; as—

I am your servant, sir.

Yo soy servidor de V. caballero.

When mine, thine, &c., stand instead of the noun they refer to, they must be preceded by the corresponding article; as,

Has the postman brought the letters?

¿ Ha traído el cartero las cartas?

Yes, he brought thine, but not mine.

Sí, él trajo las tuyas pero no las mias.

These pronouns agree in gender and number with the substantives expressing the thing possessed; as,

These houses are his.

Estas casas son suyas, (de él.)

The gardens were hers, but now they are theirs.

Los jardines eran suyos, (de ella;) pero ellos son ahora suyos, (de ellos or ellas.)

The conjunctive pronouns are used in speaking of, and the absolute in addressing to; as,

My friends, these are my children. | Amigos míos, estos son mis hijos.
When the noun is accompanied by an adjective, either of them may be used; as,

My dear brother, farewell!

| Mi querido hermano, (querido hermano mío,) pásalo bien!

Vuestro is not used in colloquial, polite style, therefore your and your must be translated de usted or de ustedes, or suyo, suya, according to the sense of the phrase; as,

He bought his umbrella in Pearl-street, and you brought yours from London.

| El compró su paraguas en la calle de la Perla, y V. trajo el suyo (el de V.) de Londres.

RELATIVE PRONOUNS. (73.)

The relative pronouns simple, are quien, que, cual, and cuyo; and the compound, quienquiera and cualesquiera.

Quien, in the plural quienes or quien, (who, which, that,) admits of no change for the gender, and is used only with reference to persons, or objects personified. (73.)

Que (who, which, what, that) has no variation of gender or number, and is used with reference both to persons and things.

Cual, in the plural cuales, (who, which, what, that,) refers to persons or things, without any change of gender; but it requires the corresponding article whenever it is necessary to distinguish it; thus, el cual, los cuales, la cual, las cuales.

Cuyo (whose, which) forms its number and gender like the adjectives in o, and agrees with the noun that comes after it.

Cualquiera, in the plural cualesquiera, (whoever, whichever, whatever,) has no change for the gender, and is common to persons and things. It generally drops the last letter when the noun following begins with a vowel, or an h.

Quienquiera (whoever, whichever) is applied to persons, or personified nouns of either gender. The Academy sets it down as invariable in number but quienesquiera is found in classic authors.

INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS.

The relative pronouns are called interrogative when they are used in asking a question; as,

Who wrote the letter?

To whom did you write?

Which of the two does he want?

Of what does she complain?

Whose image and inscription is this?

Cæsar's.

| ¿ Quien escribió la carta ?

| ¿ A quien escribió V. ?

| ¿ Cual de los dos quiere él ?

| ¿ De que se queja ella ?

| ¿ Cuya (de quien) es esta imagen / inscripción ? Del César.

OF THE VERB.

A VERB is a word that signifies to be, to do, or to suffer; as,

I live.	Yo vivo.
He commands.	El manda.
They are commanded.	Ellos son mandados

Verbs are divided into active transitive, active intransitive, passive, and neuter. They may be also pronominal or reflective, reciprocal, impersonal, and auxiliary. These verbs being the same as in English, mention will be made only of such as require particular explanation in regard to the Spanish language.

A pronominal or reflective verb (181) is that which has the same person or thing as subject and object; as,

He flatters himself.	El se lisonjea á sí mismo.
----------------------	----------------------------

Almost all active verbs may be made pronominal.

Impersonal verbs (191) are those which are used only in the third person singular, without a subject or nominative; as,

It snows.	Nieva.
It happened.	Sucedió.
It is said.	Se dice.

Auxiliary verbs are those through the help of which the compound tenses of all other verbs, and their passive voice, are formed; such are,

To have.	Haber.
To be.	Ser, or estar, &c.

To verbs belong Numbers, Persons, Moods, Tenses, and Conjugation.

NUMBERS AND PERSONS.

Verbs have singular and plural numbers; and in each number there are three persons, which are distinguished by the different terminations corresponding to each person.

☞ The first person singular terminates in o, e, a, é, i.

Except to have, to be, to give, to go, and to know, the first person of which is, respectively, he, soy, estoy, doy, voy, sé.

The second person singular terminates in as, es.

Except the preterit indefinite of the indicative and the imperative mood

The third person singular terminates in a, e, o, ó, or ió.

The first person plural terminates in mos.

The second person plural terminates in ais, eis, or is.

Except the 2d of the imperative that ends in ad, ed, or id.

The third person plural terminates in an, en, or on.

Obs. A. When nos (us) is placed after the first person plural of a verb, the verb generally drops the s; as,

Cuidémonos. (Cuidémosnos.)	Let us take care of ourselves.
----------------------------	--------------------------------

The second person plural of the imperative drops. also the d when os is placed after it ; as,

Amaos (amados) sinceramente. | Love each other sincerely.

Obs. B. The vowel by which the termination of the second person singular of each tense begins, is also the first of the termination of every person of the same tense ; as, estudiabas, estudiaba, estudiabamos, estudiabais, estudiaban. Except the imperative in all the conjugations, and the preterit indefinite of the first conjugation.

MOODS.

There are four moods: the Infinitive, the Indicative, the Imperative, and the Subjunctive.

Obs. C. The English potential mood is generally rendered by the subjunctive in Spanish.

TENSES.

Tense is that variation of a verb that distinguishes its time

Tenses are simple or compound. The former consist of one word, the latter of two ; the first of which is the auxiliary verb, and the second the participle past of the verb that is conjugated.

Obs. D. The verb to write, (escribir,) will be made use of, the better to elucidate the following explanations ; and the numbers, 1, 2, &c., to avoid the repetition of the whole name of the tense in the rules.

The Infinitive Mood has three simple, and two compound tenses.

SIMPLE TENSES.

OF THE CONJUGATION.

The Conjugation of a verb, is the regular combination and arrangement of its several numbers, persons, moods, and tenses.

These combinations are made and formed in the Spanish language, out of the present of the infinitive mood of any verb, which invariably terminates in either ar, er or ir, which syllables are called its TERMINATION; and the letters that remain of the said present of the infinitive, after separating one of the said terminations, whatever they may be, are called its ROOT, and the letters of such root are called its RADICAL LETTERS; as, to estender, estim-ar ; to offend, ofend-er , to permit, permit-ir ; in which verbs ar, er, ir are the TERMINATIONS ; and estim, ofend, permit, the RADICAL LETTERS of each respectively, to which the other combinations must be added to form the various persons and tenses of a verb.

All the Spanish verbs are, therefore, classed into three conjugations Verbs ending in ar belong to the first ; those in er to the second ; and those in ir to the third.

Obs. E. It is not necessary to express the pronouns subject or nominative, in the colloquial style, (usted and ustedes excepted ;) but they must be used whenever elegance or clearness requires it.

Obs. F. The numbers before the terminations point out the different persons. N. 2, before usted and ustedes, denotes that they are of the second person, but that the verb agrees with them in the third, (by Enallage.)

TERMINATIONS OF ALL THE REGULAR VERBS.

Obs. G. The grave accent ( ` ) upon a vowel in the following terminations, points out the syllable on which the stress of the voice is laid, but over which the mark of it must not be set. The acute accent ( ' ) marks the syllable on which the stress of the voice lays, and over which the accent is to be written. When there is no mark of an accent in the termination, the syllable that precedes it is long.

PARTICIPLE PAST. <sup>2</sup>		PARTICIPLE PAST.		PARTICIPLE PAST.
Armed,	ado.	Offended,	ido.	United,	ido

<sup>2</sup> The participle past coming immediately after any of the tenses of the verb haber, (to have,) does not admit of any change of gender or number. After other verbs, it changes its termination to agree with that of the person or thing it refers to.

<sup>2</sup> When the English imperfect tense, for instance, he united, may be expressed by he was uniting, or he used or was accustomed to unite, preserving the same sense, then it is to be translated by the imperfect tense in Spanish, thus—él unía. When that cannot be done, but it may be changed into used, then the preterit must be used—él unió. (See Lesson XL., page 157.) The same must be understood of all the verbs in the imperfect tense.

1. If we should unite, íéremos.
2. If you should unite, íereis.
3. If they should unite, íeren.
2. If they should unite, íeren.

REMARK.—Could, would, or should express as well as might any of the above tenses, numbers 7, 8, and 9; but the translation of the verb preceded by them in English, depends entirely on the meaning of the Spanish verb or conjunction, that governs. or requires it in the subjunctive mood, as it is explained in Lesson LXXIX. p. 336, which the learner must study with attention.

The future of the subjunctive, N. 10, might be translated in English, when I shall, and the verb in the usual way.

PASSIVE VERBS. (175.)

Passive verbs are formed from active-transitive verbs by adding their participle past, or passive, to the auxiliary verb ser, (to be,) through all its changes, as in English ; thus, from the active verb amar, (to love,) is formed the passive verb ser amado, (to be loved.)

Obs. A. The participle must agree in gender and number with the nominative it refers to ; consequently it changes the o into a when the subject is feminine, and adds s for the plural ; thus,

SINGULAR.

He is loved.	El es amado.
She is loved.	Ella es amada.
You are loved	V. es amado, (amada.)

PLURAL.

They are loved.	Ellos son amados.
They are loved.	Ellas son amadas.
You are loved.	VV. son amados, (amadas.)

Obs. B. In the compound tenses the participle of the principal verb is the only one that admits the change; the participle of the auxiliary verb to be (been, sido) is unchangeable; as,

He has been rewarded.	El ha sido premiado.
They have been rewarded.	Ellos han sido premiados.
She had been admired.	Ella habia sido admirada.
They had been admired.	Ellas habian sido admiradas.
You could have been employed.	V. habria sido empleado, (empleada.)
You could have been assisted.	VV. habrian sido asistidos, (asistidas.)

Obs. C. Passive impersonal verbs, and those referring to inanimate subjects or things, are translated by placing the verb which is in the participle past in English, in the same person and number in which the verb to be is in the English sentence, placing the pronoun se before it; thus, This ship was built in less than three months—Esta fragata se construyó en ménos de tres meses, instead of fué construida. It is said—Se dice, instead of Es dicho.

PRONOMINAL, OR REFLECTIVE VERBS.

A pronominal, or reflective verb, is that which has the same person or thing as subject and object; as,

He arms himself.	El se arma á sí mismo.
------------------	-------------------------------

These verbs terminate their present of the infinitive mood by the pronoun se, which must be suppressed in order to find out the conjugation; thus—

To approach.	Acercarse.
To be sorry.	Dolerse.
To repent.	Arrepentirse.

Taking off the se we here have, acercar, 1st conjugation; doler, 2d conjugation; and arrepentir, 3d conjugation. (80.)

These verbs are conjugated by placing the pronouns me, te, se, se, nos, os, se, se, according to the number and person of the nominative they refer to, immediately before the verb, if the subject be expressed before it; and either before or after the verb, if the subject be not expressed or placed after it. When they are placed after the verb they must be written so as to form one word with it.

In the imperative mood they are always placed after the verb, which suppresses the s in the first person plural, and the d in the second person of the same number. When the second person singular or plural is used with the adverb no, the pronouns are placed before the verb. Examples:—

- |                                   |                                   |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1. I congratulate myself.         | Yo me congratula.          |
| 2 Thou congratulatest thyself.    | Tu te congratulas.         |
| 3 He congratulates himself.       | El se congratula.          |
| 2 You congratulate yourself.      | V. se congratula.          |
| 1 We congratulate ourselves.      | Nosotros nos congratulamos |
| 2 You congratulate yourselves.    | Vosotros os congratulaís.  |
| 3 They congratulate themselves    | Ellos se congratulan.      |
| 2 You congratulate yourselves     | VV. se congratulan.        |
| 1 I had congratulated myself.     | Me habia congratulado.     |
| 2 I have armed myself.            | Yo me he armado.           |
| 3. They had flattered themselves. | Ellos se habian lisonjeado |

IMPERATIVE MOOD.

- |                           |  |
|---------------------------|--|
| Behave (thou) well.       | Portate bien.                               |
| Behave (you) well.        | Portaos bien, (the a's suppressed.)  |
| Behave not ill.           | No te portes mal.                           |
| Behave (you) not ill.     | No os portéis mal.                          |
| Let us prepare ourselves. | Preparémonos. (The s is suppressed.) |

GERUND.—Gerundio.

The Gerund is that part of the verb that terminates in ando in the verbs of the first conjugation, and in iendo in those of the second and third; as, publicando, (publishing,) from publicar; prometiendo, (promising,) from prometer; asistiendo, (assisting,) from asistir. It does not admit any change of gender or number.

It is translated by the English present participle, and conjugated with the verb estar, (to be;) as,

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| Anastasia is reading, and Maria Ann is playing on the piano. | Anastasia está leyendo, y Maria Ana está tocando el piano. |
|--|---|

It is used also absolutely; as,

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| By practising virtue thou wilt be happy | Practicando la virtud, serás feliz |
|---|---|

In such cases it may be expressed by the corresponding tense of its verb, and even by the noun derived from it; as,

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| Columbus discovered the new world in the reign of Isabella, the Catholic, and under her auspices. | Reinando Isabel, la Católica, y bajo sus auspicios, Colon descubrió el Nuevo Mundo, (or cuando reinaba Isabel, or en el reinado de Isabel.) |

PARTICIPLE.

The passive or past participle terminates in ado in the first conjugation, and in ido in the second and third. It changes its termination according to the number and gender of the person it refers to; except when it follows immediately after the verb haber, or any other auxiliary, in which case it does not admit of any change.

All passive participles that do not terminate in ado or ido are called irregular; such are the following, from the verbs—

To open,	abrir,	abierto.
To cover,	cubrir,	cubierta.
To say,	decir,	dicho.
To write,	escribir,	escrito.
To fry,	freir,	frito.
To do,	hacer,	hecho.
To print,	imprimir,	impreso.
To die,	morir,	muerto.
To solve,	resolver,	suelto.
To see,	ver,	visto.
To put,	poner,	puesto.
To turn,	volver,	vuelto.

Their compounds have the same irregularity.

Obs. The participles past of haber, ser, estar, and tener, do not admit any variation. The first and the last had it formerly.

VERBS THAT HAVE TWO PARTICIPLES.

There are some verbs that have two passive participles, the one regular and the other irregular. They are contained in the following list, in which, for brevity's sake, the irregular participle only is expressed.

To surfeit,	ahitar,	ahito.
To bless,	bendecir,	bendito.
To compel,	compeler,	compulso.
To conclude,	concluir,	concluso.
To confuse,	confundir,	confuso.

To loosen,	soltar,	suelto.
To suppress,	suprimir,	supreso.
To suspend,	suspender,	suspenseo.

The regular participles of these verbs are used to form the compound tenses with haber ; as,

He has awaked early. | El ha despertado temprano.

The irregular participles are used as verbal adjectives, and with the verbs ser, &c., and do not form compound tenses with haber ; excepting preso, prescrito, provisto, roto, and a few others ; as,

He is early awaked. | El está despierto temprano.

They have provided. | Ellos han provisto, (proveído.)

ADVERBS.

Adverbs are formed from adjectives of one termination by adding to them mente ; as, dulce, dulcemente : and from those of two terminations by adding mente to the feminine ; as, gracioso, graciosamente. They admit the superlative ; as, graciosísimamente.

When two or more adverbs ending in ly occur in the same sentence, the termination mente is added to the last only ; as,

He speaks elegantly and correctly. | El habla correcta y elegantemente.

ANALOGY.

RULES TO TRANSLATE MANY OF THE ENGLISH AND SPANISH WORDS HAVING THE SAME GREEK OR LATIN ORIGIN

1. Words in a, e, al, ar, ble, ion, sion, sis, are the same in both languages; as, diploma, epitome, vital, solar, durable, opinion, adhesion, analysis.

2. Words in ant, ent, ient, add an e; as, observant, observante; regent, regente; obedient, obediente.

3. Words in ect, ic, id, il, add an o; as, select, selecto; critic, crítico; placid, placido; tranquil, tranquilo.

4. Words in ance or ancy change it into ancia; and those in ence or ency into encia; as, tolerance, tolerancia; constancy, prudencia, adolescency.

5. Words in acy, amy, emy, logy, ody, omy, ory, asy, esy, change the y

<sup>1</sup> U is employed instead of ó, when the word immediately following it begins with o or ho; as,—

Silver or gold.

| Plata u oro

into z; as, efficacy, infancy, academy, mythology, melody, economy, theory, fantasy, courtesy—eficacia, &c.

6. Those in chy change it into quia; and those in phy into pta; as, monarchy, monarquía; philosophy, filosofía.

7. Words in ice change it into icia; as, avarice, avaricia.

8. Words in ine, ive, ire, change e into o; as, divine, active, severe—divino, &c.

9. Those in tion change it into cion; as, constitution, constitucion.

10. Words in ty change it into dad, and sometimes add ad instead of the y; as, activity, actividad; majesty, magestad.

11. Words in ary, ery, ory, change the y into io; as, anniversary, aniversario; baptistery, bautisterio; laboratory, laboratorio.

12. Words in ous or ious, change ous into oso; as, famous, famoso; delicious, delicioso.

13. Latin words beginning with s followed by a consonant, either lose the s, or add an e; as, scientia, ciencia; spiritus, espíritu.

14. Proper nouns in us change it into o; as, Publius, Publio; Titus, Tito, (348.) Those in er change it into ro; as, Alexander, Alejandro. Those in o add n; as, Cicero, Ciceron. Those in es or on are the same in both languages. Nouns having the diphthongs æ, œ, retain the e only; as, Æneas, Eneas; Ædipus, Edipo; Cæsar, César.

SYNTAX.

Syntax principally consists of two parts, Concord (Concordancia) and Government, (Régimen.)

Concord is the agreement which one word has with another in gender,

<sup>1</sup> Agreement is the similarity of words in number, gender, &c. As the articles and adjectives admit of no variation of either in English, it will be proper to explain here what that word imports and requires in Spanish, which will be better understood by the following examples:—

The rich man	El hombre rico.
The rich men.	Los hombres ricos
The rich woman.	La mujer rica.
The rich women.	Las mujeres ricas.
A just man.	Un hombre justo.
Some just men.	Unos hombres justos.
A just woman.	Una mujer justa.
Some just women.	Unas mujeres justas

It will be observed by these examples, that the article the has no change in English, and that el has four in Spanish. The same is the case with the adjectives rich and just, and with the articles un and unos.

number, case, or person. Government is that power which one part or speech has over another in directing its mood, tense, or case. The following rules contain the most important of both.

OF THE ARTICLE.

RULE 1. The article must agree in number, gender, and case, with the noun to which it refers; as,

Quiet solitude, pleasant fields, serene weather, purling streams, and tranquillity of mind contribute very much to the fecundity even of the most barren genius.

El sosiego, el lugar apacible, la amenidad de los campos, la sereñidad de los cielos, el murmurar de las fuentes, la quietud del espíritu son grande parte para que las musas mas estériles se muestren fecundas

DON QUIJOTE, prol., pt. i

Obs. 1. The nouns agua, (water,) águila, (eagle,) acta, (act, record) ancla, (anchor,) áia, (wing,) alma, (soul,) ave, (bird,) ama, (the mistress of a house, a housekeeper,) and a few others, though feminine, require the masculine article, but only in the singular number, and when they are immediately preceded by it. (§85.)

They quenched their thirst in the water of the rivulet.

Ellos bebieron del agua del arroyo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xviii. pt. i

Some other nouns feminine beginning with a, or ha, having the first syllable long, are frequently used in the singular with the masculine article. This use, however, is not generally sanctioned; and the greatest number of the classic writers follow the rule laid down by the Spanish Academy, that excepts only the above nouns.

RULE 2. The English indefinite article before national nouns, as well as before those that signify the dignity, profession, trade, condition, &c., of persons, in the titles of books and other performances, and in exclamations, is not translated into Spanish; as,

The Monserrate of Cristobal de Virues, a Valencian poet.

El Monserrate de Cristobal de Virues, poeta Valenciano.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. vi. pt. i.

It was certainly known that Don Juan de Austria was appointed a general of the league.

Se supo por cierto que venia por General desta liga Don Juan de Austria. Ditto, cap. xxxix.

And ending in Zoilus or Zenxis, though one was a backbiter, and the other a painter.

Y acabando en Zoilo, ó Zeuxis, aunque fué maldiciente el uno, y pintor el otro. Ditto, Pref.

What a pity!

; Que lástima!

Obs. 2. If the indefinite article be immediately followed by an adjective emphatically used, it must be translated; as,

There I obtained an ensign's commission in the company of a famous captain.

Alcançé á ser alférez de un famoso capitán.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

Obs. 3. Should a proper noun follow that of the dignity, &c., the definite article must be affixed to it ; as,

Whom continually in our Castilian language we call king Artus.

Que continuamente en nuestro romance Castellano llamamos el rey Artus.

Ditto, cap. xiii

RULE 3. The definite article (el, &c.) is prefixed in Spanish to all common substantives, when they are used to express the whole extent of their signification ; which, for the same reason, do not require it in English ; as,

Vice is hateful.

El vicio es aborrecible.

Men are mortal.

Los hombres son mortales.

Virtue is amiable.

La virtud es amable

Riches shall not profit in the day of revenge.

Las riquezas no aprovecharán en el día de la venganza.

The nouns vice, men, virtue, riches, are used as collective nouns, and taken in a general sense ; that is to say, they mean that all vices are hateful, all virtues are amiable, that all men are mortal, and that no riches can prevent the vengeance of God.

Obs. 4. The article is retained in the phrase before the adjective, when a common noun, taken in the whole extent of its meaning, is omitted by ellipsis ; as,

Red wine is not so dear as white.

El vino tinto no es tan caro como el (vino) blanco.

RULE 4. Common nouns, used in an indeterminate sense, are used with or without the article, as in English ; as,

He asks three dollars for the hat.

El pide tres pesos por el sombrero.

He asks for the three dollars, value of the hat.

El pide los tres pesos, valor del sombrero.

RULE 5. When the names of the days of the week are used to mention the day with a reference to a certain day, they require the article ; as,

Thursday before the Friday on which she was to remove to her father's garden, she gave us a thousand crowns.

El jueves ántes del viérnes, que ella se habia de ir al jardín de su padre, nos dió mil escudos.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xl.

Casa, meaning home, and being preceded by a preposition, does not admit the article ; when it signifies house, it may be used with or without it ; as,

Wife, I will show you them at home.

En casa os las mostraré, mujer.

Ditto, cap. lii.

Calle (street) requires the article before it, and before its name if it should be a common noun ; as,

He lives in Pearl street, (in the street of the Pearl.)	El vive en la calle de la Perla.
As he entered St. James street in Madrid.	Al entrar la calle de Santiago en Madrid.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlvii. pt. ii.

RULE 6. The English indefinite article, before nouns of measure, weight or number, is translated by the definite article, according to the name it refers to. The prepositions á or por are sometimes added, which may as well be omitted; as,

This broadcloth is worth ten dollars a yard.	Este paño vale diez pesos vara, (or á diez pesas la vara, or diez pesos por vara.)
--	---

Butter sells at two shillings a pound.	La manteca (mantequilla) se vende á dos reales libra, (la libra, or por libra.)
--	--

RULE 7. The English definite article before ordinal numbers, when they are immediately preceded by a substantive, in quotations, divisions of books, names of dignity, &c., is omitted in Spanish; as,

Book the first, chapter the second, section the fifth, &c.	Libro primero, capítulo segundo, párrafo quinto.
--	---

The invincible Charles the Fifth.	El invictísimo Carlos quinto.
-----------------------------------	--------------------------------------

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

Obs. 5. When the English definite article precedes an adjective used as an epithet before the nouns above stated, it must be translated; as,

Augustus Cæsar would have been in the wrong had he consented to the execution of what the divine Mantuan ordered on his death-bed.	No hubiera acertado Augusto César si consintiera que se pusiera en ejecución lo que el divino Mantuano dejó en su testamento ordenado.
---	---

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiii.

RULE 8 The article a, and the adjective one, are not translated before hundred, thousand, million, half, &c.; as,

In the year one thousand, one hundred and one.	En el año de mil, ciento, y uno.
--	---

He asks, or wants one yard and a half.	El necesita, or quiere vara y media-half.
--	--

RULE 9. Proper names of persons and of countries do not admit the article; the former, however, in a colloquial and very familiar use, take it; as,

She was called Tolosa.	Se llamaba la Tolosa.
------------------------	------------------------------

DON QUIJOTE, cap. iii.

Obs. 6. The nouns muerte, (death,) cielo, (heaven,) and the like names, take the article, except in exclamations or direct speeches; as,

If the power of death be your subject, apply " Pallida mors ," &c.	Si tratáredes del poder de la muerte, acudid luego con "Pallida mors," &amp;c.
---	---

D. QUIJOTE, Prólogo

REMARK. "It is the rule of our language, (the Castilian,) that proper nouns are not accompanied by articles; excepting LA MANCHA, LA COMUNA, LA HABANA."—(Grammar of the Castilian Language, by the Royal Spanish Academy, part ii., ch. vi.) The preceding rule has been given in conformity with this decision of the Academy, which may be used as follows:—

The names of the countries that are not qualified by the adjectives old or new, upper or lower, &c., expressed or understood, are generally used without the article; as,

Mexico.	Méjico.		Malta.	Malta.
---------	----------------	--	--------	---------------

The names of the countries that are qualified by the said, or other adjectives, when these are not expressed, may be used with or without the article; as, América, or la América, (norte or sud.) Andalucía, or la Andalucía, (alta or baja.) When the adjective is expressed they require the article.

The following are exceptions, and must always be used with the article.

Brazil.	El Brasil.
Canada.	El Canadá.
Paraguay.	El Paraguay
Peru.	El Perú.
A province of New Castile.	La Alcarria.
Barbadoes.	La Barbada.
Florida.	La Florida.
Ferrol.	El Ferrol.
Corunna.	La Coruña.
Havana, &c.	La Habana, &amp;c.

The article is omitted in the dates of letters written in the places above excepted.

Obs. 7. Proper names of mountains and rivers take the definite masculine article, without regard to their termination; as,

Those who feed their flocks upon the spacious meads of the meandering Guadiana; those who shiver with the chill blasts of the whistling Pyrenees	Los que su ganado apacientan en las extendidas dehesas del tortuoso Guadiana; los que tiemblan con el frío del silboso Pirineo.
	DON QUIJOTE, cap. xviii.

RULE 10. When several nouns come together in English, with an article before the first of them only, the article is repeated before every one, especially when they are of different genders, and a particular emphasis is placed on them. When they are used in English without any article, the same is done in Spanish, (372.)

They mention the father, mother, country, relations, age, and exploits performed by said knight.	Nos cuentan el padre, la madre, la patria, los parientes, la edad, y las hazañas que el tal caballero hizo.
	D. QUIJOTE, cap. I.

RULE 11. The article is omitted before nouns used in apposition; as,
 O Envy, the root of all evils, and the destroyer of so many virtues! ; O Envidia, raíz de infinitos males, y carcoma de las virtudes!

DON QUIJOTE, cap. viii. pt. II.

RULE 12. The definite masculine article, singular or plural, is used before the adjectives taken substantively; as,

The wise man feareth and declineth from evil. El sabio teme y se desvía del mal.

The expectation of the wicked shall perish. La esperanza de los impíos perecerá.

Obs. 8. When a noun, qualified by an adjective, is suppressed by ellipsis, the article that precedes the adjective must agree in number and gender with the noun that has been omitted; as,

Black and white are two opposite colours. El negro y el blanco son dos colores opuestos.

That is, el color negro y el color blanco.

RULE 13. The English definite article before adjectives used in an absolute sense, that is to say, comprehending in their meaning a generality of objects or things that may be masculine or feminine, singular or plural, is translated by the indefinite pronoun LO; (344,) as,

Let no man judge the white black, and the black white. Ninguno se ponga á juzgar lo blanco por negro, y lo negro por blanco.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. iv. p. II.

RULE 14. When the adjective todo (all, or whole) is placed before the substantive, it requires the article after it, whether it be expressed or not in English; as,

All men, or all the men.

Todos los hombres.

The whole assembly

Toda la asamblea.

REMARK. The meaning of many phrases depends on the use or omission of the article. A few examples may elucidate this remark.

To set up a store.

Abrir tienda.

To open the store.

Abrir la tienda.

To encourage, to support.

Dar alma.

To die.

Dar el alma.

To miss one's aim.

Dar en blanca.

To be successful.

Dar en el blanco.

To have an evil tongue.

Tener mala lengua.

To have the tongue sore.

Tener mala la lengua.

OF THE NOUN AND THE ADJECTIVE.

RULE 15.—The adjective must agree with the substantive in gender and number; as,

The valiant boy.

El muchacho valiente.

The handsome girls.

Las muchachas hermosas.

Obs. 9. An adjective qualifying two or more nouns or pronouns of different genders, in the singular, agrees with them in the masculine termination in the plural ; as,

The father and the son are rich.

The mother and the daughter are handsome.

He and she are generous.

The house and the garden are magnificent.

El padre y el hijo son ricos.

La madre y la hija son hermosas.

El y ella son generosos.

La casa y el jardín son magníficos.

Obs. 10. Two or more adjectives qualifying a plural noun, which signifies them as separately considered, agree with it in the singular ; as,

She is unexcelled by Helen, unrivalled by Lucretia, or any other heroine of ages past, whether Grecian, Roman, or Barbarian.

A ella no la llega Elena, ni alcanza Lucrecia, ni otra alguna de las famosas mujeres, que vivieron en las edades pretéritas, griega, latina, ó bárbara.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxv.

Obs. 11. An adjective qualifying two or more nouns of inanimate objects or things, having different gender and number, generally agrees with the nearest ; as,

A union which the equality of our family and riches seemed to point out.

Union que casi le concertaba la igualdad de nuestro linaje, y riquezas

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxiv

Obs. 12. A noun of the feminine gender in the plural, being in the same phrase with a noun masculine in the singular, having but one adjective, the adjective agrees in the plural, and in the masculine termination, if the verb agrees with the plural noun ; as,

His promises and his oath have been false.

Sus promesas y su juramento han sido falsos.

In such cases it is better to place the plural noun next the adjective, and make the agreement with it ; thus—Su juramento y sus promesas han sido falsas.

RULE 16.—An adjective qualifying two or more plural nouns or pronouns, of different genders, agrees with them in the masculine termination in the plural ; as,

Both the brothers and sisters are charitable.

Tanto los hermanos, como las hermanas son caritativos.

Obs. 13. This rule is strictly observed when the nouns or pronouns signify animate objects ; but when the nouns signify inanimate objects or things classic authors, both ancient and modern, generally make the adjective agree with the nearest substantive ; as,

His fears and hopes were vain. { Sus temores y esperanzas fueron vanas
Sus esperanzas y temores fueron vanos.
Vanas fueron sus esperanzas y temores.
Vanos fueron sus temores y esperanzas

Happy were my hours, my days,
 and my years. | *Dichosas eran mis horas, mis dias,

DON QUIJOTE, cap. liii. pt. i.

RULE 17.—An adjective referring to Usted, (you,) Usia, (your lordship or ladyship,) &c., must agree in gender with that of the person spoken of or to, without any regard to the termination of these nouns; as,

If your lordship would be pleased to bestow on me, &c. | Si vuestra Señoría fuese servido de darme, &c.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlii. pt. ii.

Your worship must be out of your senses, said Sancho. | Vuestra merced debe de ser menguado, dijo Sancho.

Ditto, ditto.

RULE 18.—The English possessive case with the 's, is translated by omitting the 's, setting the preposition de (of) before the word to which the 's was annexed, and placing the noun which is the last in the English sentence the first in the Spanish translation, with the corresponding article; and reversing in the same manner the order of the other nouns; as,

He has read Pope's works. {
 He has read the works of Pope. } El ha leído las obras de Pope.

If there be more than two substantives, the last in English must be the first in Spanish; as,

His brother's partner's house. | La casa del compañero de su her-mano.

Obs. 14. In English the sign 's is frequently used instead of the noun of a place, house, office, store, &c., where a thing has happened or been done, which being omitted by ellipsis, it is perfectly understood by the whole of the sentence; but the noun thus omitted must always be expressed in Spanish; as,

Sancho figured to himself that he would find at her's, (the duchess's house,) what he had found at Don
 Diego's and Basil's. | A Sancho se le figuraba que habia de hallar en ella, (la casa de la duquesa,) lo que habia hallado en la casa de Don Diego, y en la de Basilio.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxi. pt. ii.

RULE 19.—Common nouns of the masculine gender, in the plural number, are frequently used to express both genders; as,

The duke and duchess, extremely satisfied with the chase, returned to their castle. | *Satisfechos los duques de la caza
 volviéron á su castillo.*

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxv

RULE 20.—Adjectives signifying dimension, such as deep, high, low, long, wide, thick, &c., require the preposition de between them and the number, and also after the substantive they refer to; and the verb to be is translated by tener, (290;) as,

They have a room twenty-four feet long twelve wide, and fifteen high.	Ellos tienen un aposento (cuarto) de veinticuatro pies de largo, doce de ancho y quince de alto.
---	---

The adjectives in such cases are used only in the singular number, and in the masculine gender.

Obs. 15. When the nouns, length, width, height, &c., are made use of, they must be preceded by the preposition de; and they may be translated as substantives or adjectives; as,

The Giralda of Seville is 300 feet in height.	La Giralda de Sevilla tiene 300 de pies alto, (or de altura.)

RULE 21.—The adjective is to be always placed after the noun or nouns it qualifies; as,

Take notice, doctor, that from hence- forth you need not to take the trouble to provide dainty and deli- cate dishes for me.	Mirad, doctor, de aquí adelante no os cureis de darne á comer cosas regaladas, ni manjares exquisitos. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlix. pt. ii.
---	---

Obs. 16. When a particular emphasis is laid on the adjective, it is generally placed before the substantive; as,

The limpid fountains and murmuring rills afforded them their savory and transparent waters in magnificent abundance.	Las claras fuentes, y corrientes rios en magnífica abundancia sabrosas y transparentes aguas les ofrecian. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xi. pt. i.
---	--

When one of two or more adjectives qualifying a substantive is more emphatically used than the other, or others, it is generally placed before the noun, and the other adjective after it; as,

My good young lady, have pity on a poor fugitive slave.	Caritativa Señorita mia, compade- céos de una pobre esclava fugi- tiva. DE ALÉA.

RULE 22.—The adjectives uno, (one,) alguno, (some,) ninguno, (none,) are always placed before their substantives; and when they are immediately followed by a masculine noun, or adjective in the singular, they drop the o. The same do bueno, malo, (12,) primero, and tercero, (46.) Grande, (97, 261,) ciento, (139,) and santo suppress the last syllable; as,

As I was one day in Mercers street, in Toledo.	Estando yo un dia en el Alcala de Toledo. D. QUIJOTE, cap. ix.
Although the composition of it cost me some trouble.	Aunque me costó algun trabajo componerla. Ditto, Preface.

Obs. 17. Uno drops the o also before substantives in the plural; as,
They could not find one in twenty-one days.

Ellos no pudieron hallar uno en ve- intiun dias.

OF THE PRONOUN.

RULE 23.—The personal pronouns subject, or in the nominative case, are frequently omitted, (14,) especially in colloquial style, unless a particular emphasis is laid on them, or it is necessary to express them in order to avoid ambiguity, which may happen by their omission in the first and third person singular of the imperfect tense of the indicative, and of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive mood of all the verbs; as, Pensaba comprar la casa, which phrase may signify, “I thought, or he thought to buy the house,” so the want of the pronouns yo or él.

We know that thou wast at Algiers.

Sabíamos sue estabas en Argel.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xli.

I watch while thou art sleeping, I weep while thou art singing.

Yo velo cuando tú duermes, yo lloro cuando tú cantas.

Ditto, cap. xl. pt. ii.

RULE 24.—Me, thee, him, &c., must be translated me, te, le, &c., when they are the immediate object of the verb; as,

As soon as she saw me, she told me, be not uneasy, my friend.

Asi como ella me vió me dijo: no te turbes, amigo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxvii.

He that is humble, God will exalt.

Aquien se humilla, Dios le ensalza

Ditto, cap. xi.

Obs. 18. Him, her, them, you, (when referring to usted,) being the direct object of a pronominal or reflective verb, must be translated se; as,

And a great friend of his dressed himself also as a shepherd.

Y juntamente se vistió con él de pastor otro su grande amigo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.

Obs. 19. Me, him, her, you, &c., being the indirect objective, or complement of a verb governed or preceded by a preposition expressed or understood, are translated mí, él, ella, &c., after the preposition, (see Table of Pronouns, p. 70.) Except should the preposition be á, for then they are generally translated me, le, &c., without the preposition, and frequently repeated with it before mí and él, to give more energy to the phrase; as,

He was informed of the departure, though not by me.

El supo la partida, y no de mí.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xliiii.

For her I forsook my father's house.

Por ella dejé la casa de mi padre.

Ditto, ditto.

He keeps him here enchanted, as well as myself.

Tiénele aquí encantado, como me tiene á mí.

Ditto, cap. xxiii. pt. ii.

RULE 25.—As him, her, it, them, you, (usted,) may be in English the object or the complement of a verb, particular care must be taken to distinguish these cases. When they are the object of the verb they are translated le, la, los, or las, according to the gender and number of the noun or pronoun they stand for. When they are the complement, or indirect object five caso, they must be expressed by le in the singular, and les in the plural, for both genders; as,

He prostrated him on the ground.

El le derribó en el suelo.

The companions who saw them so.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. iii.

Los compañeros que tales los vieron

And we who know her.

Ditto, litto.

Y los que la conocemos.

Don Quixote called Sancho to give him his helmet.

Ditto, cap. xii.

Ditto, ditto.

The hostess recounted to them what had happened in her house between him and the muleteer.

La huéspedea les contó lo que con él y con el arriero les había acontecido. Ditto, cap. xxxii pt. i.

Don Quixote asked her what was her name.

Don Quijote le preguntó como se llamaba. Ditto, cap. iii.

But the deeds which they (the maids) had seen kept their mirth under the rein.

Pero las proezas que ya habían visto (las doncellas) les tenían la risa á raya. Ditto, ditto.

In order to prevent the ambiguity that in some phrases may result, the pronouns él ella, &c., are repeated; as,

He delivered the letter to him, (to her.)

El le entregó la carta á él, (á ella.)

RULE 26.—Mismo (self) is sometimes added to the nouns or pronouns to give them particular energy. It changes its termination, like any other adjective, according to the number and gender of the noun or pronoun it refers to, and is placed near it; as,

Without money, Alexander himself must have seemed frugal.

Sin hacienda Alejandro mismo parecería estrecho.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

RULE 27.—The neuter pronoun it, is used in English to represent objects or things that by nature are neither male nor female; and even animals, when their gender is not known. In Spanish all common nouns are either masculine or feminine, as has been explained in treating of gender; consequently the pronoun it, and its plural them, must be translated el, ellos, ella, ellas, with the respective variation of the cases of said persons. The scholar, therefore, must be careful to ascertain the gender and case of the noun to which it refers in English before translating said pronoun; as,

He read the project, and approved it. She received the letter, and answered it.

El leyó el proyecto, y le aprobó.

Ella recibió la carta, y la contestó.

Obs. 20.—When the pronoun it is redundant in a phrase, it must not be translated. It is redundant when it is used instead of the words that come after the verb, and which constitute its subject or object; as,

It is a matter of constant experience, that bodily exercise is conducive to health.

Es materia de constante experiencia que el ejercicio corporal es conducente á la salud.

In which phrase the natural order is: that bodily exercise is conducive to health, is a matter of constant experience.

It, referring to the verbs, or to phrases and sentences to which no gender can be applied, is translated by the pronoun lo; and when it is to be placed after a preposition in Spanish, by ello; as,

The gallant shepherd begged him to accompany them to their tents; Don Quixote was fain to comply with it, and accordingly did it so.

El gallardo pastor le pidió que se viniese con él á sus tiendas; húbolo de conceder Don Quijote, y así lo hizo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlviii. pt. ii.

Whoever spends his time ill, sooner or later will repent of it.

Quienquiera que emplea mal el tiempo, tarde ó temprano se arrepentirá de ello.

It, in the impersonal verbs (as has been already explained) is not translated; as,

It rains, llueve.

| It is cold, hace frio, &c.

In the phrases it is said, they say, it is rumored, &c., the pronouns it and they are not translated: the verb is placed in the third person singular, prefixing the pronoun se to it, or in the third person plural without any pronoun; as,

As they say, let the dead go to the bier, and the living to good cheer.

Y como dicen, váyase el muerto á la sepultura, y el vivo á la hogaza. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xix.

RULE 28.—When two or more objective cases of the pronouns occur in the same phrase, they must be arranged in the following order: se is to be placed before all others; then me, te, nos, or os; in the third place, le, los, la, las, les; and él, ella, &c., with a preposition, the last of all; as,

He gave it (a book) to them.

| El se le (un libro) dió á ellos.

RULE 29. Who, coming immediately after its antecedent, is translated que; when it stands by itself, or is governed by a preposition, it is rendered by quien; as,

Sancho came out to receive the commands of Don Quixote, who had sat down upon a bench.

Sancho salió á ver lo que le mandaba Don Quijote, que estaba sentado sobre un poyo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. lix. pt. ii.

A student to whom you imparted your intentions, was he who disclosed it.

Un estudiante á quien disteis cuenta de vuestros pensamientos fué el que lo descubrió.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlv. pt. ii.

Which, that, or any other two relative pronouns, being in the same sentence, the second may be translated cual, with the corresponding article, to avoid the repetition of the same pronoun, unless a particular emphasis is placed on it; as,

The first person (whom) I met, was his father, who said to me.

La primera persona con quien encontré fué su padre, el cual me dijo. DON QUIJOTE, cap. xli.

Obs. 21. When these pronouns are governed by a preposition, whom is usually translated quien or cual, with reference to persons; and que, and sometimes cual, with the corresponding article, speaking of animals or things; as,

Indeed, Signior Don Luis, it suits well to whom you are the dress you wear, and the bed in which you now lie.

Por cierto, Señor Don Luis, que corresponde bien á quien vos sois el hábito que teneis, y la cama en que os hallo.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xliv.

RULE 30.—He who, she who, they who, those who, are translated el que, la que, los que, las que, and sometimes, for the sake of energy, aquel que, &c.; as,

Both she, and he who accompanied her.

Así ella como el que la acompañaba
DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvii.

Don Fernando, and those who came with him.

Don Fernando y los que con él venían. Ditto, cap. xxxvi.

Obs. 22. What, when it is the same as that which, is translated lo que; as,

He could see it, for through what might be termed the roof, entered a stream of light.

Púdolo ver, porque por lo que se podía llamar techo, entraba un rayo de sol.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. lv. pt. ii.

RULE 31.—Relative pronouns are called interrogative when they are employed to make a question. They are translated in the same manner as the relative pronouns. Which, referring to more than one object, is translated cual or cuales; as,

Who was the ignorant wretch who signed such a warrant?

¿ Quien fué el ignorante que firmó tal mandamiento?

What knight-errant ever paid tax or custom?

¿ Que caballero andante pagó vecho ó alcabala?

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlv

Which of them will come?

¿ Quien (or cual) de ellos (or ellas) vendrá?

Which of the two will you have?

¿ Cual de los (or las) dos quiere V.?

Who knocks at the door?

¿ Quien llama á la puerta?

¿ Quien llama?

¿ Quien está ahí? ¿ Quien es?

Obs. 23. When the interrogation begins by a preposition, the answer must begin by the same preposition; as,

Where are you going ?
 To the Exchange.
 Where do you come from ?
 From my counting-room.
 What way did you come ?
 Through Broad street.
 With whom did you come ?
 With my partner.
 Where can I see you this afternoon ?
 At home.
 What day of the month is this ?
 The thirtieth of January, 1848.

¿ Adonde va V ?
 A la Lonja.
 ¿ De donde viene V. ?
 De mi escritorio.
 ¿ Por donde vino V. ?
 Por la calle Ancha.
 ¿ Con quien vino V. ?
 Con mi soco, (compañero.)
 ¿ En donde prodré ver á V esta tarde ? En casa.
 ¿ A cuantos estamos hoy ?
 A treinta de Enero de 1848.

REMARK.—The pronouns who, whom, (quien, que), which, that, (que), and the conjunction that, (que), although they are frequently omitted in English, must always be expressed in Spanish. The attention of the learner is particularly requested on this subject. Examples:—

He thinks you are in the right.
 The man you were speaking to.
 The letter she wrote.
 They thought he would do it.
 Do you believe he will consent ?

El cree que V. tiene razon.
 El hombre á quien V. hablaba.
 La carta que ella escribió.
 Ellos pensaron que él lo haría.
 ¿ Cree V. que él consienta ?

RULE 32. The possessive pronouns conjunctive, referring to the parts or limbs of the body, or other things of common use in or about it, are generally expressed by the definite article ; as,

She saw him move his hand, and lay it upon his sword.

Ella le vió encaminar la mano á ponerla en la espada.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi.

She threw her arms about his neck.

Ella le echó los brazos al cuello.

Ditto, ditto.

Her, as an objective case of the personal pronoun, must be translated la or le, according to its relation to the verb ; and when it is preceded by a preposition, by ella. As a possessive pronoun it must be expressed by su, sus, suyo, &c., (de V.) de ella ; as,

They invited her, and with that object they wrote her a letter.
 The book was for her
 She lost her gloves.
 He looked for her handkerchief.

Ellos la convidaron, y con este objeto le escribiéron una carta.
 El libro era para ella.
 Ella perdió sus guantes.
 El busca el pañuelo de ella.

In the last example her is not translated su in order to avoid the ambiguity, because su might mean in Spanish either his or her.

As the pronouns his, hers, yours, theirs, when they stand alone are translated suyo, which pronoun agrees in gender and number with the person or thing possessed, and not with the possessor, as in English ; whenever an ambiguity may arise from the use of that pronoun alone, the pronoun that represents the person of the possessor, preceded by de, is to be repeated after it, or used in its stead ; as, Send me his (book, m. s.)—Envíeme V. el suyo de él ; or better, el de él alone.

Possessive pronouns must be repeated before every substantive in a sentence, though not expressed in English ; as,

He bought his hat and gloves in John street.

El compró su sombrero y sus guantes en la calle de Juan.

Suffer me to avail myself of the prop from which you could not disengage me with all your importunities, threats, promises, nor presents.

Dejadme llegar al arrimo de quien no me han podido apartar vuestras importunaciones, vuestras amenasas, vuestras promesas, ni vuestras dádivas.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi. pt. ii.

OF THE VERB.

RULE 33.—A verb having several pronouns of different persons for its subject, (nominative,) must agree in the plural with the first of them in order ; as,

You, he, and I will do it.

V. él y yo lo harémos.

Thou and she wrote well.

Tú y ella escribisteis bien.

In the first example the verb is placed in the first person plural, because the pronoun I, together with the other two, is the same as we ; and in the second, because the two pronouns may be expressed by you.

They left Zoraida and me by ourselves, and we are going to see whether my father is still alive.

Solos quedamos Zoraida y yo, y vamos con intencion de ver si mi padre es vivo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xi.

The person speaking, out of civility always names himself the last.

When Usted and a pronoun of the third person singular form the subject of a verb, the verb is in the third person plural ; as,

You and he saw them.

Usted y él los vieron.

Obs. 24. A verb having for a subject a noun in the singular, that comprehends in itself the sense of the other subjects of the same verb preceding it, should it be the last, or the nearest to the verb, must agree with it in the singular ; as,

So that the solitude of the place, the darkness of the night, the noise of the water and rustling of the leaves, all together, caused horror and dismay.

De manera que la soledad, el sitio la oscuridad, el ruido del agua con el susurro de las hojas, todo causaba horror y espanto.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xx. pt. i.

Obs. 25. When the subject is a common noun plural, in which the speaker is included, the verb is placed in the first person plural ; as,

The Spaniards, whenever they have a choice, incline to that which is most difficult.

Los Españoles siempre que tenemos elección, nos inclinamos á lo mas dificultoso.

SOLIS, lib. iii. cap. viii.

Obs. 26. Two or more subjects of different number, connected by an adversative conjunction, require that the verb shall agree with the last of them ; as,

Not only the mother and the daughters, but the father also was then dead.

No solamente la madre y las hijas, sino tambien el padre habia muerto entónces. M'HENRY.

RULE 34.—Collective nouns definite, or such as denote a determinate number of persons or things, require the verb in the singular ; as, Seest thou that cloud of dust ? The whole of it is raised by a vast army of various and innumerable nations that are marching that way.

¿ Ves aquella polvareda ? Toda es cuajada de un copiosísimo ejército de diversas é innumerables gentes, que por allí viene marchando.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xviii

Collective nouns indefinite must have the verbs in the plural ; as,

Be that as it may, these people are carried, but not voluntarily, they are driven by force.

Como quiera que ello sea, esta gente, aunque los llevan, van de por fuerza. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii.

Particular care, however, must be paid to the logical sense of the phrase, for it may sometimes require the singular ; as,

The greatest number of the people of the castle, who did not know the truth of the case, were surprised and astonished.

La mayor parte de la gente del castillo que no sabia la verdad del caso estaba suspensa y admirada.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xvi. pt. ii.

RULE 35.—An active transitive verb requires the noun that is the object of its action, in the objective case ; and the preposition á must besides be prefixed to it, when the said object signifies a person or thing personified, or is a proper noun ; as,

Don Fernando, Cardenio, Lucinda, and Dorothea were struck dumb with astonishment, gazing in silence to one another.

Callaban todos, y mirábanse todos, Dorotea á Don Fernando, Don Fernando á Cardenio, Cardenio á Lucinda, y Lucinda á Cardenio. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi.

We must conquer gluttony and sloth by temperance and watchfulness.

Hemos de conquistar á la gula y al sueño en el poco comer, y en el mucho velar. Ditto, cap. viii.

Next year he attacked the Goleta.

El año siguiente acometió á la Goleta. Ditto, cap. xxxix.

Obs. 27 The preposition á is not used before the pronouns me, te, se, nos, os, le, los, la, las, les, lo ; but it is required before the other cases of said pronouns ; as,

My beauty compels you to love me.

A que me ameis os mueve mi hermosura. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.

Who would give thee islands to govern?

¿ Quien te habia de dar á tí islas que gobernar?

Ditto, cap. liv. pt. ii.

Obs. 28. Active-transitive, and even intransitive verbs, and those signifying to adhere, to accede to, &c., require the preposition á, even before other objects, to prevent ambiguity; as,

The old man found a little kid that its mother had lost.

El viejo halló un cabrito que habia perdido á su madre.

Obs. 29. An active-transitive verb, having both as object and complement two nouns or pronouns, signifying rational beings, both cases requiring the position á, suppresses it before the object direct, and retains it before the object indirect or complement; as,

My dear father, I recommend to you the innocent Laura.

Querido padre, yo os recomiendo la inocente Laura.

I am not your daughter, you have taken away from me my husband.

Yo no soy vuestra hija, vos me habeis quitado mi esposo.

JOVELLANOS, El Delincuente,
[act v. sc. 3, 5]

RULE 36. The present of the infinitive mood in English, used substantively as a subject or object of another verb, does not admit any preposition before it in Spanish, and frequently takes the article el; as,

I have always heard it said, that to confer benefits on base-minded people is like throwing water into the sea.

Siempre he oido decir que el hacer bien á villanos, es echar agua en el mar.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxiii

I swear to go with you.

Yo juro ir con vos.

Ditto, cap. xxx.

Obs. 30. The verbs, will, shall, may, could, &c., when they are not auxiliary, but expressed by querer, deber, or poder, govern the verb that follows immediately after them in the present infinitive without a preposition; as,

I could do no less than answer him.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xxxii.

He would not pass these things in silence.

El no quiso pasar estas cosas en silencio.

Ditto, cap. xvi.

RULE 37.—Verbs implying, to move, to begin, to compel, to teach, to learn, to exhort, to invite, to assist, to oppose, to accustom, &c., govern the verb that depends on them in the present of the infinitive mood, and generally require the preposition á; as,

The innkeeper returned to see what his guest commanded.

El ventero volvió á ver lo que su huésped mandaba.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. ii

The companions of the wounded began to discharge a shower of stone upon Don Quixote.

Los compañeros de los heridos comenzaron á llover piedras sobre Don Quijote. D. QUIJ. cap. iii

Obs. 31. Verbs implying motion, govern the noun or verb, denoting from whence the motion proceeds, with de; the noun or verb which points out its direction, with á; and the noun expressing the space through which it passes, with por; as,

I come from the city of Baeza, in company with eleven other priests, and we are going to the city of Segovia.

Vengo de la ciudad de Baeza con otros once sacerdotes, y vamos á la ciudad de Segovia.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xix

As he entered the street of St. Jago, in Madrid, a judge was coming through it.

Al entrar en la calle de Santiago en Madrid, venía á salir por ella un Alcalde. Ditto, cap. xlviii.

RULE 38.—The present or active participle in English, being alone in the phrase, must be literally translated; as,

So saying, she entered into the thickest part of a wood.

Y en diciendo esto, se entró en lo mas cerrado de un bosque.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.

Obs. 32. The English present participle, referring to a noun that is an object of the former verb, may be translated in the gerund, in the infinitive or in the indicative mood, according to the sense of the phrase; as,

I saw the boys playing, (that is, whilst they were playing.)

Yo ví á los muchachos jugando, (or jugar, or que jugaban.)

Obs. 33. Words ending in English in ing, prefixed to a common noun, are used as verbal adjectives; and they are most frequently translated by the Spanish participles terminating in ante or iente; as,

A loving father,

Un padre amante,

An obedient son,

Un hijo obediente,

The constituting assembly,

La asamblea constituyente, from the verbs amar, obedecer, constituir. But as not all the Spanish verbs have active participles, and as verbal adjectives in ante or iente can not be formed of all of them, the learner, before translating the English words terminating in ing, must consult the dictionary in order to find out the proper word to be used in the translation; as,

An affecting scene.

Una escena sensible, (not afectante.)

Meddling people.

Gente entremetida, (not entremetiente.)

Presuming ideas.

Ideas presuntuosas, (not presumientes.)

Obs. 34. A substantive, compounded of a present participle and a common noun, is generally translated by a particular name; as,

A speaking-trumpet.

Una vocina.

It is also expressed by the infinitive mood of the verb, and even by a substantive derived from it, preceded in either case by the preposition de ; as,

A repeating-watch.

Un reloj de repeticion.

A fishing-rod.

Una caña de pescar.

RULE 39.—The English present or active participle, being preceded by a preposition, is translated by the present of the infinitive mood after the same preposition ; as,

Wilt thou still persist, Sancho, in saying, thinking, believing, and affirming, that Dulcinea was employed in such a mean object ?

¿ Que todavía das, Sancho, en decir, en pensar, en creer, y en afirmar que Dulcinea estaba ocupada en tan vil oficio ?

DON QUIJOTE, cap. viii.

Obs 35. When the preposition is by, the English participle is frequently translated by the Spanish gerund, suppressing the preposition ; as,

And by doing it you will oblige him to sign the deed.

Y haciéndolo, V. le obligará á firmar la escritura.

He lost his place by speaking too freely.

El perdió su plaza por hablar con demasiada libertad.

Obs 36. The English present participle used substantively with an article, is translated either as a substantive or in the present of the infinitive mood with the article ; as,

The commencing of a thing is as good as half completing it.

El comenzar las cosas es tenerlas medio acabadas.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xli.

Obs 37. When the present participle of the verb to be, (being,) followed by a past participle, points out the action expressed by the latter as present and continuing, it is translated by the verb estar in the corresponding tense, preceded by the pronoun se, and the past participle is rendered by the Spanish gerund ; as,

To let, one of the two houses now being finished in Pearl street.

Se alquila una de las dos casas, que se estan acabando en la calle de la Perla.

REMARK.

The following rules are devoted to the explanation of the tenses that claim particular notice : no mention, therefore, is made of those of which the literal translation is sufficient.

RULE 40.—As the tense called in English the Imperfect of the Indicative, may be translated into Spanish by the Imperfect Tense, N. 2, or by the Preterit Indefinite, N 3, as it has been explained in Lesson XL, pages 157-8, to the directions therein given the following explanations are added, the better to elucidate this subject.

1. When the imperfect tense in English expresses an action or a state of things that was going on at some time past, but was still unfinished or incomplete, it must be translated in the imperfect tense in Spanish ; as,

In a town of La Mancha there lived a gentleman.....He maintained a female housekeeper turned of forty, and a niece who was not quite twenty.

En un lugar de la Mancha vivió un hidalgo.....Tenía en su casa una ama, que pasaba de los cuarenta, y una sobrina que no llegaba á los veinte. D. QUIJOTE, cap. i.

2. This tense denotes a former progressive state of existence; as,
I told him I thought about the preface.

Yo le dije que pensaba en el prólogo
D. QUIJOTE, Preface

That is to say, I was thinking.

3. It expresses a time present, with respect to another past, or that something was being done at a time in which another circumstance happened; as,

He died on the road to Constantinople, whither they were carrying him.

El murió en el camino de Constantinopla, adonde le llevaban cautivo. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxix.

4. It denotes the recurrence or repetition of an action, at a time which is past; as,

This said gentleman, the hours that he was at leisure, (which were the greatest part of the year,) he ad-dicted himself to the reading of the books of chivalry.

Este dicho hidalgo los ratos que estaba ocioso, (que eran los mas del año,) se daba á leer libros de Caballerías.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. i.

5. The customs, habits, characters, professions, or occupations of individuals, when they are no longer in existence, or have undergone some change or alteration, are expressed by the imperfect; as,

He was of a rough constitution..... and was called Quijana.

El era de complexion recia.....y se llamaba Quijana.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. i.

The curate of his village was a learned man.

El cura de su lugar era hombre sabio. Ditto, ditto.

But Master Nicholas, who was the barber of the same village, affirmed that none of them equalled the Knight of the Sun.

Pero Maese Nicolas, que era el barbero del mismo pueblo, decía que ninguno igualaba al caballero del Febo. Ditto, ditto.

6. The verbs that imply continuance, or that express a state of things that was continued for some time or period, without any reference to the commencement, duration, or end of the action which they express, must be translated by the imperfect tense; as;

He was a native of Calabria, and treated his slaves with great humanity.

Era Calabres de nacion, y trataba con mucha humanidad á sus cautivos. D. QUIJOTE, cap. xlv.

Don Antonio Moreno was called Don Quixote's entertainer, and he tried to find means, &c.

Don Antonio Moreno se llamaba el huésped de Don Quijote, y andaba buscando medios, &c.

Ditto, cap. lxii.

REMARK.—It may, therefore, be considered as a rule, that whenever the English imperfect tense may be expressed by the verb to be and the present participle of the same verb, or by the verbs used to, in the habit of, accustomed to, &c., preserving the sense of the phrase, it must be translated in Spanish by the imperfect tense.

But as the imperfect tense is frequently expressed in English by the auxiliary verb did, the scholar, before translating the principal verb, must ascertain whether did means at that time or then, expressing the action as entirely finished and completed, without requiring any other verb; or whether the verb following did may be rendered by to be and the present participle, as explained in the preceding paragraph. If the verb to which did is prefixed may be translated by the verb to be and the present participle, the verb must be translated by the imperfect tense in Spanish. But if the verb connected with did expresses an action entirely past, and that cannot be translated by to be and the present participle, without changing the meaning of the phrase, then it must be rendered by the preterit, N. 3, in Spanish; as,

Don Quixote did thank him for his good will, took a little sustenance, Sancho ate voraciously, and then both laid themselves down to sleep.

Agradecióselo Don Quijote, comió algo, y Sancho mucho, y echaronse á dormir entrámbos.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. lix. pt. ii.

In the preceding example, the verbs took, ate, laid down, might be expressed by did take, did eat, did lay down; but not by was taking, eating, or laying down; the verb consequently must be translated in the preterit, N. 3, (as in the example,) and not in the imperfect tense.

RULE 41.—The imperfect tense of the subjunctive mood has three terminations, the first ending in ara or iera, N. 7; the second in aria, eria, or iria, N. 8; the third in ase or iese, N. 9.

1. The terminations ara or iera, ase or iese, ought to be used when the verb is governed by a conditional conjunction; and the verb that completes the sense of the sentence, (whether it be placed before or after the governing verb,) must be placed in the termination aria, eria, or iria, according to its conjugation; as,

If chance and fortune had not favored me, the world would have been deprived of this pleasure.

Si el acaso y la fortuna no me ayudaran, el mundo quedaría falto de este gusto. D. QUIJOTE, cap. ix.

2. When there is in English an inversion in the phrase, the sentence must be set first in the regular form, prefixing the corresponding conjunction to the verb; as,

Were it not, (if it were not,) because I do certainly know that all these inconveniences are annexed to the exercise of arms, I would lie still where I am, and die with pure vexation

Si no fuera, porque sé muy cierto que todas estas incomodidades están anejas al ejercicio de las armas, aquí me dejaría morir de puro enojo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xv

3. When the sentence begins without a conditional conjunction, the terminations ra, 7, or ria, 8, may be used; and the verb necessary to complete the sense, (should there be any,) must be placed in the termination ase or iese, according to its conjugation; as,

I would not like that princes and kings run themselves into such dangers.

No querría (quisera) yo que los príncipes, y los reyes, se pudiesen en semejantes peligros.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxiv. pt. ñ

The termination ara or iera, is generally used in ejaculation; as,

Who could describe now the throbbings of my heart, while I remained there!

¡ Quien pudiera decir ahora los sobresaltos que me dió el corazón, mientras allí estuve !

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxvii.

4. Two or more verbs in the imperfect tense of the subjunctive, governed by the same conjunction, or completing the sense of the same phrase, must be placed in the termination chosen for the first of them, whether ra, se, or ria, as,

The archbishop ordered one of his chaplains to go to the rector and inquire into the truth, and even to talk with the madman himself, and that if he should think that he was recovered, he might bring him away, and set him at liberty.

El arzobispo mandó á un capellán suyo que se informase (informara) del rector si era verdad, y que así mismo hablase con el loco, y que si le pareciese que tenía juicio, le sacase y pudiese en libertad.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. i. pt. ii.

5. When the imperfect tense of the subjunctive mood is governed by a verb in any of the past tenses of the indicative, and the governing verb signifies to speak, to think, to believe, or any other of the like meaning, any of the three terminations may be used with the conjunction que; provided the verb to be placed in the subjunctive mood has, as its subject or nominative, any other person but the one speaking; as,

I said that he would come.

I did say that he would come.

I have said that he would come.

I had said that he would come.

Yo decia que él

Yo dije que él

Yo he dicho que él

Yo habia dicho que él

viniera.

vendría.

viniese.

But when the verb governed or subordinate, has the same subject or nominative as the leading or governing verb, only the termination ria is used; as,

It is not that, said Sancho, but because I would not have any secret rot in my keeping.

No es eso, dijo Sancho, sino que yo no querría que se me pudiesen de guardadas.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xvii.

It must be observed, that although any of the terminations may be used with the above-mentioned verbs, the termination ra generally indicates duty or obligation on the part of its subject, and the termination ria merely implies futurity or possibility; as,

The master told his servant to do it immediately.	El amo dijo a su criado que lo hiciera inmediatamente
The mistress promised that her servant would do it.	El ama prometió que su criada lo haría.

REMARK.

The use of the Subjunctive Mood is fully explained in Lessons LXXVIII., (351,) LXXIX., (356,) LXXX., (362,) and LXXXI., (368,) which the scholar is advised frequently and attentively to study, in order to make himself perfectly well acquainted with the rules therein set forth.

RULE 42.—Will and would, shall and should, can and could, may and might, used as auxiliaries, point out the tense of the verb that follows them, which is the only one that must be translated. But when they are used as principal verbs, they are translated querer, deber, poder.

1. When the emphasis of the phrase lies on the verb that follows them, will and shall point out the future of the indicative, and shall and should sometimes the future of the subjunctive; as,

She will come to-morrow.	Ella vendrá mañana.
He shall do it to-day.	El lo hará hoy.
Should they write, please to let me know it.	Si ellos escribieren, pídease V. avisármelo.

Obs. 38. Will means the free determination, or ready disposition to do a thing. Shall, in the first person, simply indicates and declares, in English, what will take place; in the second and third persons, it implies a promise, command, and determination; and in the interrogative sentences, permission or direction. In translating these two verbs, attention must be paid to these remarks.

Therefore, he will not do it may mean he is not willing to do it, or he will not be willing to do it, or he certainly shall not do it, according to the sense of the preceding sentences. This phrase in the first example must be translated by the present of the indicative of the verb querer—él no quiere hacerlo; in the second, will is to be placed in the future of the same verb—él no querrá hacerlo; and in the third, the auxiliary will is not translated, and the verb to do (hacer) is translated in the future—él no lo hará.

The same rule is to be observed with may and can, which may be translated by the present of the indicative or subjunctive of the verb poder*, or in the present of the subjunctive of the principal verb.

2 When will and would are not joined to any verb, they must be translated by querer, (to wish, to be willing, to desire, to like;) as,

Why do you not write to-day?	¿Porqué no escribe V. hoy?
Because I will not, (I wont.)	Porque no quiero, (no me da la gana.)
He begged his uncle to sign, but he would not.	El suplicó á su tío que firmara, pero él no quiso.

3. Will and would, though followed by a verb, are translated by querer when they are used emphatically to express an absolute wish ; as,

He will be obeyed without any excuse. | El quiere ser obedecido sin excusa alguna.

They would have him go, and he was obliged to do it. | Ellos quisieron que él fuera, y estuvo obligado á hacerlo.

4. Would denotes sometimes the repetition of an act, or a custom, or the habit of doing a thing, and then it is frequently rendered by soler, usar, acostumbrar, or by the verb that follows it, in all cases in the imperfect of the indicative ; as,

In the summer the old man would sit at his cottage door, and draw letters in the sand for his darling. | En el verano el viejo solía (acostumbraba) sentarse á la puerta de su choza y dibujaba letras en la arena para su queridito ; or, El viejo se sentaba á la puerta, &c.

5. Should, used for ought to, denoting duty or necessity of acting, is translated by deber, in the tense of the other verb in the English sentence, or in the imperfect tense of the subjunctive ; as,

You should not do that, since you know it is wrong. | V. no debe (debiera or deberia) hacerlo, pues sabe que es malo.

If he wishes to do it, he should ask permission before. | Si él desea hacer eso, él debe antes (debiera or deberia) pedir permiso

6. Can and could, may and might, signifying possibility, are translated by poder, (to be able ;) as,

You can speak to him whenever you please ; but they may not take that liberty. | V. puede hablarle siempre que quiera ; pero ellos no pueden tomarse esa libertad.

If I could, I would write. | Si yo pudiera, escribiría.

He might do it, if he pleased. | El podría hacerlo, si quisiera.

7. The auxiliaries would, could, should, might, being followed by have and a past participle, must be translated by poder, querer, deber, in the imperfect tense of the indicative, or in the termination, ra, N. 7, or ria, N. 8, of the imperfect of the subjunctive, according to the sense of the phrase, when the emphasis is on any of the said auxiliaries, leaving the verb have in the present of the infinitive ; but when the emphasis is not on them, but in to have, this is translated by haber in the corresponding tense, followed by the participle querido, podido, or debido ; as,

He should have spoken to them in time ; but he would not, and consequently he lost the best opportunity. | El les debía (debiera or deberia) haber hablado en tiempo ; pero no quiso, y por consiguiente perdió la mejor oportunidad.

I could have seen them, but I did not know that they were in town. | Yo hubiera podido verlos, pero no supe que estaban en la ciudad.

- You could have written it.	{ V. podía haberle escrito. V. pudiera (podría) haberle escrito V. había podido escribirle. V. hubiera (habría) podido escribirle.
They should have paid it.	{ Ellos debían haberle pagado. Ellos debieran (deberían) haberle pagado. Ellos le habían debido pagar. Ellos le hubieran (habrían) debido pagar.

REMARK.

The scholar is reminded carefully to examine and ascertain the meaning of the phrases containing will, would, could, &c., before translating them; for, as it has been explained, these verbs may or may not be translated and placed in the indicative or in the subjunctive mood.

OF THE PARTICIPLE.

The Spanish past or passive participle, coming immediately after the verb haber, does not admit any change, (118;) as,

Let the shoes and bleeding stand for the stripes you have given him without cause; for if he wore out the leather of the shoes you paid for, you have torn the skin from his body.

Quédense los zapatos y las sangrias por los azotes, que sin culpa, le habeis dado, que si él rompió el cuero de los zapatos que vos pagasteis, vos le habeis rotpido el de su cuerpo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. iv.

The passive participle, after the verbs ser and estar, changes its termination, like an adjective, according to the number and gender of the noun or pronoun it refers to. It does the same after tener, when it is used as an active verb; as,

I am Pasamonte, whose life is written by these fingers.

Yo soy Pasamonte, cuya vida esta escrita por estos pulgares.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii.

I have written a letter to my wife.

Yo tengo escrita una carta á mi mujer. Ditto, cap. xxxvi pt ii

The passive participle is often elegantly used at the beginning of a sentence, like the ablative absolute in Latin; as,

Don Quixote starting up, and trembling from head to foot, said.

Levantado en pié Don Quijote, y temblando de los piés á la cabeza, dijo.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxii. pt ii.

Obs. 39 Words ending in ado or ido are participles, when they have the same meaning and government as the verbs from which they may be formed, having also a reference to time ; otherwise they are adjectives and have a different signification ; as,

The captain being informed of the danger, could avoid it.	Advertido el capitan del peligro, pudo evitarle.
---	---

The cautious captain avoided the danger.	El advertido capitan evitó el peligro
--	--

Advertido, in the first example, is a past participle ; in the second, an adjective.

There are some words in ado and ido, that have both an active and a passive signification, and may be used as verbal adjectives ; as,

Tired, tiresome.	Cansado.
Measured, unassuming, prudent.	Medido.
Caused, provoking.	Ocasionado

OF THE ADVERB.

The following quotations from Cervantes, corroborate the rules already laid down for the Adverb.

When an adverb modifies a verb, it is generally placed after the verb ; when it modifies an adjective or another adverb, it is generally placed before, (106.) Except the adverbs of negation, as well as any other word expressing a negative, and when the adverbs are emphatically used, for then they are placed before the verb ; as,

I confess that I was wrong, and did not speak correctly.	Yo confieso que anduve mal, y no dije bien.
--	--

As Horace did with so much elegance.	D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxiii. pt. ii. Como tan elegantemente lo hizo Horacio.
--------------------------------------	--

Ditto, cap. xvi. pt. ii.

Nada, (nothing,) nadie or ninguno, (nobody,) nunca and jamas, (never,) when placed after the verb, require no or ni before it ; as,

Camacho the rich, in order to show how little he resented or thought of the trick, desired that the entertainments might proceed.	El rico Camacho por mostrar que no sentia la burla, ni la estimaba en nada, quiso que las fiestas pasasen adelante.
---	--

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxi. pt. ii

Two negatives make the phrase more elegant in Spanish ; thus, No quiero nada, (I want nothing,) is more energetic than, nada quiero.

I say nothing, answered Sancho.	No digo nada, respondió Sancho
We are not at all in one another's debt.	No nos debemos nada.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxii. pt. ii.

The conjunction but, preceded by a negative in the same sentence, have generally be translated sino, and sometimes mas que or mas de ; as,

Sir, melancholy was not made for beasts but for men; and yet if men encourage melancholy too much, they become no better than beasts.

As if their profession (the military) was the office of a common porter, for which nothing else is wanting but good strength

Señor, las tristezas no se hicieron para las bestias sino para los hombres; pero si los hombres las sienten demasiado, se vuelven bestias.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xi. pt. ii.

Como si fuese su ejercicio (el de las armas) oficio de ganapanes para el cual no es menester mas de buenas fuerzas.

Ditto, cap. xxvii.

When two or more adverbs ending in mente, follow in succession in the same sentence, that termination is added to the last of them only, changing the others in the feminine termination, if they admit of it; as,

Cardenio heard these words very plainly and distinctly.

Oyó estas azotes Cardenio bien clara (clara) y distintamente.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xxxvi.

Nunca and jamás signify never, and are used separately or together; in the latter case, nunca must be placed before jamás, and thus they give greater energy to the phrase; as,

I shall never, never see them again. | Yo nunca jamás los volveré á ver.

Jamás is often used after siempre, (ever;) as, por siempre jamás, which means, for ever and ever.

No is sometimes used redundantly, to give more force to the sentence; as,

The mighty Homer did not write in Latin, because he was a Greek; nor Virgil in Greek, because he was a Roman.

El grande Homero no escribió en latin, porque era Griego; ni Virgilio no escribió en griego, porque era Latino.

D. QUIJOTE, cap. xv pt. ii.

OF THE PREPOSITION.

The government of the verbs through the prepositions is so varied, as to render it very difficult to explain and comprise it in a few rules adapted to the capacity of the younger classes of learners. The student, therefore, is requested to consult the "List of the Prepositions required by certain Verbs," &c., placed at the end of this part; and also a good dictionary, in which he will find the several meanings of the verbs in consequence of the prepositions that accompany them.

As the English prepositions for and by, may be translated into Spanish by para and por, the following rules and examples are laid down to assist the learner in the use of them.

PARA.

When for is used to denote the end or motive, the use of things, the relation or respect of one thing to another, it is generally translated para; as,
 The honor of the invention will be El honor de la invencion será para for him él.

It has been a great loss for them. Ha sido una gran pérdida para ellos

The letter was for my friend. La carta era para mi amigo.

For, with verbs of motion, is translated para, and also when it refers to time; as,

Mr. I. G. sailed for Europe last week. El señor I. G. salió para Europa la semana pasada.

We will leave it for to-morrow. Lo dejáremos para mañana.

To, when denoting the end or motive of acting, and signifying for the purpose of, in order to, the use of, is translated para; as,

He went to settle his accounts with them, and to buy a new assortment for his store. El fué para ajustar sus cuentas con ellos, y para comprar un nuevo surtido para su almacén.

I read to instruct myself. Yo leo para instruirme.

Para is used to express capacity or incapacity, fitness or unfitness, inclination or disinclination, disposition or propensity; as,

He is not a man to undertake it. No es hombre para emprenderlo

He is fit for every thing. Es hombre para todo.

That is fit for nothing. Eso no es bueno para nada.

He is always inclined to play. El siempre está para jugar.

In order that, considering, &c., may also be expressed by para; as,

She knows a great deal for her age. Ella sabe mucho para su edad.

POR.

For, meaning by, through, for the sake of, by means of, in favor or jealousy of, in exchange of, &c., is translated por; as,

She obtained it through her brother. Ella lo consiguió por su hermano.

Pardon your enemies for God's sake. Perdonad á vuestros enemigos por amor de Dios.

He did it for his friend, (él lo hizo por su amigo.) This phrase means, he did it for the sake, or instead of his friend. Should para be substituted for por, it would signify, he did it for the use, benefit, or advantage of, or merely to please his friend.

For, with reference to time, or price, is translated por; as,

He is gone into the country for a week. El se ha ido al campo por una semana.

I paid five dollars for the hat. Pagué cinco pesos por el sombrero.

Por, before the infinitive of a verb, indicates sometimes the same as without; at other times in order to, so as to, or to; and also a future action; as,

The letters are yet to be written.
 He did it not to be thought insensible.
 The answer is about to come.
 The house is not yet finished.

*Las cartas estan por escribir.
 Lo hizo para no pasar por insensible
 La respuesta está por venir.
 La casa está por acabar.*

Por, between two nouns, or two verbs in the present of the infinitive, denotes the choice between two things, as,

If I am to choose between an emperor and other emperor, between a monarch and other monarch, I have the great Count of Lemos, at Naples.

Emperador por Emperador, y Monarca por Monarca, en Nápoles tengo al gran Conde de Lemos
 D. QUIJOTE, Dedication, pt. I.

Por is often prefixed to an adverb, and becomes an adverbial expression; as

On the top, por encima. | Underneath, por debajo.

Prepositions require the noun or pronoun governed by them to be in the objective case. Personal pronouns, governed by a preposition expressed, must be placed in the indirect objective case or complement: except the pronouns me and thee, which, in conformity with the modern use, are placed in the nominative when they are governed by the preposition entre, (between;) as,

Judge whether it will be reasonable to lay his sufferings to me.

Ved si será razonable que de su pena se me dé á mí la culpa.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xiv.

For your desire to know what is between us,——O'ermaster it as you may.

Reprimid cuanto os fuere posible el deseo de saber lo que ha pasado entre él y yo. HAMLET, act i.,
 [translated by MORATIN]

REMARK.

When an English verb is accompanied by, or ends in a preposition, as, She asks for the letter, he asked after you, they could not bring it about, the scholar must first ascertain whether the preposition constitutes a part of the verb, so as to make one single meaning with it, or whether it gives the verb a different signification or not: if the preposition with the verb have one single meaning, the preposition is not translated; if it gives the verb a different signification, it must be translated as directed in the dictionary. In the first of the above examples for makes a part of the verb pedir, and it is not translated, ella pide la carta. In the second it gives a different meaning to the verb to ask, and is translated, él pregunta por V. In the third it is not translated, because it is also a part of the verb, which in that case signifies conseguir; thus, ellos no pudieron conseguirlo.

They made a secret of it, but he at last found it out. | Hicieron secreto de ello; pero él al fin le descubrió.

As the grammatical order of the prepositions is frequently inverted in English, and in the colloquial style, the object of them is for shortness sake sometimes omitted; the scholar must take care to put such phrases in their proper order, and to supply the word or words wanting, as the transition of a sentence would be otherwise very incorrect. Examples:—

Be careful in selecting the persons you accompany yourself with. Invert the construction thus, Be careful in selecting the persons with whom you accompany yourself.—Tenga V. buen cuidado en la elección de las personas con quienes se acompañe Where do you come from? (from whence do you come?)—¿De donde viene V.? Where are you going to? (to what part are you going?)—¿Adonde va V.? Eyes were made to see with, (to see with them.)—Los ojos se hicieron para ver, or para ver con ellos.

OF THE CONJUNCTION.

The conjunction é is used instead of y, when the word coming after it begins with i or hi; as,

The authors of other nations conclude that we are barbarous and ignorant.

Both mother and son were struck with the uncouth figure of Don Quixote.

U is employed instead of ó when the following word begins with o or ho; as,

This does not differ at all from any speech in the play of "The most prodigious Black Man," or other such.

But they could not say whether it was a woman or a man who called them.

Ni requires the verb in the plural; as,

Neither I nor my master ever set eyes on her.

Los autores extranjeros nos tienen por bárbaros é ignorantes.

DON QUIJOTE, cap. xlviii.

Madre é hijo quedaron suspensos de ver la extraña figura de Don Quixote. Ditto, cap. xviii. pt. ii.

Esto no se distingue de una relación de "El Negro mas prodigioso," ú otra semejante.

CADALSO, Los Eruditos.

Pero no podian decir, si era mujer ú hombre quien los llamaba.

ISLA, cartas

Ni yo, ni mi amo la hemos visto jamas. D. QUIJOTE, cap. x. pt. ii

OF THE INTERJECTION.

Alas! how much more agreeable will be the company of these rocks!

Ah, Lucinda! Lucinda! take care what you do!.....Ha! treacherous Don Fernando, robber of my glory!

O fatal star of my destiny!

Ah, ha! cried the curate, have we got giants too in the dance?

¡Ay desdichada! ¡y cuan mas agradable compañía harán estos riscos. Ditto, cap. xxviii.

¡Ah, Lucinda! Lucinda! mira lo que haces!..... Ah traidor, Don Fernando, robador de mi gloria! Ditto, cap. xxvii.

Ditto, cap. xxvii.

¡Ta, ta! dijo el cura, ¿jayanes hay en lo danza? Do. cap. xi

THE IRREGULAR VERBS.

A verb is called irregular when, in some of its persons, it either takes letters that are not in its radicals, or suppresses or changes them, or the termination of its respective conjugation; as tener, to have; tengo, I have; tuve, I had; tendré, I shall have: instead of teno, tent, teneré. Dar, to give; doy, I give; di, I gave: instead of do, de

VERBS THAT, ON ACCOUNT OF THEIR PRONUNCIATION, REQUIRE A CHANGE IN THEIR RADICAL LETTERS.

1. Verbs ending in CAR change the c into qu						When the first letter of the termination is
2.	"	"	CKER	"	O	"	Z
3.	"	"	CIR	"	O	"	Z
4.	"	"	GER 1	"	G	"	J
5.	"	"	GIR 1	"	G	"	J
6.	"	"	QUIR	"	QU	"	O
7.	"	"	GUIR 2	drop	U
8.	"	"	GAR	add	U
9.	"	"	ZAR	change	Z	"	O

" " " O or A

" " " E

Obs. 1 and 2. Verbs ending in ger and gir, are written at present by many learned persons with j instead of g, in all the tenses; thus, escojer, escojt, &c.

Obs. 3. Verbs ending in uir drop the u, when it is liquid, in the infinitive mood, as in seguir; but they retain it when it is fully sounded, as in arguir.

Obs. 4. In the following examples, explanatory of the preceding rules, only the first person of an irregular tense is laid down, as it is easy to form the rest. When only one person is irregular, it is followed by the regular one, after which the rest may be formed. Examples:—

MARCAR, marqué, marcaste, &c. Marque, &c.—VENCER, venzo, vences, &c. Venza, &c.—RESARCIR, resarzo, resarces, &c. Resarza, &c.—ESCOGER, escojo, escoges, &c. Escoja, &c.—ELEGIR, elijo, eliges, &c. Elija, &c.—DELINQUIR, delinco, delinques, &c. Delinca, &c.—SEGUIR, sigo, sigues, &c. Siga, &c.—PAGAR, pagué, pagaste, &c. Pague, &c.—ALCANZAR, alcancé, alcanzaste, &c. Alcance, &c.

Obs. 5. The verbs of the third conjugation ending in llir or ñir, suppress the i of the termination when it is immediately followed by o or e; as, engullir, to swallow; engulleron, they swallowed; reñir, to fight.

While our masters are fighting, we must fight also.

Mientras nuestros dueños riñeren, nosotros hemos de reñir también.
D. QUIJOTE, cap. xiv. pt. ii.

VERBS THAT ARE IRREGULAR IN THEIR RADICAL LETTERS.

The number of the Irregular Verbs in the Spanish language is upwards of five hundred and fifty; forty of which confine their irregularities to themselves, their compounds, and a few other verbs; the rest are arranged into several classes.

REMARK—In the following collection of verbs, only the irregular tenses and persons are laid down, and printed in italics: the regular ones are in Roman characters. The tenses and persons omitted are formed in the regular way.

GENERAL RULES

1. Verbs of the second and third conjugations that have а, э, or u for the last of their radical letters, change the и, by which the termination begins, into у, when said и is immediately followed by к or о; as

VERBS.			GERUND.	PRET. INDEF.	N. 3.
			Termination	3 p. sing. term.	3 p. pl. term.
		Rad. letters	iendo.	io.	ieron.
Caer ,	to fall,	ca	cayendo	cayó	cayéron
Leer ,	to read,	le	leyendo	leyó	leyéron
Atribuir ,	to attribute,	atribu	atribuyendo	atribuyó	atribuyéron

Obs. 6. The same change of i into y takes place in all the persons of the first, N. 7, and third, N. 9, terminations of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive, and in the future of the same mood; thus, Cayera, cayese, cayere. — Leyera, leyese, leyere. — Atribuyera, atribuyese, atribuyere.

Obs. 7. In the verbs in uir this change is made when the u is sounded, as in atribuir; but not when it is liquid, as in seguir.

2. Verbs ending in ure, when the u is sounded as in contribuir, (to contribute,) besides changing the i into y in the terminations beginning with io, ie, as explained in the preceding rule, add r immediately after the u in all the terminations beginning with o, e, or a: as,

INSTRUIR, to instruct.

A verb of the third conjugation { Radical letters, instra
Termination, ir.

GERUND, Instruyendo.—INDICATIVE PRESENT. 1 Instruyo, 2 instruyes, 3 instruye, 2 V. instruye. 1 Instruimos, 2 instruís, 3 instruyen, 2 VV. instruyen.—PRETERIT INDEFINITE. 1 Instruí, 2 instruiste, 3 instruyó, 2 V instruyo. 1 Instruimos, 2 instruisteis, 3 instruyeron, 2 VV. instruyeron.—IMPERATIVE. 1 Instruya yo, 2 instruye tú, 3 instruya él, 2 instruya V. 2 No instruyas tú. 1 Instruyamos nosotros, 2 instruid vosotros, 3 instruyan ellos, 2 instruyan VV., 2 No instruyais.—SUBJUNCTIVE PRESENT 1 Instruya, &c. IMPERFECT. 1st term., 1 Instruyera, &c. 2d term., 1 Instruiris, &c. 3d term., 1 Instruyese, &c. FUTURE. 1 Instruyere, &c.

3. Verbs ending in ACER, ECER, OCER, VOIR, take a z before the radical c, when the first letter of the termination is o or a; as,

CONOCER, to know.

A verb of the second conjugation. { Radical letters, conoc
Termination, er.

INDICATIVE PRESENT 1 Conozco, 2 conoces, &c. SUBJUNCTIVE PRESENT 1 Conozca, 2 conozcas, &c. IMPERATIVE. 1 Conozca yo, 2 conoce tú, 3 conozca él, 2 conozca V., 2 No conozcas, 1 conozcamos, 2 conoced, 3 conozcan, 2 conozcan VV., 2 No conozcais.

Except Hacer, Cocer, Torcer, and a few others, together with their compounds.

Obs. 8. Verbs ending in acer, &c., were formerly conjugated by changing the radical c into g, in the persons in which it was preceded by the z. Old people still do the same in some of the towns of Spain. Example: Y se reduce a unidad, instead of reduzca—And it may be reduced to unity—FR. LUIS DE LEON.

ANALOGY BETWEEN SOME OF THE TENSES.

1. When the first and second person singular of the present of the indicative mood have the same irregularity, the third person singular and plural of it are likewise irregular; and the same irregularity takes place in the three persons singular and third plural of the present of the indicative mood, and of the imperative. See the verbs Pensar, Entender, Sentir.—Except Haber, Ser, Estar, Dar, Saber, Ir, and their compounds.

2. When only the first person of the indicative mood is irregular, the same irregularity is to be observed in all the persons of the subjunctive and of the imperative mood; excepting the second person singular and plural of the latter, and also the six verbs, Haber, Ser, &c.

3. When the gerund has any irregularity, then the third person singular and the third person plural of the preterit indefinite (N. 3) have the same irregularity; which is also found in the first termination, (N. 7.) third termination, (N. 8.) and in the future of the same mood. If these verbs drop the i of the termination in the third person plural of the preterit definite, they do the same also in the first and second terminations of the imperfect tense of the subjunctive, and in the future of the same mood. See the verbs Pedir, Sentir, &c.

4. The same analogy is found between the future of the indicative mood and the termination ria (N. 8) of the imperfect of the subjunctive mood.—Consult verbs Tener, Poder, &c.

THE SEVEN MOST NUMEROUS CLASSES OF THE IRREGULAR VERBS.

Obs. 2. The verbs that admit some change for the sake of the sound are marked with a 2, as negar, 2 niegue.

Obs. 3. The most general irregularities of the Spanish verbs, as it has been already stated, consist in their taking i, j, y, or ue, or i, instead of o, or e. To find, therefore, the infinitive mood, and the person and tense of such verbs, the scholar must first separate the regular termination, and then the letter or letters that do not belong to the radicals of such verbs: as in comienzo, muestras, sintió, condujeron, trajeran, construyesen, the terminations are o, as, ió, eron, éran, esen. The remaining letters are, comienz, muestr, sint, conduj, traj, construy. Add to these the regular terminations of the infinitive mood, and they will read comenzar, mostrar, sintir, condujir, trajer, constuyir. Take off the i, j, and y, change the ue into o, and the i into e; add a c before the termination to those in ij, or uj; and they will be comenzar, mostrar, sentir, conducir, traer, construir. It must be observed that verbs that have a y before their termination, may be of the second or third conjugation; in consequence of which the terminations of both may be tried in order to find them out in the dictionary. Examples: creyó, huyen; take off o, yen, and add the terminations thus, creir, huer; the scholar will not find them, but he will find creer. huir.

Obs. 4. Verbs that have two participles are marked thus: Bendecir—2 Bendito, and the regular one is omitted.

Obs. 5. The irregular participles are set in italics after their verbs.

¶ The verbs of the first column are conjugated like those of the second, which must be consulted in their respective places.

CARTAS MERCANTILES Y FAMILIARES.

POR M. V. C.

INTRODUCCION.

Es muy necesario saber escribir bien una carta, porque ocurre casi diariamente, tanto para los asuntos de importancia, como para los de pura cortesía, ó mera diversion: y siendo las cartas una conversacion entre ausentes, deben tener fluidez, claridad, sencillez, y naturalidad á fin de decir á aquellas personas á quienes se las envian lo mismo que se les diria, si estuviesen presentes. Su estilo, por consiguiente, debe variar segun el objeto á que se contraen, la persona á quien se dirijen, y la que las escribo. Es preciso, pues, estudiar con atencion las reglas del estilo en las cartas; mas no siendo posible explicarlas en los estrechos límites de este Apéndice, se aconseja á los jóvenes estudiosos las aprendan en su respectiva lengua, (por ser las mismas en todas,) y por lo respectivo á la Castellana, hallarán excelentes modelos en las Cartas Familiares del P. Isla, en las Cartas Morruecas de Cadalso, en la Colleccion de Cartas de varios autores Españoles, recogidas por Don Gregorio Mayáns; en las de Antonio Perez, y por lo respectivo á las antiguas, en el Centon Epistolario del Br. Fernan Gomez de Cibdad Real, &c., pues como dice el erudito é ilustre autor español, Feijoo, “Los preceptos para escribir cartas pueden suplirse con la copia de buenos ejemplares.” (Teatro Crítico, tomo 7, discurso 10.)

La curiosidad en cerrar las cartas, y la propiedad del sobrescrito, deben tambien cuidarse; pues una palabra mas, ó ménos, en la cubierta de un papel, da ó quita satisfaccion al que le recibe, y suele influir mucho en la suerte de lo que se solicita.

CARTAS FAMILIARES.

Muy Señor mio, y mi Amigo: En el trato familiar solemos hablar con libertad, y con aquella confianza que merecen los amigos: pero por escrito suele ser peligroso explicarse con la misma claridad; porque permanece la memoria de lo que se escribe: y aunque el amigo sea fiel, tal vez no lo es el que hereda sus cartas, y con el tiempo paran estas en donde ménos se piensa. Por eso es muy prudente la duda de V. sobre el Modo con que uno debe portarse por escrito.

Hemos de distinguir el que pregunta del que responde. Aquel tiene mayor libertad; porque puede callar sin nota; ó hacer la pregunta con arte, del modo ménos ofensivo, y mas cauteloso. Si lo que se ha de preguntar tiene conexi6n con la ofensa, y leído no puede dejar de causarla; hemos de distinguir las preguntas á que no nos obliga la necesidad de las voluntarias. Las primeras son inescusables, y así deben hacerse del modo mas cauto; esto es ménos circunstanciado, respecto de la inteligencia de otros, con quien no se trata. Las segundas deben evitarse cuanto sea posible. Hecha la pregunta, se ha de considerar, si conviene responder, ó no? Si es necesario, ó, si conviene responder, se puede hacer con palabras alusivas á la pregunta, callando la persona, ó el negocio de que se trata, y respondiendo en suposici6n del hecho; si bien este á veces es tal, que él mismo señala la persona, y el hecho, por mucho que se quiera ocultar: como se ve en las cartas de Cicer6n á Atico. Si es peligroso responder absolutamente, debe callarse: y en casos de traici6n, entregarse la pregunta á quien convenga por no hacerse complice, ni aun disimulador en el delito de lesa Majestad.

Cuando Don Joseph Antonio de Quiros sali6 de la prisi6n de la Inquisici6n, y me escribi6, pedia la Caridad que yo le respondiese, y lo hice de modo, que habiéndole aprisionado de nuevo, se alabaron mucho mis respuestas, pues dije á aquel insigne Var6n lo que le convenia, pensando lo que le podia suceder. Callar era contra la amistad, que siempre le habia yo profesado, y le debia; habiar pedia mucha prudencia.

Estoy leyendo, y apuntando los tres últimos libros de Dion Casio, que publicó en Roma en el año 1724 Nicolas Carminio Falcon, habiéndolos sacado de la Libreria Vaticana.

Usted me mande: y nuestro Señor guarde á Usted muchos años como deseo. Olivia á 6 de Junio de 1750.

B. L. M. de Usted,

Su mas seguro servidor, y amigo,

DON GREGORIO MAYANS, Y SICAR.

Al Dr. Don Assensio Sales.

Carta de Don Antonio Solis á Don Antonio Carnero, sobre asuntos familiares.

Señor y amigo mio: vamos al negocio, que es muy tarde para no decir lo que se viene á la pluma. La carta que vino en mi pliego se di6 con la advertencia que V. previno, en cuanto á su seguridad.

Las vitelas han hecho ruido. Solo me han dicho que el San Vicente viene gordo, y será menester enflaquecerle de manera que parezca algo mas penitente; y que tenga los brazos levantados en accion de predicar el juicio final. V. vaya teniendo cuidado con que ya se piden gollerias, como si fueran vitelas; y se han de pagar como las miniaturas: ponga V. uno y otro en el libro de las partidas que se deben, por lo que pudiere suceder.

Espero, en respuesta del correo que viene, la censura de V. y del señor marques sobre lo que ha parecido mi libro en esas regiones del norte, que por acá continuan sus aplausos; aunque se habran vendido unos ciento y cincuenta tomos, pues en todo influye la falta de dinero y en Madrid hay pocos hombres que tengan dos reales de á ocho juntos.

He pagado enteramente á D. N., porque me tenia con cuidado el maestro de obras. A V. se debe la de la Nueva España y tengo por evidente que no se habria impreso si no fuera por el socorro de V.; porque la ayuda de costa todavia se está en el aire. Y así puede V. llamar suya la historia y las demas razones. A esta accion que ha hecho tanto ruido, de haber acompañado al Divinísimo nuestro rey, escribí estos dos sonetos, porque su Majestad se acordó de mi antigua vena. V. verá en ellos el trabajo que me han costado, por el que le costará el leerlos. A D. Martin tenemos ya con título de su Majestad, en que le nombra Corrector general de los libros de estos reinos; y está en ánimo de ser tan conocido como Murcia de la Llana. Tiene cincuenta doblones de salario, y lo que produjeren las erratas. Pone desde luego á las órdenes de V. esta dignidad, habiendo conseguido el ser persona de muchos envidiosos.

Sírvase V. ponerme A. L. P. de mi señora Doña N., y quédese lo demas para otra ocasion. Guarde Dios á V. muchos años. Madrid, &c.

DON ANTONIO DE SOLA.

Mujer de tu marido: has dado en la manía, de algunas semanas á esta parte, de que te pierdo el respeto, sin que yo acierte á concebir como se puede perder lo que jamas se ha tenido. Pero tú eres una pequeña diablusa, y sabes mas que Merlin, por lo que te estimaré me comuniques este secreto, que puede importar para mas de dos ocasiones. Hallar una cosa ántes de perderse es habilidad que á cada paso la usan los ladrones; pero perderse lo que jamas se poseyó, no lo habia tenido por posible, hasta que tú me aseguras que es cosa evidente. Al fin, si te he perdido el respeto, fijaré cedulones en las esquinas de los corréos, (porque has de saber que los corréos tienen esquinas,) para que qualquiera persona que haya hallado su respeto que se perdió, acuda á tí, á quien pertenece, que se le pagará el hallazgo, y por lo que toca á mí, doy palabra de guardar tan bien el primero que te tenga, que no solo no se pueda perder, pero que ninguno me le pueda encontrar. No sabín que estuviese por prior de ese convento de S. Agustín el Mro. Ocampo. Es de los hombres sabios, religiosos, honrados y atentos que he conocido. Dice bien: tratéle mucho en Pamplona, y siempre le he profesado singular estimación. La he hecho muy grande de la memoria con que me honra, y de la amistad que me conserva. Te estimaré mucho, así á tí, como á Nicolas, que le correspondais en vuestro nombre y en el mio con el mas fino aprecio, tratándole con toda confianza, y sirviéndole en quanto se le ofrezca. Si ántes de ahora hubiera sabido su destino, ántes de ahora os habria hecho esta recomendación; porque tengo singular complacencia en que los hombres particulares sean particularmente distinguidos. Si todos fueran como el Rmo. Ocampo, no habria quejas, porque no habria Gerundios. Dile cuanto quisieres de mi parte, en la inteligencia de que en nada te excederás. Ahora vete á pasear, que yo voy á escribir otras cartas.

Ella. Señora, B. T. P. (con un cardo) el mas atento capellan de Tí.

Señor: La palabra que Don Fernando os dió de hablar á vuestro padre para que hablase al mio, la ha cumplido mucho mas en su gusto que en vuestro provecho. Sabed, señor, que él me ha pedido por esposa, y mi padre, llevado de la ventaja que él piensa que Don Fernando os hace, ha venido en lo que quiere con tantas veras, que de aquí á dos dias se ha de hacer el desposorio, tan secreto y tan á solas que solo han de ser testigos los Cielos y alguna gente de casa. Cual yo quedo, imaginadlo: si os cumple venir, vedlo, y si os quiero bien ó no el suceso deste negocio os lo dará á entender. A Dios plega que esta llegue á vuestras manos ántes que la mia se vea en condicion de juntarse con la de quien tan mal sabe guardar la fe que promete.

Carta de Don Carlos á Doña Francisca

Bien mio: si no consigo hablar con Usted, haré lo posible para que llegue á sus manos esta carta. Apenas me separé de Usted, encontré en la posada al que yo llamaba mi enemigo; y al verle, no sé como no espiré de dolor. Me mandó que saliera inmediatamente de la ciudad, y fué preciso obedecerle. Yo me llamo Don Carlos, no Don Felix.—Don Diego es mi tío Viva Usted dichoso y olvide para siempre á su infeliz amigo.

Carta de Don Quijote de la Mancha á Sancho Panza, gobernado. de la ínsula Barataria.

“ Cuando esperaba oir nuevas de tus descuidos é impertinencias, Sancho amigo, las oí de tus discreciones, de que dí por ello gracias particulares al Cielo, el cual del estiércol sabe levantar los pobres, y de los tontos hacer discretos. Dícenme que gobiernas como si fueses hombre, y que eres hombre como si fueses bestia, segun es la humildad con que te tratas: y quiero que adviertas, Sancho, que muchas veces conviene y es necesario por la autoridad del oficio, ir contra la humildad del corazon, porque el buen adorno de la persona que está puesta en graves cargos, ha de ser conforme á lo que ellos piden, y no á la medida de lo que su humilde condicion la inclina. Vístete bien, que un palo compuesto no parece palo. no digo que traigas dijes, ni galas, ni que siendo Juez te vistas como soldado, sino que te adornes con el hábito que tu oficio requiere, con tal que sea limpio y bien compuesto. Para ganar la voluntad del pueblo que gobiernas, entre otras has de hacer dos cosas: la una ser bien criado con todos, aunque esto ya otra vez te lo he dicho, y la otra procurar la abundancia de los mantenimientos, que no hay cosa que mas fatigue el corazon de los pobres que la hambre y la carestía.

“ No hagas muchas pragmáticas, y si las hicieses procura que sean buenas, y sobre todo que se guarden y cumplan, que las pragmáticas que no se guardan, lo mismo es que si no lo fuesen, ántes dan á entender que el Príncipe que tuvo discrecion y autoridad para hacerlas, no tuvo valor para hacer que se guardasen: y las leyes que atemorizan y no se ejecutan, vienen á ser como la viga, rey de las ranas, que al principio las espantó, y con el tiempo la menospreciáron y se subieron sobre ella. Se padre de las virtudes, y padrastro de los vicios. No seas siempre riguroso, ni siempre blando y escoge el medio entre estos dos extremos, que en esto está el punto de la discrecion. Visita las cárceles, las carnicerías y las plazas, que la presencia del Gobernador en lugares tales es de mucha importancia. Consuela á los presos que esperan la brevedad de su despacho. Se coco á los carniceros, que por entónces igualan los pesos, y se espantajo á las placentas por la misma razon. No te muestres (aunque por ventura los seas, lo cual yo no creo) codicioso, mujeriego, ni gloton, porque en sabiendo el pueblo y los que te tratan tu inclinacion determinada, por allí te darán batería hasta derribarte en el profundo de la perdicion. Mira y remira, pasa y repasa los consejos y documentos que te dí por escrito ántes que de aquí partieses á tu gobierno, y verás como hallas en ellos, si los guardas, una ayuda de costa que te sobrelleve los trabajos y dificultades que á cada paso á los Gobernadores se les ofrecen. Escribe á tus señores y muéstrateles agradecido, que la ingratitud es hija de la soberbia y uno de los mayores pecados que se sabe, y en persona que es agradecida á los que bien le han hecho, da indicio que tambien lo será á Dios, que tantos bienes le hizo y de continuo le hace.

"La Señora Duquesa despachó un propio con tu vestido y otro presente á tu mujer Teresa Panza: por momentos esperamos respuesta. Yo he estado un poco mal dispuesto de un cierto gateamiento, que me sucedió no muy á cuento de mis narices; pero no fué nada, que si hay encantadores que me maltraten, tambien los hay que me defiendan. Avisame si el mayordomo que está contigo tuvo que ver en las acciones de la Trifaldi, como tú sospechaste, y de todo lo que te sucediere me irás dando aviso, pues es tan corto el camino, cuanto mas que yo pienso dejar presto esta vida ociosa en que estoy, pues no nací para ella. Un negocio se me ha ofrecido, que creo que me ha de poner en desgracia de estos señores; pero aunque se me da mucho, no se me da nada, pues en fin, en fin, tengo de cumplir ántes con mi profesion que con su gusto, conforme á lo que suele decirse; amicus Plato; sed magis amica veritas. Dígotte este latin, porque me doy á entender que despues que eres Gobernador le habrás aprendido. Y á Dios, el cual te guarde de que ninguno te tenga lástima.

Tu amigo,
DON QUIJOTE DE LA MANCHA."

CEREMONIAL DE LAS CARTAS.

Por ceremonial se entiende el título de cortesía que se da á alguno, como Usted, Señoría, &c., y tambien el uso de ciertas formulas á que está reducida la civilidad. La manera mas usual de poner los sobrescritos es la siguiente:

A Don A. B — del comercio de — N
 A Don C. D — en — F.
 A mi Sra. Da. M. V.
   en — M.

Don es el título distintivo de la nobleza de sangre en España, bien que en estos últimos tiempos se ha prodigado á toda gente decente; por lo mismo las nuevas Repúblicas le han excluido enteramente, y usan solo los nombres Señor y Señora.

Al Señor Francisco P. Santander, Presidente de la República de Colombia, &c.

Con todo, la costumbre hace que la mayor parte de las personas continuen usando del Don. Por esto, y para evitar faltas, que podrian considerarse de respeto, será mejor usarle cuando se empiece una correspondencia, é imitar el ceremonial que se observe en la contestacion, y conforme á él usar, ó no, del Don.

Lo mismo hay que advertir acerca de la frase B. L. M. que muchos omiten en el dia, acabando sus cartas simplemente con S. S. S. ó Su amigo y servidor, &c.

A Natural Philosophy :

Embracing the most Recent Discoveries in the various Branches of Physics, and Exhibiting the Application of Scientific Principles in Every-day Life. Accompanied with full descriptions of Experiments, Practical Exercises, and numerous Illustrations. By G. P. QUACKENBOS, A.M. 12mo, 450 pages.

This book, which is illustrated in the most liberal manner, is equally adapted for use with or without apparatus. It is distinguished—

1. For its remarkable clearness.
2. For its fulness of illustration.
3. For its original method of dealing with difficulties.
4. For its correction of numerous errors heretofore unfortunately stereotyped in School Philosophies.
5. For its explanation of scientific principles as exhibited in every-day life.
6. For the practical application of these principles in questions presented for the pupil's solution.
7. For a signal perspicuity of arrangement. One thing being presented at a time, and every thing in its proper place, the whole is impressed without difficulty on the mind.
8. For the interest with which it invests the subject. From the outset, the student is fascinated and filled with a desire to fathom the wonders of the material world.
9. For the embouiment of all recent discoveries in the various departments of Philosophy. Instead of relying on the obsolete authorities that have furnished the matter for many of our popular School Philosophies, the author has made it his business to acquaint himself with the present state of science, and thus produced such a work as is demanded by the progressive spirit of the age.

Those who use this work commend it in the strongest terms.

"Whether we regard matter or style, the selection of topics or the mode of developing the subject, clearness of illustration or practical treatment, accuracy, freshness, interest, or general availability in the recitation-room, it stands without an equal."—J. W. BULKLEY, A.M., City Supt. of Schools, Brooklyn.

"I find that the author has maintained his excellent reputation as an editor of school-books. The style is clear and precise, yet simple and attractive. The familiarity of the illustrations constitutes a peculiar feature of the book. Altogether, I believe that it has no equal for the great mass of pupils in our common schools and academies."—A. J. RICKOFF, late Supt. of Schools, Cincinnati.

"We are using your Natural Philosophy in our School, and we find it superior to any work we have ever used. We have a class of forty young ladies, and we find it a pleasure to teach them with the aid of your admirable book."—Prof. J. W. STEWART, State Female College, Memphis, Tenn.

"It is just my ideal of a school-book. Mr. Q. has not only left out all the irrelevant matter and false philosophy which abound in most of the popular school-books on this subject, but he has clearly stated in the most systematic and natural manner every important principle, and given the subject a much fuller development than has ever been done before in any work of like grade. The book bears the impress of the profound philosopher and the apt teacher."—J. G. WEBSTER, Princ. of Academy, Shelbyville, Ind.

Quackenbos's Text-Books on the English Language.

"The singular excellence of all Quackenbos's school-books is well-known to the educational community. They are generally admitted to be THE BEST MANUALS on the subjects of which they respectively treat."—J. W. BULKLEY, City Supt. of Schools, Brooklyn, N. Y.

FIRST LESSONS IN COMPOSITION: 12mo, 192 pages.

ADVANCED COURSE OF COMPOSITION AND RHETORIC:

Covering the whole field, these books afford an insight into the structure of the English language that can be obtained from no other source. The Grammars, by an original system peculiarly clear and simple, teach the Analysis of our tongue both verbal and logical. The works on Composition are equally thorough guides to its Synthesis, embodying in a condensed form the substance of Blair, Kames, Alison, Burke, Campbell, and other standards, the whole illustrated with practical exercises in great variety.

The pupil thoroughly instructed in these books cannot fail to learn how to express himself with propriety and elegance. They work like a charm in the school-room; where one is introduced, the others soon follow.

O. J. Buckingham, Pres. Board of Education, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., says: "I am very much pleased with the general plan as well as with the particular arrangement of the Grammar. It is very concise, and yet very comprehensive; omitting nothing that is essential, nor containing any thing superfluous. The definitions are very exact and easily understood. Parsing is rendered an easy and pleasant task, if task it can be longer called. Punctuation is made very plain and intelligible. I think this treatise is destined to become a great favorite in our public schools, used either in connection with Quackenbos's Lessons in Composition or without them. The Series appears to cover the entire field."

B. F. Morrison, Princ. High School, Weston, Mass., writes: "Having for several years past used the author's Rhetoric, I was prepared to find a good Grammar. The examination did not disappoint me. It is characterized, like the former work, by admirable method and great clearness and precision of statement."

Rev. L. W. Hart, Rector of College Grammar School, Brooklyn: "Your new Grammar has been very closely examined in regard to the plan and general execution of the work, and is perfectly marked by the same excellences which have made your 'First Lessons' and your 'Advanced Course' my favorite text-books for some years. It will go into use, like them, as my text-book in English Grammar."

Advanced Course of Composition and Rhetoric.

A Series of Practical Lessons on the Origin, History, and Peculiarities of the English Language, Punctuation, Taste, the Pleasures of the Imagination, Figures, Style and its essential Properties, Criticism, and the various Departments of Prose and Poetical Composition. Illustrated with Copious Exercises. By G. P. QUACKENBOS, A.M. 12mo, 450 pages.

This work is an eminently clear and practical text-book, and embraces a variety of important subjects, which have a common connection and mutually illustrate each other; but which the pupil has heretofore been obliged to leave unlearned, or to search for among a number of different volumes. Claiming to give a comprehensive and practical view of our language in all its relations, this "Advanced Course" views it as a whole, no less than with reference to the individual words composing it; shows how it compares with other tongues; points out its beauties; indicates how they may best be made available; and, in a word, teaches the student the most philosophical method of digesting his thoughts, as well as the most effective mode of expressing them.

It teaches Rhetoric not merely theoretically, like the old text-books, but practically, illustrating every point with Exercises to be prepared by the student, which at once test his familiarity with the principles laid down, and impress them on his mind so vividly that they can never be effaced.

HON. A. CONSTANTINE BARRY, State Superintendent of the Common Schools of Wisconsin, in a Report to the Legislature of that State, uses the following strong language in relation to QUACKENBOS's works on Composition:

"It would be difficult to point out in these admirable books any thing that we would desire to have altered; they meet our wants in every respect, making no unreasonable draft on the time or patience of the teacher, and leaving him no excuse for neglecting to make composition a regular study, even with his younger classes. It is unnecessary to compare these books with others on the subject, for THERE ARE NONE THAT APPROACH THEM in clearness, comprehensiveness, excellence of arrangement, and above all, in direct practical bearing. Affording an insight into the mechanism of language, they will hardly fail to impart facility and grace of expression, and to inspire a love for the beauties of literature."

From PROF JOHN N. PRATT, of the University of Alabama.

"I have been using QUACKENBOS on Composition and Rhetoric in the instruction of my classes in the University, and I am persuaded of its GREAT EXCELLENCE. The first Lessons in Composition, by the same author, I regard as very useful for beginners. Of these two books, I can speak with the greatest confidence, and I do most heartily recommend them to all."

First Book in English Grammar.

By G. P. QUACKENBOS, A.M. 12mo, 120 pages

This work is intended to meet the wants of young beginners, or those who need only a brief summary of the subject. To awaken their interest, to teach them to think, to enable them to understand as they learn, to lead them from step to step in the most natural way, and to give a direct practical application to every abstract principle, have been the leading objects of the author. The system embodied is the same (in a simplified form) as that which has been so generally commended in the author's larger work.

The hearty welcome with which this little book has been greeted on all sides is no doubt due in a great measure to the interest which the author has managed to throw around the subject. The easy yet thorough Exercises introduced to illustrate and impress every principle, are performed with avidity by the pupil, and teach him that Grammar is not a dry abstraction, but a living reality which he can comprehend and apply. With the judicious use of such a text-book mere rote-learning must vanish, and what was once one of the most difficult roads up the hill of knowledge, is cleared of its obstacles and made easy and attractive.

With respect to the system of Grammar presented in this and the larger work by the same author, its superior simplicity and excellence are now admitted by our best teachers. Endorsements of the strongest description, in substance like the following, have been received almost without number:

From W. R. PUGH, Princip. Union Schools, New Philadelphia, Ohio.

"I have nowhere seen such a rational, such an accurately critical, and such an eminently simple presentation of the subject of Grammar. The teacher who will follow the course foreshadowed by the author, cannot avoid making his classes thoroughly acquainted, not only with the outlines, but even with the minutest details of the science."

From J. A. NICHOLS, Princip. of High School, Mount Vernon, N. Y.

"I have recently examined a half dozen different Grammars with the intention of adopting the best as a text-book. It now gives me pleasure, after careful examination, to express the opinion that Quackenbos's is superior in nearly every respect; and that every intelligent teacher not indissolubly wedded to the ancient Lindley Murray style and arrangement, will accept it as a national Grammar of the English language."

"The Best, as they are the Latest."

QUACKENBOS'S GRAMMARS.

AN ENGLISH GRAMMAR: 12mo, 288 pages.

FIRST BOOK IN ENGLISH GRAMMAR: 16mo, 120 pages.

Every Teacher, every School-Committee, every Board of Education, is interested in using the best text-books. We therefore feel less hesitation in calling attention to these two Grammars by G. P. QUACKENBOS, which we claim possess many and decided advantages over other text-books on the subject. Endorsements from the best teachers confirm us in this opinion. Read the following:—

From GEO. S. KELLENBERGER, Princ. of Schools, Alton, Ill.

"It certainly has all those excellences of arrangement, analysis, perspicuity, and facility of comprehension, which distinguish other works of the author, and which render them not only the very best school text-books, but also make them invaluable in a higher position—that of authoritative works of reference to the scholar. I regard it as the best work on English Grammar yet published—and that BY LARGE ODDS."

From HON. ANSON SMYTH, late School Commissioner for Ohio.

"For several weeks Quackenbos's English Grammar has lain upon my table. I have repeatedly taken it up and examined test points; and I have reached the conclusion that no better work of the kind has come under my notice. In plan and execution it meets my hearty approval, and I cordially recommend it to all who are engaged in teaching."

From Rev. E. J. YOUNG, Supt. of Schools, Allentown, Pa.

"It is just the book we want. There are many things in it to rejoice every live teacher. I shall make it my vade mecum, and use it as a text-book in the examination of teachers."

From Rev. HENRY BRANN, D.D., Pres. Seton Hall College, S. Orange, N. J.

"I think it is an excellent book; not too large for an elementary work, yet sufficiently diffused for even advanced students. The clearness of its explanations strikes me; and the exercises on False Syntax are better arranged and more instructive than those of any other Grammars that have fallen under my observation."

From Miss E. C. BANGS, Princ. Elderage Schools, New Haven, Conn.

"Having carefully examined Quackenbos's English Grammar, I am much pleased with it, especially with its practical character. I think it will render this dry and difficult study more intelligible to the pupil, and also greatly lessen the labor of the teacher, who, in most text-books now in use, is obliged to elucidate and illustrate to a wearisome degree."

Confident that a thorough examination of these Grammars will show that they present a lucid, simple, practical, consistent, and philosophical system, in a form admirably adapted for use in the school-room, the Publishers will mail, post-paid, a specimen copy for examination on receipt of one-half the retail price. All teachers, particularly such as are dissatisfied with the work they are now using, are solicited to avail themselves of this opportunity.

M. M. Baldwin, A. M., Princ. of Clarence Classical School declares it to be "preferable to any similar work now before the public."

Quackenbos's English Grammar.

12mo, 288 pages.

Brief and clear in definition, happy in illustration, full and ingenious in its explanations, simple yet comprehensive, it is believed that this New Grammar will meet every reasonable want. Great care has been taken to adapt it to the school-room. The matter is divided into lessons, followed in every case by an Exercise which applies in a great variety of ways the principles laid down. To perform these Exercises, the pupil must understand what he learns. There is no possibility here of mere surface-learning.

This work is not a stereotyped reproduction of the old Grammars; the author has innovated sufficiently to produce a philosophical system, never changing for the sake of change, but never hesitating to innovate where it was essential to consistency or simplicity. He has classified words as parts of speech solely according to their use in the sentence, thus doing away with all arbitrary distinctions, and greatly facilitating the pupil's labors. There is no avoiding of difficulties. Puzzling constructions are fully explained.

In the matter of systematic parsing and the analysis of sentences, this work strikes a happy medium, giving to each its proper share of attention. Its system of analysis is peculiarly simple and natural, easily understood, unencumbered with technical terms, and requiring no charts, diagrams, or elaborate preparation on the teacher's part, to make it available.

The department of False Syntax is thought to be unrivalled in completeness and practical bearing. Nothing is left to be supplied by oral instruction, to the great discomfort of the teacher. Indeed, this saving of labor to the teacher is a prominent feature of the work, and has been specially noticed by critics.

The Philadelphia North American, in a cordial endorsement of the Grammar, says: "Those who are familiar with the difficulties attending the imparting a knowledge of English Grammar to the youthful mind, should hail with delight a book which will certainly relieve them of at least half their trouble, and make the remainder light."

Few books have been so cordially received and strongly endorsed as this new Grammar. Teachers are solicited to examine it for themselves.

An English Grammar :

By G. P. QUACKENBOS, A. M. 12mo, 288 pages.

Clear, well condensed, and consistent throughout; brief in its rules and definitions; happy in its illustrations and exercises; practical in its application of principles; philosophical and inductive in its arrangement; original in its views; bold in its reforms; simple enough for the young, sufficiently comprehensive for the more advanced; interesting to the pupil, labor-saving to the teacher; admirable in its system of parsing and analysis; full and ingenious in its explanation of perplexing constructions; makes the learning of Grammar easy, makes the teaching of Grammar a positive pleasure. The BEST as it is the latest text-book on this important subject.

Such is the verdict pronounced on Quackenbos's English Grammar by our best educators. No progressive teacher can afford to use any other.

Rev. N. Summerwell, Pres. Union Christian Coll., Merom, Ind.: "Quackenbos's new Grammar is an improvement in the art of teaching, rendering the study natural and easy. We shall introduce it."

J. L. Hammett, Supt. of Schools, Auburn, Me.: "We are using Quackenbos's Grammar, and like it so well that we recommend it to other towns."

J. E. Guitner, Pres. Otterbein Univ., Ohio: "Its arrangement is excellent, its illustrations pertinent, and its explanations of difficult constructions ingenious. Its new and original features commend themselves at once to every grammarian."

W. S. Fortescue, A.M., Principal Germantown (Pa.) Female Seminary: "I find it, like all the text-books that have emanated from the pen of that practical educator, a book of decided merit, and shall therefore introduce it during the coming month."

W. M. McKee, Supt. of Schools, Chillicothe, Ohio: "Quackenbos's English Grammar ranks with the very best works on the subject that I have seen. It is, in my opinion, in many respects excellent."

H. A. Monfort, Princ. Laurel Bank Seminary, Deposit, N. Y.: "It pleases me so well that I want to introduce it immediately."

Aaron Sheeley, Supt. of Common Schools, Gettysburg, Pa.: "The book supplies a great desideratum in our schools. I cannot sufficiently thank the author for writing, and you for publishing, so excellent a Grammar."

J. L. Marshall, Rector Henry Street Grammar School, N. Y.: "We should have looked for an excellent Grammar from the well-known author of the Rhetoric, and we are not mistaken. The study is at last brought within the grasp of ordinary minds, and made at least no repulsive to ordinary tastes."

The State of California and the City of Chicago, among other important places, have adopted QUACKENBOS'S GRAMMAR for their Common Schools. Many eminent private teachers have introduced it, and inform us that it works like a charm in the school-room, exceeding their most sanguine anticipations. The following extract from a letter recently received from that veteran teacher, THOMAS LUCY, of Cooksville, Md., will show in what terms it is spoken of by those who have tried it:

"It gives me pleasure to assure you of its excellence as a class-book in the school room. I have found the pupils not only more interested in Grammar, but at examinations they evince a far better understanding of our complicated language than heretofore; and I must say, that after twenty years of experience in teaching, I never had a Grammar that has given so much satisfaction."

 All teachers who have not seen this work are solicited to examine it for themselves, and note its simplicity, consistency, thoroughness, adaptation to the class-room, and the insight it gives into the structure of our language. Specimen copies sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of 45 cents.

Quackenbos's Illustrated School History of the United States.

12mo, 473 pages.

The great advantage claimed for this work over others of the same class, is the interest with which the subject is invested. The student turns to his history lesson in this volume as a recreation rather than a task. The style, clear and simple, yet dignified, forcible, and often eloquent, inspires the learner with a love of the subject, and a taste for historical reading in general.

Quackenbos's History is very widely used, and gives general satisfaction. It has recently been adopted by the State of California, the cities of Baltimore, Cleveland, Lexington (Ky.), New Orleans, and multitudes of minor places, for their Common Schools. Many strong recommendations of the work have been received, of which the following from Prof. W. E. CLIFFORD, of Northern Indiana College, will serve as a specimen: "I do not know," he says, "when I have seen a school-book that has pleased me as heartily as does this. The study is generally a bore to students, on account of the dry condensed itemising employed by compilers. Mr. Q. selects the prominent points, and weaves them into an easy narrative that attracts the young mind with much of the charm of a fairy tale or of Robinson Crusoe; yet in no instance does he violate historical truth to add zest to the story. Prof. Q. is the best author of school-books that I know."

From W. H. STULTZ, Princ. Female High School, Easton, Pa.

"Regarding this as the best and most interesting manual of United States History we have ever had, we use it in our school. Its beautiful mechanical execution, its numerous and excellent maps and illustrations, and its scholarlike character altogether, give it a decided precedence, I think, over any similar work now before the public."

From WM. O. ROGERS, Supt. of Schools, New Orleans.

"Our teachers, very generally, bear testimony to the many excellent qualities of Quackenbos's History of the United States, as a text-book for public schools."

From Superintendents of Orange County, Vermont.

Resolved: "That we recommend it as better calculated to create and promote an interest in the important study of history than any other History of the United States with which we are acquainted."

From J. Q. FOOT, County Supt. of Schools, Rock County, Wis.

"I can cheerfully recommend Quackenbos's Histories, as in my opinion the best in use. They are written in superior style, clear, concise, and attractive. The Primary has all the interest of a well written story."

Appletons' Arithmetical Series :

By G. P. QUACKENBOS, A.M. Upon the basis of the works of GEORGE R. PERKINS, LL.D.

This New Series of Arithmetics will be as perfect in all respects as care, thought, and labor can make it. All the extended experience of the author, and his peculiar faculty of imparting instruction to the young, aided by suggestions from our best teachers, will be brought to bear, to produce a clear, comprehensive, philosophical, and practical system.

The books of this Series will be found perfectly graded, the definitions simple, the rules brief and clear, the analyses unencumbered with verbiage, the arrangement the most natural, the methods the shortest possible. The difficulties of beginners, being fully appreciated, are so met as to save the teacher the annoyance of constant demands for explanation. Every device is employed to prevent mere mechanical operations, to keep the pupil's mind on the alert, to quicken his ingenuity, to cultivate his reasoning powers, and to stimulate original thought. The Arithmetic lesson is thus made an invaluable mental discipline.
